Maryland's home for Terrapins Athletics was completed in the fall of 2002 and has provided four seasons of toppled attendance records and memories on the hardwood. Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball games and serves as the campus site for university special events and select community events.

The Terrapins' first public basketball event at the arena was the 2002 Midnight Madness celebration, which has grown to become one of the premier student events of the academic year. The women's basketball team holds the distinction of playing the first-official game in Comcast Center, an 80-72 victory over Loyola on Nov. 22, 2002, also the first game of the Brenda Frese era.

In each of the four seasons Maryland has called Comcast Center home, attendance has continued to improve at women's basketball games. The Terps have ranked among the top 25 in the nation in home attendance in each of the last two seasons, ranking 21st in the nation in average attendance during the 2006-07 season. More than 77,000 Terrapins fans attended 16 home games that season, breaking the school's record set last year.

Comcast Center has been the site of three of the top four largest crowds in ACC women's basketball history. The Terps set the conference's women's basketball single-game record on Feb. 13, 2005, drawing 17,243 fans to their game vs. Duke. In 2006-07, the second-largest crowd in ACC history was in full force on Feb. 8, 2006, as 16,097 loyal Terrapin supporters packed the arena. Two seasons ago, 13,446 spectators were in the stands on Feb. 22, 2004, now the fourth-largest attendance mark in conference history.

The top-notch facility was also the site of the first and second rounds of the 2005 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Tournament, and will again host the event in 2008.

Fans can also relive its memories of the men's and women's basketball national championship seasons. The arena also holds both team's crystal national championship trophies in glass-encased display on the concourse level, while the Final Four playing surfaces are prominently displayed on the arena's floor level.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletic administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing enhanced study atmosphere for the school's near-750 student-athletes on 27 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gymnasium serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams. The Sprint-Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room, which is located on the concourse level, is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena, while the 20 suites provide enhanced viewing and entertainment capabilities for Maryland fans.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors can learn about the men and women who have forged the Maryland Athletics program among the nation's elite as they stroll through the Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. The Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby allows visitors to outfit their pride, Maryland has, once again, reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and basketball arena in the country.

NO BETTER Place To Be

Terp Athletics Sixth in Comprehensive Ranking

The University of Maryland athletics department was ranked sixth in the nation in 2004 in a comprehensive rating system that determines the new Excellence in Athletics Cup, an award developed by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics at Texas A&M University.

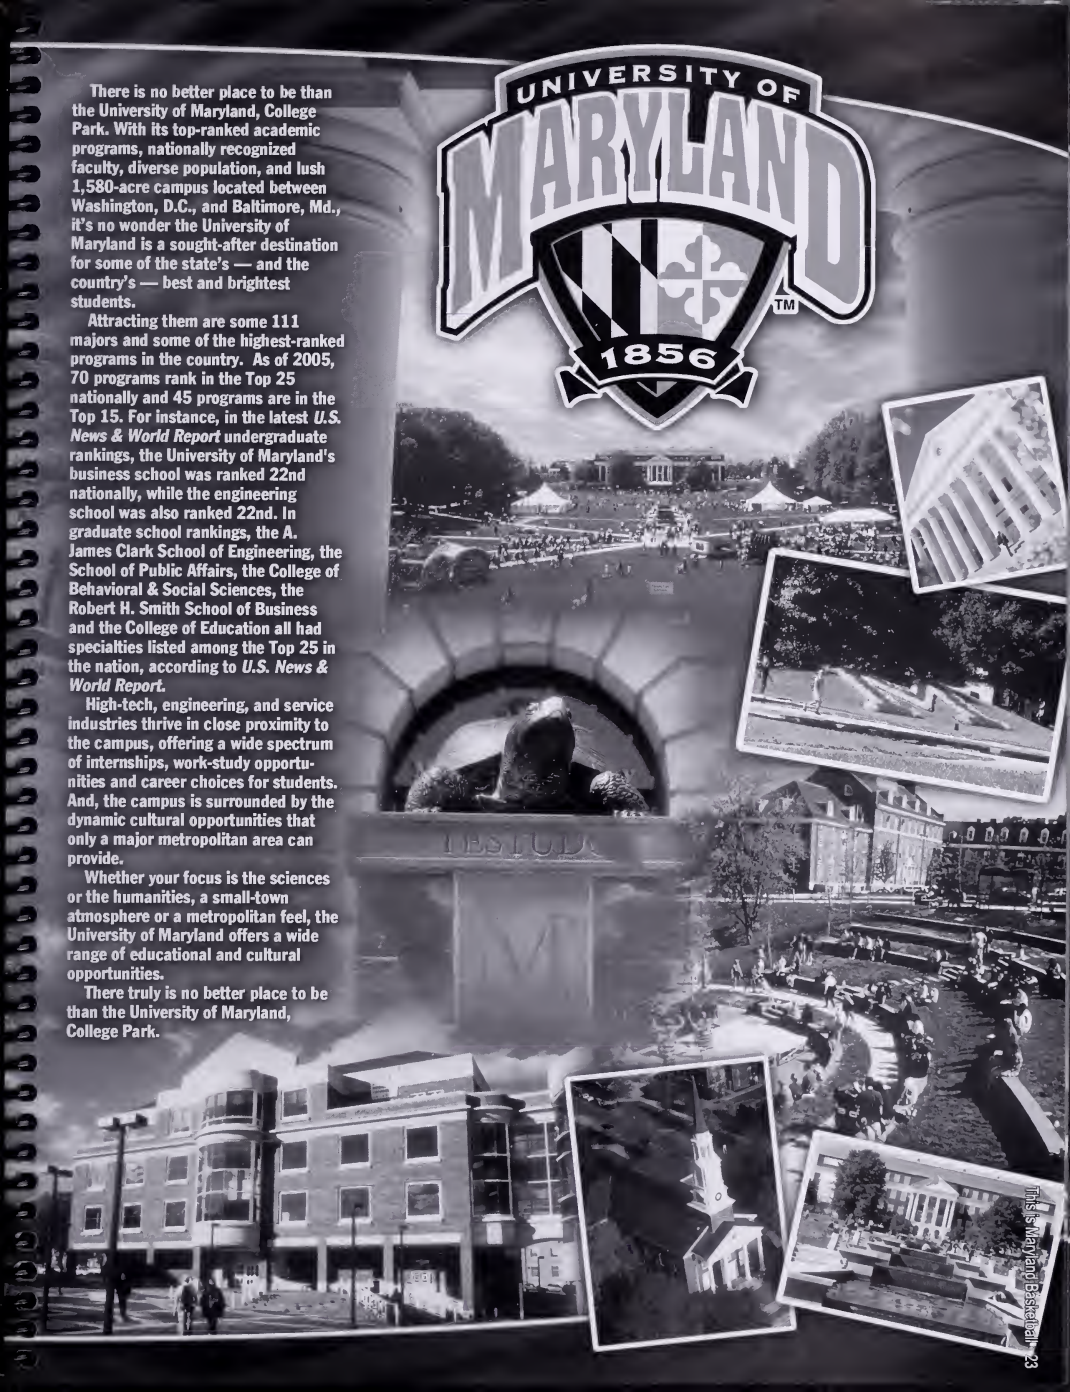
There is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park. With its top-ranked academic programs, nationally recognized faculty, diverse population, and lush 1,580-acre campus located between Washington, D.C., and Baltimore, Md., it's no wonder the University of Maryland is a sought-after destination for some of the state's — and the country's — best and brightest students.

Attracting them are some 111 majors and some of the highest-ranked programs in the country. As of 2005, 70 programs rank in the Top 25 nationally and 45 programs are in the Top 15. For instance, in the latest U.S. News & World Report undergraduate rankings, the University of Maryland's business school was ranked 22nd nationally, while the engineering school was also ranked 22nd. In graduate school rankings, the A. James Clark School of Engineering, the School of Public Affairs, the College of Behavioral & Social Sciences, the Robert H. Smith School of Business and the College of Education all had specialties listed among the Top 25 in the nation, according to U.S. News & World Report.

High-tech, engineering, and service industries thrive in close proximity to the campus, offering a wide spectrum of internships, work-study opportunities and career choices for students. And, the campus is surrounded by the dynamic cultural opportunities that only a major metropolitan area can provide.

Whether your focus is the sciences or the humanities, a small-town atmosphere or a metropolitan feel, the University of Maryland offers a wide range of educational and cultural opportunities.

There truly is no better place to be than the University of Maryland, College Park.



SO MUCH SO CLOSE

City lights, history, sparkling waterfronts, monumental landscapes. Jazz, film festivals, marches and demonstrations. Shopping, professional sports, regattas on the Chesapeake Bay. Not just one city, but three. Not just any city, but the nation's capital, a major port city, and the state capital of Maryland.

IT'S ALL HERE

beyond the University of Maryland campus.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

ANNAPOLIS

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The nation's capital and its major attractions are within 10 miles of Comcast Center. And the highly efficient Metro rail system, with a station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C., area easy. Campus shuttle buses serve the College Park Metro station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

BALTIMORE

The 12th-largest city in the United States is often referred to as the "Charm City." Located just 35 miles north of the University of Maryland, its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented. The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the nearby Oriole Park at Camden Yards create an exciting, vibrant holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports.

ANNAPOLIS

The state capital of Maryland lies just 30 miles east of the University of Maryland. Long called the "sailing capital of the United States," Annapolis is located at the mouth of the Severn River on the Chesapeake Bay. The historic downtown area is known for its wonderful eating and shopping opportunities. There are few places in the world that rival the Chesapeake Bay area for its appealing qualities.

2006-07 PREVIEW

Bb

SEASON OUTLOOK

To on-lookers and the experts, it seemed that Maryland winning the national championship in 2006 was ahead of schedule. To the Terrapins, the timing was just right. At the same time, this team is also not satisfied.

Maryland won the national championship with no seniors in the starting lineup and was immediately identified the early favorite to repeat. Receiving No. 1 ranking in several preseason magazines and polls, the top eight scorers and rebounders return in 2006-07, including all five starters. The Terps' inside-outside game the Terrapins from last year, plus their running style of play, had them boasting the second-highest offense and the top-rebounding margin in the country. The "defending national champions" look similar to last year's squad, with the addition of only one freshman and two transfers. But the Terps are not "defending" anything. High expectations will be placed on the Terrapins and opponents will be looking to knock off the reigning champions, a very different role than the one they had last year when they were "hunters." The question will be, how will the Terrapins handle it?

"We won the championship last year. Every team starts the season with a clean slate, so I don't see it as defending anything," said fifth-year head coach Brenda Frese. "There will be new challenges – are we hungry enough; did we spend enough time in offseason training; are we ready for the expectations? It's exciting and we welcome the challenges."

After several years of fielding young and inexperienced teams, Frese now has an experienced core, most of which have national championship rings and have played in multiple NCAA Tournaments. Despite only two seniors on the squad, seven of the eight returnees started nearly half of the 38 games played last year. Frese and her staff are now in the enviable position of returning 98 percent of the offense and 95 percent of the rebounding.

"The type of schedule we played last year, going 34-4, playing in the No. 1 conference in the country and going 6-0 in overtime ... all those things make you better. The experience of going through six NCAA Tournament games and playing in the title game is going to help them continue to gel and make us a better basketball team."

Familiar names are back on the Maryland roster, including the program's first All-American since 1989, Crystal Langhorne. One of only two seniors, three-time All-ACC performer Shay Doron has been the cornerstone of the Terrapin lineup since she arrived on campus. Laura Harper bounced back from an Achilles' tendon injury suffered her freshman year to be the Final Four Most Outstanding Player last year.

Freshmen sensations Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver are now sophomores and have become household names in just one season. Coleman was the ACC's Rookie of the Year, while Toliver will be remembered for making "The Shot," the dramatic three-pointer that sent the NCAA Championship game into overtime.

Ashleigh Newman and Jade Perry, members of the stellar recruiting class which included Langhorne and Harper, have been significant contributors the last two seasons, each providing "highlight reel" moments of their own, while senior Aurelie Noirez is one of the team's tri-captains.

The Terrapins are not only loaded with experience but also rich with talent and depth. Four were selected to the preseason Wade Trophy Watch list, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's (WBCA) national player of the year award, the first time in the history of the honor four players from the same team were named to the list.

In addition, Frese boasts another top-10 recruiting class this season. The additions of transfers Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood and Christie Marrone, along with true freshman Emery Wallace bolstered the recruiting class to earn a top-10 rating for the third-consecutive year.

The Terrapins also had solid performances in the classroom. Led by Doron, a CoSIDA Academic All-American and an Academic All-ACC honoree, six players earned 3.0 or better grade point averages during the spring semester. Langhorne was also tabbed an Academic All-ACC pick, while earning a spot on the CoSIDA Academic All-District 2 team.

GUARDS

Maryland lost just one wing player in Charmaine Carr from the rot tion, but the Terps return four guards with championship experienc not to mention two more transfers who have come to College Park fro power conferences.

In her first game as a Terrapin, Shay Doron tied the NCAA record f most free throws in a game. Three years later, playing in her 100th-care game, she is standing with her teammates as a national champion. Dor has been a staple in the starting lineup, becoming only the second play in school history to be named All-ACC three times.

"Shay is a special player. She was the first to believe in our visi of what could be accomplished at Maryland," said Frese of Doron. "A her role on the team has evolved, she has truly developed into a stron leader and is the glue of the team."

Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver did not act or play like freshm last season, shining in some of the biggest moments of the year.

Coleman, the second-straight ACC Rookie of the Year from Marylan was the only freshman in the league to be named All-ACC, earning spot on the second team. Her versatility on the court is apparent, rankin in the top 10 in the league in seven different statistical categories, als becoming one of the nation's top three-point threats. She played near every position on the court for the Terps and, in the Final Four, she poste back-to-back double-double games.

Toliver stepped into the limelight in the postseason after going throug a challenging season which included injuries. Her inspiring performance the Elite Eight, scoring a career-high 28 points while suffering a stomac flu the night before, and her clutch 3-pointer over Duke's Alison Bales, wh stands a foot taller than Toliver and was one of the biggest shots in NC Tournament history, showed what the then-freshman was capable of.

"The biggest thing Marissa and Kristi brought with them was high lev of confidence," said Frese. "Both played with tremendous self-assuranc night in and night out, and displayed how much they wanted to take th big shots, they wanted the pressure. It really feeds in the consciousnes of the rest of the team."

Ashleigh Newman also record one of the biggest moments of th season. Newman is the team's top defender, assigned to the opponent' top player on a nightly basis. She is also a three-point threat, hitting th nearly half-court shot at Carmichael Auditorium, sending the game int overtime, eventually handing North Carolina its first loss of the season.

New to fans are Christie Marrone and Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood, who wi get a chance to play in a Maryland uniform after sitting out the seaso because of NCAA transfer eligibility rules. Both helped to prepare th Terps for their title run in practices.

Marrone already has one year of ACC playing experience, coming t Maryland after one season at Virginia Tech. She adds another three-poin threat to the Terps' strong outside-shooting presence. She had three mor seasons of eligibility remaining.

Wiley-Gatewood becomes eligible at the end of the fall semester afte transferring mid-season last year and will have one-and-a-half season of eligibility remaining. Gatewood was a highly sought-after recruit wh was named 2004 Parade High School Player of the Year in her final pre season. Coming to Maryland from the University of Tennessee, she bring with her great court vision and the experience of playing in the powerfu Southeastern Conference.

"Marrone's outside shooting is a key addition," said Frese. "The way she shoots the three will draw defenders out, really opening up the floor. Sa'de's playing experience and toughness of playing in the SEC is invalu able. Her style of play and unselfishness, plus her overall attitude is a perfect fit. She is going to be an exciting player to watch."

POSTS

There is also an incredible amount of depth, talent and experience in the post. Led by Crystal Langhorne, the Terrapins will, once again, be one of the top frontcourts in the nation.

Langhorne put together another outstanding campaign, earning All-American honors, the first for Maryland since 1989. She already brought with her an impressive scouting report, but winning the championship just motivated her to continue to improve. Already among the top players in school history, Langhorne has spent time on her range and free throw shooting in order to improve consistency in those areas.

"The way Crystal can score in a variety of ways and rebound, separates her from any of the low-post players in the country," remarked Frese. "Anytime you challenge Crystal to improve, she does. She is never satisfied and continues to work on her game to become a more complete player."

Laura Harper's story could not have been written any better. A year away from basketball, playing only nine games of her freshman campaign because of a torn Achilles' tendon, Harper ends her sophomore campaign as the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player. A long and mobile athlete, she is the team's emotional leader and turned in one of the top shot-blocking performances in school history. The combination of Harper and Langhorne, along with the other post players, helped the Terrapins lead the nation in rebounding margin.

"The evolution of Laura as a player came together at the right moment, with all the hard work she put in to return from her injury paying off," said Frese. "She spent most of the season returning to form, regaining her timing, her rhythm and her confidence. But she grew into a complete player and it was tremendous to watch it unfold in the NCAA tournament."

Jade Perry also proved she could step up and play at a high level. Perry had one of the best tournament performances on the team, earning a spot on the All-ACC Tournament second team. The team's physically strongest players, she had 18-point effort against the Tar Heels in the conference champions, 14 of those coming in the first half.

"Jade made a significant impact all season and was counted on and will be continued to be counted on over the next two years. Jade she gives us a different look in the post, in terms of her power and strength."

Having played the 3 and 4 spots on the floor, along spending time at both guard positions, Coleman also finds herself in the mix with the posts. Her versatility cause problems in the post because of 6-foot-1 frame and athleticism make her another force to reckon with.

Emery Wallace is the lone newcomer on the team and is coming off an ACL injury she suffered prior to her senior campaign in high school. She has also had suffered a knee injury in the preseason. Once back on the court, she is another long post player who brings outside shooting capabilities.

Watching the program unfold in four short seasons has even surprised Frese. However, it was not totally unexpected. Luring prized recruits to College Park who bring with them a winning mentality and unselfishness, Frese and her staff put together a team that was bound to turn things around and become one of the top teams in the nation.

"All the credit of the success of this program goes to the hard work of the coach staff, the players and the support staff. We've been able to build upon each class we've been able to sign. Never in my wildest dreams did I think we'd be able to win a championship in four short years."

Frese continued, "When you rebuild and watch it unfold, there is no timetable. It's based upon your players and what they believe. Last year's group obviously believed they could win it all. They believed in themselves and in their teammates' abilities. When you have that kind of mentality, special things can happen and that's what separated last year's team with most teams out there."

SCHEDULE

The road to the Final Four will not be an easy one as Maryland's schedule features 18 teams that earned postseason bids last year, including 15 NCAA Tournament teams. Playing in the tough ACC conference which features three of the four Final Four teams, makes the road a challenging one. The reigning national champions can also expect-near capacity crowds on many stops along the way.

"This is one of the more challenging schedules we've had," said Frese. "What you see is what you get with the ACC. The No. 1 conference in the nation, any team can win on any night. This conference continues to improve from top to bottom."

The Terrapins take a trip to Ashleigh Newman's hometown to face her former high school coach Rick Insell for a tough opener at Middle Tennessee State on Nov. 10 to open the season. The Blue Raiders have pulled off first-round upsets in two of the last three the NCAA Tournaments.

Maryland debuts the new squad in front of the home crowd on Nov. 12, hosting George Mason. The game will be particularly exciting as the Terrapins reveal the championship banner on that afternoon.

A three-team tournament keep the Terrapins at home for the BTI Classic, Nov. 17-19, with the Pac-10's Arizona and NCAA Tournament participant TCU traveling to the area. George Washington makes its first trip to Comcast Center to play the Terps for the first time since 1994. The Colonials is a top 25 team and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament last season, as well.

The Terps enjoy time at the beach and the weather in the Bahamas after the Junkanoo Jam over the Thanksgiving holiday, Nov. 24-25. The first day pits Gardner-Webb with the Terps, with the teams playing either the SEC's Mississippi or the Big Ten's Northwestern on the second day.

Maryland faces Marshall on Nov. 29 on the road, then returns home for matchups between UC-Santa Barbara on Dec. 2 and Siena on Dec. 4.

A three-game road trip begins with a trip to Frese's home state when the Terrapins play at Northern Iowa on Dec. 6. Back East, the Terps will travel to Harper's hometown of Philadelphia to face top-25 opponent Temple on Dec. 10. The road trip concludes with a bus trip to Loyola in Baltimore, Md., on Dec. 21.

After a short break for the holidays, Maryland hosts the annual Terrapin Classic on Dec. 29-30, with UNC-Greensboro, Liberty and Marist.

Back-to-back games against NCAA Tournament teams begins with the ACC opener against NC State on Jan. 3 at home, followed by a nationally televised contest on CBS against the Big Ten's Michigan State on Jan. 6, who advanced to the Sweet Sixteen last year and lost to the Terrapins in the Paradise Jam. The game on CBS is the first of nine regular-season televised contests, including five nationally televised games.

Miami hosts the champs on Dec. 10, followed by the NCAA title game rematch at Duke on Jan. 13, the first of two matchups against the Blue Devils, who visit Comcast Center on Feb. 18. Both of games will be on Fox Sports Net.

Back home, Maryland faces long-time rival Virginia on Jan. 19 and Wake Forest on Jan. 21, before facing North Carolina. The Terps were the only team in the nation to beat UNC last year, winning two of the three meetings. The only regular-season matchup between the teams will be on Jan. 28 in Comcast Center on ESPN2, sandwiched between road contests at Clemson (Jan. 25) and Georgia Tech (Feb. 1).

Boston College and Virginia Tech, both teams who made the NCAA Tournament, travel to battle the Terps on Feb. 4 and Feb. 8, respectively. BC upset last season's No. 1-seeded Ohio State to advance to the Sweet Sixteen.

Trips go to UVA to close out the home-and-home slate on Feb. 11 and an ESPN2 game at Florida State on Feb. 15 leads up to the home matchup against Duke. The regular-season winds down with a road matchup at Boston College on Feb. 25.

The Terps will be looking for their first ACC Tournament title since 1989 when the event tips off on March 1 and runs through March 4 at the Greensboro Coliseum.

Maryland has never made back-to-back trips to the Final Four and is hoping to do that in 2006-07. The "Road to the Final Four" begins on March 17-20, with the regional tournamenta taking place March 24-27. The 2007 champion being crowned on April 1 and 3 in Cleveland, Ohio.

PRESEASON NOTEBOOK

WBCA-RECORD FOUR TERPS NAMED WADE TROPHY CANDIDATES

For the first time in the history of the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA), four players from the same team were selected among the list of 25 preseason candidates for the prestigious Wade Trophy, presented annually to the Division I national player of the year.

Women's Basketball Coaches Association

Teammates Marissa Coleman, Shay Doron, Crystal Langhorne and Kristi Toliver were among the 25 placed on the national-player-of-the-year watch list. Doron and Langhorne are making repeat appearances on the "Wade Watch." Both were preseason candidates last season.

A 2006 All-American, Langhorne was a finalist for the John R. Wooden Award last year. Doron is a three-time All-ACC honoree, one of only two players in school history to earn the honor three times. She was a WBCA Honorable Mention All-American in 2004.

Coleman was last season's ACC Rookie of the Year and the only freshman in the league to be voted to the all-conference team, earning a spot on the second team, while Toliver placed on the Albuquerque Region and Final Four all-tournament teams.

TERPS TOP EARLY PRESEASON POLLS

The NCAA Champion Terrapins are the early favorites to win the national title, earning preseason No. 1 rankings by Street & Smith's and Lindy's annual college preview magazines. The ranking is bolstered by the return of the Terps' top eight players, including their five starters. Maryland was also ranked No. 2 in Athlon's.

A number of Terrapins also garnered individual recognition. Crystal Langhorne was selected a preseason All-American in Athlon's publication and was tabbed one of Street & Smith's "Terrific 10" for the second-straight year.

Street & Smith also singled out Marissa Coleman as a High Honorable Mention All-American, and Laura Harper and Kristi Toliver were Honorable Mention All-Americans.

The top 20 of each poll can be found on page 29.

TOP EIGHT RETURN

The defending NCAA Champion Maryland women's basketball team will have a very similar look to last season's championship squad with eight of the 10 eligible players from that team's roster returning for the 2006-07 campaign.

Among the returnees are Maryland's five starters, including All-American Crystal Langhorne, who started every game last year. Three-time All-ACC honoree Shay Doron and classmate Aurelie Noirez return to play their final season in a Terrapin uniform. NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player Laura Harper, second team All-ACC Tournament pick Jade Perry and the team's top defender Ashleigh Newman are back to help the Terps make another run at the national crown. 2006 ACC Rookie of the Year Marissa Coleman and Albuquerque Region and Final Four All-Tournament team selection Kristi Toliver complete the list of returnees.

The eight returning Terrapins were responsible for 98 percent of the offense and 95 percent of the rebounding a year ago.

FRESE NABS FOURTH-STRAIGHT TOP 10 CLASS

Three new players will be wearing the Terrapin uniform in 2006-0 including Marrone and Wiley-Gatewood, who will get the chance compete for playing time after a mandatory season on the bench due NCAA eligibility rules.

Marrone and Wiley-Gatewood were forced to sit out the 2005-0 campaign (Wiley-Gatewood sat out beginning the spring 2006 semeste but helped the championship squad win the program's first NCAA title members of the practice squad.

A transfer from Virginia Tech, Marrone will don the Maryland uniform f the first time in November, while Wiley-Gatewood, a mid-season transf from Tennessee, will have to wait until the conclusion of the fall 20 semester. Marrone will have three seasons of eligibility still remainin while Wiley-Gatewood has 1.5 seasons left.

The only freshman on the squad, Roanoke, Va., native Emery Walla begins her career at the University of Maryland. She was a two-tim all-state selection and was named 2005 District Player of the Year as senior. She played in three state semifinals, leading Hidden Valley Hi School to the state finals in her final campaign.

MARYLAND ON THE TUBE

When the Atlantic Coast Conference unveiled its television packag it included 10 television games featuring NCAA Champion Maryland. the 10 games, the Terrapins will make national television appearanc six times, including a non-conference showcase against the Big Ten Michigan State on Jan. 6 on CBS.

Two games will be televised on ESPN2, including the Terps' conte against North Carolina, a rematch of last year's NCAA Final Four triump Both Maryland-Duke contests will be televised on Fox Sports Net. Th Terps will also make a national television appearance on CSTV wh they host Wake Forest.

The other four slated television games will be on the ACC's Region Sports Network (Comcast SportsNet in the Baltimore/Washington are Fox Sports Net South and Sun Sports).

Once again, the majority of the ACC Tournament games will be tel vised, including national broadcasts of the semifinals and championsh game on FSN. Every round of the NCAA Tournament is also televise on the ESPN network.

When Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow courted Brenda Frese for the position of head women's basketball coach at the University of Maryland, she could not have written a better success story. Frese, the 2002 Associated Press Coach of the Year at Minnesota, accepted the position in April of 2002 and came to College Park looking to rebuild a struggling program, which was once one of the elite teams in the nation. In just four seasons, the Terrapins ascended to the top of the podium at the Final Four and hoisted the 2006 NCAA Championship trophy.

Head Coach Brenda Frese

BRENDA FRESE

HEAD COACH • ARIZONA '93

EIGHTH YEAR AS A HEAD COACH (262-131, .667)

"The last four years have been an incredible journey," said Frese. "I could not have written it better myself. My coaching staff and I had the belief we could win a national championship here at Maryland. With all the administrative support, the first-class facilities – we knew we could build something great. We did not set any timetables, but to think we achieved something so great in four years... it's beyond expectations."

Described as dynamic, overachieving, determined and enthusiastic, the 36-year old coach is one of college basketball's rising stars. The fifth-youngest coach in NCAA history to win a national title and only the ninth to win on her first trip to the Final Four, she has built the team's success around recruiting, hard work and a positive atmosphere. The instant she arrived on campus, she hit the recruiting trails hard in an effort to reclaim the elite status Maryland once had in the 1980s. Success came quickly and early. Before she even coached a game in the newly-constructed Comcast Center, she convinced high school All-Americans Shay Doron and Kalika France on the idea of playing in the nearly-18,000 seat arena. It was Frese's first of four-straight top-10 recruiting classes in College Park.

Her next two recruiting classes were even more highly regarded. The landmark signings of Crystal Langhorne, Laura Harper, Jade Perry and Ashleigh Newman were rated No. 2 in the country, while the class of Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver were ranked No. 4, the rest of the core of the Terps' national championship team. Her latest batch of Terrapins, led by transfer Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood and freshman Emery Wallace, were ranked No. 7.

Frese's recruiting classes have lived up to their billing and her pupils have earned numerous accolades which had elluded the Terrapins for over a decade and her. In 2006, Crystal Langhorne was tabbed an All-American by the Associated Press (AP) and the United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA), the program's first All-American since 1989, a year after being voted the program's first ACC Rookie of the Year since 1991. The top rookie in the conference came out of College Park for the second year in a row as Marissa Coleman also grabbed the honor during the Terps' championship campaign.

Terps have also garnered national recognition under Frese, making history in the fall of 2006. For the first time ever, four players from the same team were selected preseason candidates for the Women's Basketball Coaches Association's (WBCA) prestigious Wade Trophy when Doron, Coleman, Langhorne and Kristi Toliver were put on the Watch List. In 2005, Langhorne and Doron were also preseason Wade Trophy candidates, while Langhorne was a finalist for the John R. Wooden National Player of the Year Award.

Under Frese, the Terrapins have garnered nine All-ACC nods. Shay Doron, Frese's first recruit in College Park, became the second Terrapin in school history to be selected all-conference three times. She was the first freshman in school history to be named All-ACC in 2004, while Langhorne was the highest-honored freshman in the program, garnering second team honors in 2005. Coleman repeated that feat in 2006 and was also the only freshman in the league to be voted All-ACC. Six of her players have also been named to the ACC All-Freshman team.

Frese has seen success on her three stops in seven seasons as a head coach. Making amazing turn-arounds her calling card, she captured her 100th-career victory in 2005 against Georgia Tech and boasts a 141-75 record (.792), recording six winning seasons in all while leading her teams to four NCAA Tournament appearances. Her Maryland squads have posted an 84-45 mark in four years (.651), advancing to at least the second round of the tournament in each of the last three seasons.

Maryland has rewritten several records over the last four seasons. The Terps' 34 victories in 2005-06 were a school record, shattering the previous mark by five. The championship squad also set new standards for home wins (15), highest road winning percentage (.900), points (3,166), field goal attempts (2,363), three-point field goals (216), three-point attempts (540), free throws (690), free throw attempts (924), team free throw percentage (.747), rebounds (1,720) and blocked shots (195). That season, the Terrapins also led the nation in wins (34), three-point shooting (40.0 percent) and rebounding margin (+11.9), while also boasting the No. 2-ranked offense (83.3 ppg), and fifth-best scoring margin (+18.3) and field goal percentage in the land (.478).

The most astonishing aspect of the season was the Terrapins' perfect record in a school-record six overtime games, none of which were at home. Maryland rode the mantra "Overtime is Our Time" into the final game of the season, capturing the program's first national title in overtime.

During Frese's tenure, the Terps have broken attendance records, including drawing four of the biggest crowds in ACC women's basketball history. On Feb. 13, 2005, 17,243 Terrapin fans packed into Comcast Center, shattering the previous ACC record of 14,500 also held by Maryland. The record crowd came a year after the Terrapins had 13,446 fans supporting them on Feb. 22, 2004 against Duke, then the third-largest attendance in conference history. For the third-straight year, the Terps posted a top-five attendance mark as 16,097 Maryland fans showed their support on Jan. 8, 2006, the second-largest crowd in ACC history. In 2005-06, over 210,000 people flocked to 38 games to watch Maryland play, the ninth-largest attendance in the nation that season, while ranking in the top 25 in average home attendance (4,813).

2005-06: A SPECIAL SEASON

The 2005-06 season was primed for a successful season. With two freshmen, two sophomores and a junior in the starting lineup, Maryland's chances to contend for a national title were projected to be a year away according to the experts. But after a near upset of then-No. 1 Tennessee early in the season, the young Terrapins were filled with confidence and looked primed to make a statement now.

Stacked with six former high school All-Americans on the roster, the Terrapins were ranked in the preseason poll for the second-straight year, breaking the top 10 in November for the first time since 1993. Maryland climbed to as high as No. 4 in the national polls until its regular-season meeting with then-No. 1 North Carolina on Feb. 9. Considered the underdogs throughout the season, the Terrapins went into a packed Carmichael Auditorium and stunned the Carolina fans, handing the Tar Heels their first loss of the season in overtime, 98-95.

That evening, Frese uttered, "Our program took a step forward tonight."

It certainly had. Inching up to No. 3 in the polls, the first top-three ranking in 13 years, the Terrapins remained there until winning the national championship and becoming the undisputed No. 1 team in the nation, earning the top spot in the final ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll for the first time in school history.

The Terps overcame numerous hurdles en route to being crowned national champions. Playing in the toughest conference in the nation, Maryland's 12-2 record was good enough to tie for second in the ACC standings, the best finish since 1993 and the most conference wins since that same year. Ranked in the top three and logging wins over five ranked opponents heading into the ACC Tournament, the Terrapins faced a tough Duke opponent in the ACC Tournament semifinals while also facing a 14-game losing streak to the Blue Devils. The Terps broke that streak, toppling the second-ranked Blue Devils, earning a spot in the championship game for the first time in 13 years.

Maryland earned its highest NCAA seed in 14 years, garnering the No. 2 seed in the Albuquerque Regional, improving its seeding for the third-straight year. Reaching the Sweet Sixteen for the first time since 1992, the Terrapins easily knocked off defending champion Baylor. In the Elite Eight, playing for a chance to reach the Final Four for the first time in Frese's career and the program's first since 1989, the team was struck with a stomach flu, affecting nearly half the players and staff. Despite their struggles, Frese, who had also come down with the sickness, rallied her troops. A hard-fought game to the end, the contest was forced into overtime against a well-coached Utah squad. Riding a wave of confidence, the outcome would be the same for the fifth time that season, as Maryland punched its ticket to Boston.

In Boston, Maryland faced familiar foes. The first time in the history of the NCAA, three teams from the same conference had reached the Final Four and the Terps had overall top-seed North Carolina as their first challenger. The Terrapins pulled away from UNC, 81-70, knocking off the No. 1 team in the nation for the second time this season, with No. 1-seeded Duke on the horizon. The Terps were the only team in the country to beat the Heels and was the first time in school history they had beaten the No. 1 team in the nation twice in the same year.

In Their Words ...

"Under the leadership of Coach Frese, we have made extraordinary progress in the last four years. Her passion for the well being of her student-athletes, her determination to win and her obvious joy in leading the Terps team is a powerful combination. There is no program in the nation better positioned to succeed in the next decade. The 2006 National Championship is only the beginning for our young Terps."

— Maryland Athletics Director Deborah A. Yow

"Brenda is where we all expected her to be. It seems like every where she touches turns to gold. The scary part is, it's only going to get better. From the conference, to the recruits, to the exposure - it's only going to get better. That's a scary thought."

— 2005 National Coach of the Year LSU Head Coach Pokey Chapman

"I knew she would do a good job [at Maryland] but to do it this fast, it's really unbelievable. It's like, "Where the did Maryland come from?" Now, they're a force to be reckoned with. It's amazing what's she's done in a short time. She's a great motivator, she gets her players to run up and down the court, and, in talking to some of them, it's just a positive feeling and that's why she's getting some of the [top] kids."

- ESPN Basketball Analyst Pam Ward

"Brenda is definitely one of the brightest young coaches in America. She's a great student of the game. She will be very successful at Maryland."

previous 15 meetings between the teams, but the young Terrapins fought back in the final 15 minutes, overcoming the second-largest deficit in finals history. Toliver hit one of the biggest shots in tournament history, a three-pointer over Duke's 6-7 center Alison Bales, sending the game into overtime. And the Terrapins knew they had the game already won.

After claiming the 78-75 victory, five players were in double figures and sophomore Laura Harper, who missed two-thirds of the previous season because of an Achilles' tendon tear, was voted the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, while Toliver was named to the all-tournament team.

Maryland's 34 victories were the most in the country and the most in school history. Its four loses were to teams ranked No. 1 at some point during the season. Playing the season with "seven starters," the second-ranked offense in the nation had numerous weapons as five players on the team averaged double figures. Langhorne was an AP and USBWA All-American, while earning first team All-ACC honors. Coleman, who tied Langhorne's school record of five ACC Rookie of the Week selections, was the conference's Rookie of the Year. She was also the only conference freshman to be named All-ACC, earning a spot on the second team, along with Doron.

Excellence was also found in the classroom. Doron was voted ESPN The Magazine/CoSIDA second team Academic All-American, while Langhorne was a second team all-district honoree. Both were also named Academic All-ACC, while five were named to the ACC Honor Roll.

LAYING THE FOUNDATION

Despite a roster with eight freshmen and sophomores in Frese's first season, Maryland was picked to finish third in the 2004 ACC Preseason Media Poll, with two Terrapins earning preseason honors, including Langhorne who was selected Preseason Rookie of the Year, the first Terrapin to ever receive the recognition since the polling began in 1991. Frese's young Terps garnered a top 25 ranking in both the AP and ESPN/Coaches poll, rising to as high as No. 15 during the regular season, the team's highest ranking since 1993. Their 22-10 record that year was the team's first 20-win season in over a decade. On Jan. 9, 2005, the Terrapins recorded one of the biggest wins in school history in over a decade, upsetting No. 5/4 North Carolina at Comcast Center.

The Terrapins advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the second-straight year and was ranked No. 24 in the season's final Coaches poll, the first time the Terps had appeared in the final rankings since 1992-93.

Doron was selected Kodak/WBCA Region II All-American, the first Terrapin to earn the honor since 1993, and was also tabbed a first team All-ACC performer. 2005 was also the first in time 14 years a Terp was voted the ACC's Rookie of the Year when Langhorne earned the honor and was also voted second team All-ACC.

In 2003-04, just her second season at the Terrapin helm, Frese took Maryland to an unexpected run to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and the program's first tournament victory in 12 years.

In what was supposed to be the second year of the rebuilding process, Frese instilled confidence into a Maryland squad that went 4-12 in ACC play the season before and was depending on players with limited experience, including two highly touted recruits in Doron and France. The Terrapins surprised all prognosticators, placing in a tie for third after being picked eighth in a preseason poll. Maryland went 18-13 on the season, its first winning season in four years. In ACC play, the Terps posted an 8-8 mark, doubling their conference win total from each of the previous two seasons and their best showing in the standings since the 1996-97 campaign. Collecting 18 wins overall, the most since 1996-97, Maryland was rewarded with an NCAA Tournament bid, the first time since 2000-01, and was the only 12th seed to advance to the second round.

The long list of accomplishments that season included reaching the ACC semifinals for the first time since 1998, averaging a 12.3 margin of victory in conference games and sweeping Wake Forest and Clemson, its first sweep of any ACC squad in three years.

Frese's first season at the Terps' helm was the rebuilding year it was predicted to be. With a roster short on depth but high on effort, she led Maryland to a 10-18 record, narrowly missing wins at several junctures. Frese's Terps also notched several positive steps in her first year including: breaking 100 points in a game for the first time since Dec. 28, 1993, winning their first ACC road game since Feb. 19, 2001, drawing a crowd of 5,078 – at the time the largest at a Maryland women's basketball game since Feb. 24, 1996, and bringing home their first win from Florida State since the 1995-96 campaign.

LEARNING THE ROPES

One of college basketball's rising stars, Frese fits with Maryland's legacy of success. At Minnesota, she earned AP National Coach of the Year honors as well as Big Ten Coach of the Year recognition for turning the Gophers' 8-20 program into a 22-8 team and a top 25 contender in 2001-02. One of the biggest one-season turnarounds in NCAA history, Minnesota set a then-school record with 22 wins and tied for second in the Big Ten with an 11-5 conference mark. Frese also took the Gophers to what was only the school's second NCAA Tournament appearance. The Golden Gophers earned a fifth-seed in the NCAA Tournament and defeated UNLV in the first round before being eliminated by three points in the second round by North Carolina.

Frese's revitalization of the Minnesota program rocked the Big Ten establishment, with her team's 10-win improvement in conference play marking the biggest one-year improvement in Big Ten history. Moreover, the 11 Big Ten wins were three more than Minnesota totaled in the previous six seasons combined. The Golden Gophers had also achieved their highest ranking in school history to that point when Minnesota was listed 14th in the AP Top 25 in mid-February and garnered a No. 18 national ranking in the final regular season AP poll. Undoubtedly, Frese had arrived.

Frese started her head coaching career during the 1999-2000 season at Ball State, a program that had gone 66-169 in the nine seasons prior to her arrival. She guided the Cardinals to a 16-13 showing in 2000 and garnered Coach of the Year honors in the Mid-American Conference. Frese led Ball State to a then-school best 19-9 mark in 2000-01, capturing the school's second back-to-back winning seasons in Ball State history. In her final year at Ball State, the 2000-01 team received votes in the AP poll, climbing as high as No. 28 in the country.

Frese's enthusiasm has been contagious for the fans of her teams as well, as support increased significantly at both Minnesota and Ball State under her leadership. Buoyed by the best start (9-1) in school history, the Golden Gophers finished the season ranked 19th nationally in home attendance average (4,360), including an average of 8,828 fans during the second half of the campaign when the team moved to Williams Arena from the Sports Pavilion. The Gophers attracted the top four crowds in school history, including a record attendance of 12,142 vs. Michigan State and a crowd of 11,389 vs. Indiana. Frese's 2000-01 Ball State team posted a 10-2 home record and set a single-season home attendance record.

She launched her Division I coaching career in 1994 as an assistant coach at Kent State University, helping the Golden Flashes to records of 20-8 (1994) and 17-10 (1995) during her two years there. The Cedar Rapids, Iowa, native then joined Bill Fennelly's staff at Iowa State as the Cyclones' recruiting coordinator, where she assisted in another impressive turnaround, helping ISU to three NCAA Tournament appearances in four years. All told, the Cyclones posted a composite record of 84-38 with Frese as an assistant, including a 17-10 record in 1995-96 when Iowa State recorded the biggest one-season turnaround in school history. In 1997, the Cyclones made their first-ever appearance in the NCAA Tournament, a feat they duplicated in 1998 and 1999 with identical 25-8 records. In 1999, Iowa State was ranked among the nation's Top 25 for the entire season and came within one victory of reaching the Final Four.

During her stay at Iowa State, her 1998-99 recruiting class was ranked among the nation's top 10, and the Cyclones enjoyed tremendous success at the gate, drawing a record crowd of 12,337 vs. Santa Clara in the first round of an NCAA Tournament game played in Ames, Iowa, and rewriting Iowa State's single-season attendance mark multiple times.

Frese is a 1993 graduate of the University of Arizona, where she was a three-year letterwinner for the Wildcats as a guard. When injuries sidelined her during her senior season, she joined the Pima Community College coaching staff in Tucson, Ariz., as an assistant coach in charge of recruiting and scouting. Aside from her bachelor's degree in communications from Arizona in 1993, she also earned a master's degree in athletic administration from Kent State in 1995.

Frese has found success in her personal life, as well, marrying husband Mark Thomas on August 20, 2005. The couple lives in Howard County, Maryland.

In Their Words ...

"Brenda is one of the bright young coaches in the game today. Maryland is very fortunate. She'll do an unbelievable job of adding to the great tradition that Chris Weller had started there."

— National Champion Connecticut Head Coach Geno Auriemma

"I think this is a great hire for the University of Maryland. Brenda will do a great job of continuing the great tradition of Maryland basketball. She is outstanding in all areas needed to lead a program to national prominence. She is hard working and extremely organized. She knows what it takes to find players who can succeed at this level."

— Iowa State Head Coach Bill Fennelly

"I think the University of Maryland made a good choice in hiring Brenda. She is obviously an up-and-coming coach and she did a great job at the University of Minnesota while she was there. She worked for me so I feel I know her a little better than some other people. I think she will do a great job there, I think it was a good hire and I think that five years down the road, the University of Maryland will have a very good team on their hands."

— Kent State Head Coach Bob Lindsay

"Coach Frese has built a motivated, skilled basketball team that will strive to be on the top of their game. It is a fun and exciting style of play for players and for fans. Coach Frese is a hard working and dedicated coach who will continue to win at a very high level."

JEFF WALZ

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH
FIFTH YEAR AT MARYLAND • 12TH OVERALL

With over 10 years of collegiate coaching experience, long-time assistant coach Jeff Walz was promoted to Associate Head Coach after helping to guide the "young" Maryland Terrapins to its first NCAA Final Four under head coach Brenda Frese and the program's first NCAA Championship crown.

Entering his fifth season on the Maryland bench, Walz came to College Park prior to the 2002-03 season after stints at Minnesota, Nebraska and Western Kentucky. His career highlights include helping guide his teams to eight NCAA Tournaments, one WNIT appearance and one National Championship.

"Jeff is extremely talented in many areas. He does a tremendous job on the floor in practices, games and with player development," said head coach Brenda Frese. "He is extremely organized and efficient, and its shows in everything he does for our program."

In his four seasons at College Park, the Terps have continued to raise the bar. Maryland has earned an NCAA Tournament bid the last three seasons, breaking through to the Sweet Sixteen in 2006, en route to winning the program's first national championship.

Since his arrival, seven Terrapins have garned All-ACC accolades, while Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman were tabbed ACC Rookies of the Year in back-to-back seasons. He also assisted in the Terrapin coaching staff's recruiting efforts to sign back-to-back top-five ranked recruiting classes in 2004 and 2005.

A scholarship player for Northern Kentucky from 1990-93, Walz was with Frese at Minnesota for one year after coaching for four seasons at Nebraska. At Minnesota, he worked with the posts and centers, including 2002 Big Ten Freshman of the Year Janel McCarville, while also taking on scouting and recruiting efforts for the Gophers during the staff's 22-8 season.

While with the Cornhuskers from 1997-2001, Walz was involved with all aspects of the program, from coordinating the Huskers' recruiting efforts to tracking student-athletes' academics, to scheduling and camps. He helped Nebraska to a school-record three-straight NCAA Tournament appearances (1998, 1999, 2000) and also coached the L.A. Sparks' No. 1 draft pick in the 2000 WNBA Draft, Nicole Kubik. By his final year at Nebraska, Walz was in charge of conducting individual development workouts as well as opponent scouting.

Walz began his collegiate coaching career at Western Kentucky in 1996 after serving as the team's administrative assistant the previous season. He started coaching at the middle and high school levels in 1992 and was an AAU coach from 1995-96. During his career, he has guided such players as 1999 NCAA champion and WNBA standout Ukari Figgs, the University of Tennessee's Kyra Elzy, Ohio State standout Marita Porter and 1996 National High School Player of the Year Jaime Walz, his sister, who now coaches the girls' high school team at their alma mater, Highlands High School.

He attended Northern Kentucky University on a basketball scholarship, graduating with a bachelor of science in secondary education in May 1995. Walz earned his master's in education in August of 2000 from Western Kentucky.

Walz exchanged vows with Kim Kumfer on May 17, 2003. The couple are the parents of one-year old Kaeley Thöney and are expecting their second child in February 1, 2007. Walz and his family reside in Crofton, Md.

ERICA FLOYD

ASSISTANT COACH • OHIO STATE '93
FIFTH YEAR AT MARYLAND
13TH YEAR OVERALL

Ohio State standout and 13-year assistant coaching veteran Erica Floyd completed Brenda Frese's sideline staff when she, too, made the move from Minnesota to Maryland before the 2002-03 season. The winning combination resulted in the Terps capturing the 2006 NCAA Championship title, the first in the history of the program.

Floyd coached with Frese during coaching stints at Minnesota and Kent State and has helped to rebuild the Terrapin program into one of the top programs in the country.

"Erica does a tremendous job with our players and with establishing relationships in the community," said Frese of Floyd. "She is also a big asset in recruiting and is committed to making our program the best it can be."

Floyd's contributions in four years at Maryland have seen the Terps set records for wins (34), while advancing to the NCAA Tournament three times. Maryland achieved a top five national ranking in 2005-06, the highest in 13 years, while also mentoring the 2005 and 2006 ACC Rookies of the Year in Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman, and seven All-ACC performers. Her recruiting efforts have also helped to land the No. 2 recruiting class in 2004 and the No. 4 class in 2005.

At Minnesota, Floyd assisted not only in on- and off-campus recruiting, but also with scouting and film breakdown. The position coach for forwards and centers, she helped guide 2002 Big Ten Freshman of Year Janel McCarville, and also led the Gophers' community service efforts. Minnesota experienced the biggest one-year turnaround in Big Ten history in Floyd's year there, going 22-8 after inheriting a program that had been 8-20 the previous season.

She called Cleveland State home from 1998-2001 and served the Viking program in all capacities. She coached Audra Cook, 2000 Midwestern Collegiate Conference Player of the Year while at Cleveland State and was in charge of coordinating team travel and assisting in recruiting efforts both on- and off-campus. She continued to lend her experience to the forwards and centers and also aided in monitoring academics, scouting and coordinating summer camps.

Floyd joined the coaching ranks at Kent State from 1994-98 where she coached alongside Frese, who was an assistant at the time. A position coach for forwards and centers, she assisted with various aspects of the program including coordinating team travel, scouting and summer camps. A Kent, Ohio, native, she also served as the school's assistant marketing director from 1995-98.

Floyd played at Ohio State from 1989-92, graduating with a bachelor of science degree in education in 1993. She was on the Buckeye team that shared the 1989 Big Ten title and, as a captain her senior year of high school, was named the 1988 Gatorade High School Player of the Year for the state of Ohio. Floyd was also inducted to the Theodore Roosevelt High School Hall of Fame in 2006.

Floyd is an active member of the Black Coaches Association (BCA) and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA). She resides in Columbia, Ohio.

JOANNA BERNABEI

ASSISTANT COACH • WEST LIBERTY '97
FOURTH YEAR AT MARYLAND
NINTH YEAR OVERALL

Joanna Bernabei enters her fourth year as an assistant coach on the National Champion Maryland coaching staff. Bernabei came to College Park from West Virginia, and has helped Maryland earn NCAA Tournament bids in each of her three seasons on the bench. Serving as the recruiting coordinator, she has assisted in signing back-to-back top-five ranked recruiting classes and three ranking in the top 10.

"Joanna is very passionate and her knowledge on the floor has been a big asset to our team," said head coach Brenda Frese. "She works extremely hard in our recruiting efforts and has developed tremendous contacts all over the country."

Since Bernabei's arrival at Maryland, the Terps have set records for wins in a season (34 in 2005), seven Terrapins have received All-ACC nods and Crystal Langhorne and Marissa Coleman were tabbed the ACC Rookies of the Year the last two seasons.

Bernabei served two years at West Virginia as an assistant coach for the Mountaineer women's basketball team where she was a scout, position coach and recruiting coordinator. Before her time as a Mountaineer, Bernabei had a two-year stint at Eastern Kentucky where she was responsible for scouting, individual player development, as well as serving as the recruiting coordinator. She gained head-coaching experience in 1998 at West Virginia Wesleyan where she compiled an 18-9 record and a third-place finish in the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (WVIAC), while also acting as the school's senior women's administrator.

Bernabei attended West Liberty State where she was a Division II All-American and a four-time first team All-WVIAC selection as a point guard. Named 1997 WVIAC Player of the Year, she currently holds the NCAA Division II career assist record of 1,107 and the single-game record for most assists at 24 which she set against West Virginia State (Feb. 8, 1997). She is one of a handful of players, men or women, to record more than 1,000 points and 1,000 assists, finishing her stellar career with 1,317 total points.

Bernabei also holds NCAA records for assists average per game (9.5), and the school and conference marks for assists in a game, season (294) and career. She led her team to an 80-36 record over four years and is listed on West Liberty's Top 20 All-Time Best Athletes list. She is the first woman to be named first team All-West Virginia Athletic Conference for four years and was inducted into the West Liberty State Athletic Hall of Fame in 2002. Bernabei was also West Virginia's High School Player of the Year in 1993.

Bernabei earned her bachelor's degree in exercise physiology in 1997 from West Liberty and a master's degree from Eastern Kentucky in sports administration in 1999.

Bernabei married Joe McNamee in her hometown of Weirton, W. Va., on May 22, 2004. The couple resides in Columbia, Md., and welcomed its first child, Lucas John, on October 12, 2006.

MARK PEARSON

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS • IOWA ST. '96
10TH YEAR OVERALL

Head coach Brenda Frese took care of all the details when she built her National Championship staff, including Director of Basketball Operations Mark Pearson, who has been with the Terps the last four years and with Frese since their stint at Minnesota. In his fifth year, Pearson oversees the general operations of the basketball program, especially the planning of team travel.

"Mark does a tremendous job of overseeing all of our team travel and coordinating our office from top to bottom," said Frese. "He does a great job organizing and makes sure everything runs smoothly while also serving as our director of summer camps."

Pearson's primary responsibilities are to coordinate team travel, schedule practices, while also directing camps and managing the day-to-day operations of the office, including overseeing student managers.

Pearson spent one season at Minnesota with Frese, when the program recorded the biggest one-year turnaround in Big Ten history. His experience before Minnesota was vast and varied, including knowledge of both the business and the coaching worlds.

Prior to joining the Gophers' athletic department, Pearson spent two years in the sales department of Reuters, Inc., in Ankeny, Iowa. From 1997-99, he was an assistant basketball coach at Iowa Central Community College and was involved in everything from recruiting and scouting, to summer camps, to overseeing student-athletes' academic performances.

He spent two years as an Iowa Central Junior College player before continuing his education at Iowa State. He served as a graduate assistant and manager of the Cyclone men's basketball team from 1993-97. During that time, Iowa State made three trips to the NCAA Tournament, including a Sweet 16 appearance in 1997.

Pearson earned his bachelor's degree in finance from Iowa State in 1996 and a master's of education in sports management from Iowa State in 2003.

BECKY BONNER

BOSTON UNIVERSITY '05
FIRST YEAR AT MARYLAND

The newest member of the National Champion Maryland women's basketball staff, head coach Brenda Frese hired Becky Bonner to join the Terrapins in July 2006 as Assistant Director of Basketball Operations.

Bonner's responsibilities include assistance with marketing and promotions, and facilitating with the day-to-day operations of the team, including supervising the team's managers.

"We are happy to welcome Becky as part of our women's basketball family," said Frese. "Becky had a very successful Division I playing career beginning at Stanford and finishing up at Boston University. She also brings with her knowledge and experience from playing overseas. Her energy and enthusiasm will fit right in with the rest of the staff."

Bonner comes to College Park after a successful stint playing professional basketball in Sweden and after a four-year career in collegiate basketball.

Bonner began her collegiate playing career at Stanford University, helping the Cardinal win the 2002 Pac-10 Championship. She transferred to Boston University after her sophomore year and started all 30 games of the 2003-04 campaign. That season, she earned third team All-America East Conference honors, after averaging 14.1 points and 4.4 rebounds per game. She set the single-season school record with 72 three pointers, while shooting 42.9 percent from behind the arc.

In her two seasons with the Terriers, she made 113 treys, which ranks fourth in the career annals and is second all-time with a 37.3 career three-point shooting percentage.

After graduation from BU in 2005, Bonner spent the summer working for the New Hampshire Fisher Cats minor league baseball team before being contracted to play with Sweden's Norrkoping.

Bonner is a native of Concord, N.H. She was a third team Parade All-American at Concord High School and was selected her home state's Gatorade Player of the Year. In her junior year, she averaged a triple-double with 28.4 points, 16.0 rebounds and 10.0 assists per game, garnering All-American nods from Street & Smith's that season.

Bonner earned a degree in communications from Boston University. She is the younger sister of Matt Bonner who was recently traded to the NBA's San Antonio Spurs. Her younger brother, Luke, will be a sophomore at UMass and is a member of the basketball team.

Four years ago, head coach Brenda Frese shared her dream of winning a national championship at the University of Maryland with Shay Doron. Frese's first recruit at Maryland, Doron took the leap of faith. Her belief in the staff and the school springboarded the Terrapins to achieve great things. An Israeli native and a superstar in her home country, Doron has carried her team along the way since arriving on campus – whether it was leading the team in scoring or leading by example – the determination to claim the NCAA title was unwavering.

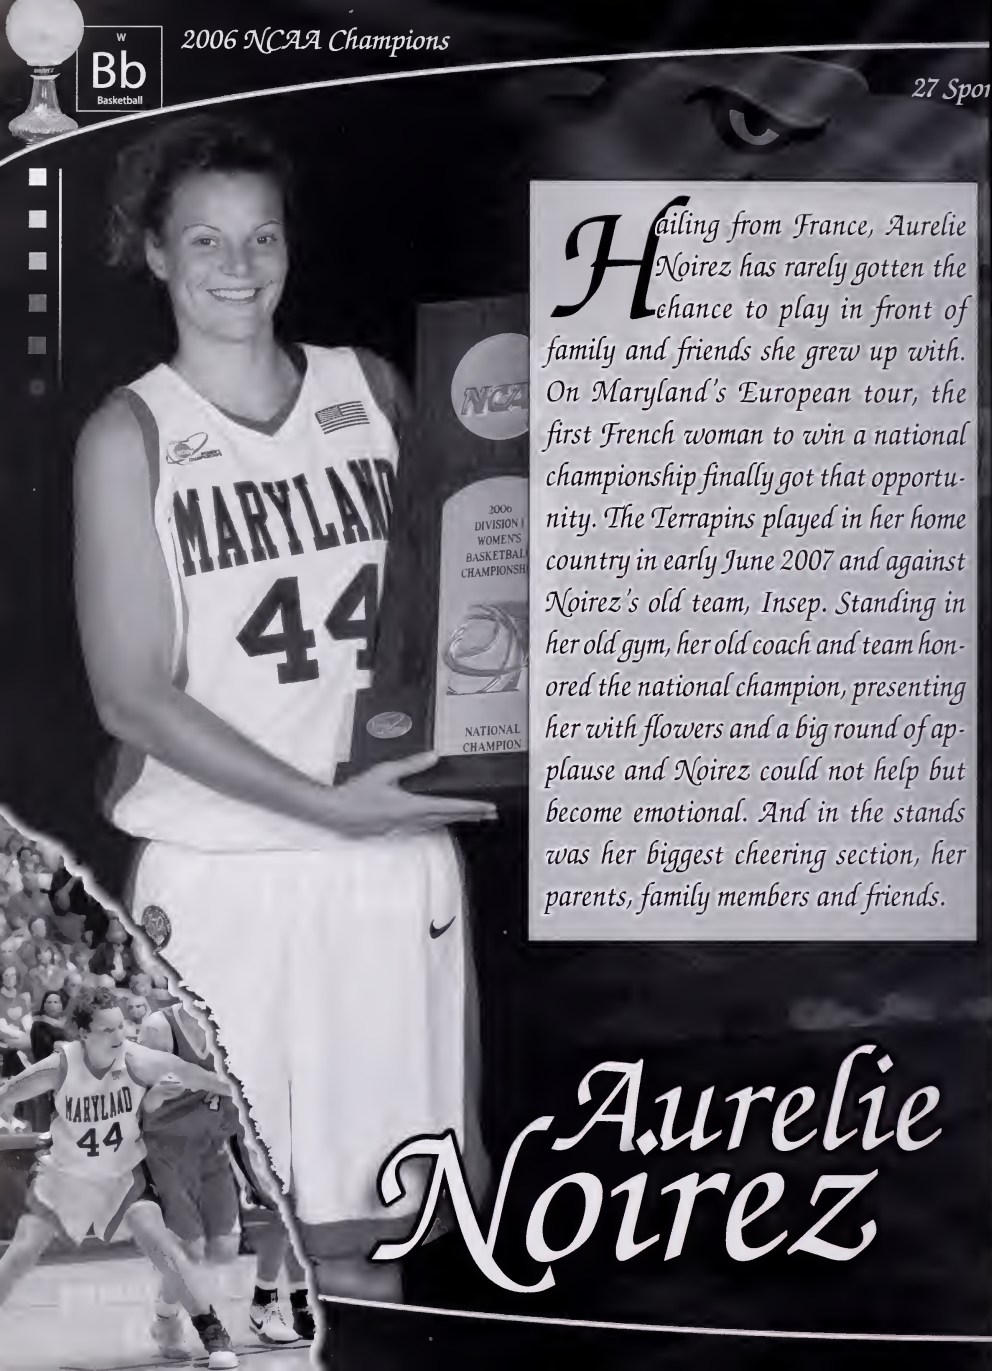
PERSONAL

Also calls Great Neck, N.Y., home ... has served as a team representative on the Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) ... majoring in criminal justice ... daughter of Yuda and Tamari Doron ... has one sister, Netta (22) who attends the University of Pennsylvania ... her mother, Tamari, was a member of the Israel's National Volleyball Team, while her father, Yuda, was a decathlete ... born on April 1, 1985 in Israel.



Hailing from France, Aurelie Noirez has rarely gotten the chance to play in front of family and friends she grew up with. On Maryland's European tour, the first French woman to win a national championship finally got that opportunity. The Terrapins played in her home country in early June 2007 and against Noirez's old team, Insep. Standing in her old gym, her old coach and team honored the national champion, presenting her with flowers and a big round of applause and Noirez could not help but become emotional. And in the stands was her biggest cheering section, her parents, family members and friends.

A Minute With ...

AURELIE NOIREZ

I liked Prague, but I wish it hadn't rained so much. And Paris.

Is there anything from the trip you would bring back to the U.S.?
The architecture and food (chocolate!).

If you could spend a day with the national championship trophy, where would you take it?
I'd bring it to my parents' house in France.

Aside from winning the title, what was your favorite moment from last year?
Paris... because my parents got to meet the whole team and the Virgin Islands trip.

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
A billion.

What will it take to get back to the Final Four in Cleveland?
Hard work, determination and confidence.

What part of your game did you improve in the offseason?
Strength and shooting.

Who has the best shot on the team?
KT (Kristi Toliver)

Who has the strongest hands on the team?
Lang (Crystal Langhorne). She can catch anything.

Riss (Marissa Coleman)

Who is the team's best cook?
No idea. We like to eat at restaurants better. If I had to make a guess, I'd say Ashleigh.

Last song I listen to before games?
I don't listen to a specific song. It depends on my mood but it has to pump me up.

Celebrity I am most tired of seeing on TV...
Paris Hilton.

On Dec. 26, 2004, Laura Harper lined up on the baseline for a routine full-court sprint. A few steps later, she was down on the court writhing in pain. That was the day Harper tore her Achilles' tendon having played just nine games of her freshman campaign. After the injury, she underwent surgery and endured eight months of rehabilitation. Watching the rest of the season from the sidelines, Harper gained a deeper appreciation for the sport she loves, evident in the way she plays. Sixteen months later, Harper stood atop the podium, holding the national championship trophy above her head as the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player.

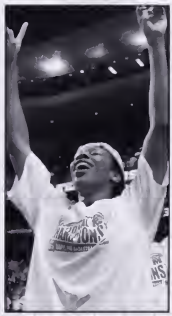
HARPER'S HONOR ROLL
- Final Four Most Outstanding Player (2006)
- Coors Classic All-Tournament team (2005)
- Rookie of the Week (2005)



FRESE ON HARPER:
"After being named Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four, Laura has just scratched the surface in her development as a player. Laura brings passion, intensity and a tremendous defensive presence down low in the paint. She will definitely be someone we count on this season."

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE:
Member of the 2004 USA Basketball Junior World Championship Qualifying team which went 5-0 and won a gold medal in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, capturing a berth to the 2005 FIBA Junior World Championship ... started all five games of the tournament, averaging 12.8 points and 4.8 rebounds per game, while shooting .632 from the field.

The season after tearing her Achilles' tendon, went on to be named NCAA Tournament Final Four Most Outstanding Player ... returned to action for the first time since Dec. 20, 2004 to score 11 points on 5-for-6 shooting, while grabbing six rebounds and making two blocks in the season opener at Siena ... started 17 games, playing in all but two ... had a career-high five blocks against Gonzaga on the first day of the Paradise Jam, also tallying 12 points (5-for-7) and six rebounds ... first double-double of the season came against No. 1 Tennessee in St. Thomas, netting 13 points to go with 12 rebounds, while dishing out a career-high four assists ... 15 points and eight rebounds in first-career ACC game at then-No. 19/21 Boston College ... 17 points on 8-for-10 shooting, 10 rebounds and three blocks at NC State ... 17 points and six rebounds in the ACC Tournament semifinal victory over then-No. 2/2 Duke, then scored 13 and pulled down eight rebounds in the final vs. then-No. 1/1 North Carolina ... in her first-career NCAA Tournament appearance, posted a double-double with 16 points and 13 rebounds against Sacred Heart ... followed up with 15 points and five rebounds vs. St. John's ... scored six of the team's 12 overtime points, to lead Maryland past Utah

Senior Associate Athletic Director Larry Leckonby (left) presented Laura Harper with a plaque during halftime of the Terps' upset of North Carolina. Harper helped the United States win a gold medal at the 2004 Junior World Championship Qualifying Tournament in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, dominating the competition going 5-0 overall. Harper averaged 12.8 points and 4.6 rebounds per game.

A Minute With ...

LAURA HARPER

The shopping.

If you could spend a day with the national championship trophy, where would you bring it?
To my high school.

What was your first thought when Kristi Toliver's shot went in?
Overtime is our time.

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
8 million.

Who do you think will be in the Final Four in Cleveland?
Maryland, UNC, Stanford and Oklahoma

What part of your game did you improve in the offseason?
My strength.

Who has the best shot on the team?
KT (Kristi Toliver)

Lang (Crystal Langhorne)

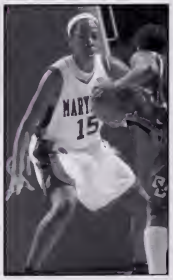
Lang

Favorite place to eat before games?
Jerry's Seafood

Last song you listen to before games?
"Fighter" by Christina Aguilera.

First person you talk to after games?
My mom.

What did you learn from winning the national championship?
How good it feels.



On her way to matching a career-high 34 points in the Sweet Sixteen against Baylor, Crystal Langhorne entered the locker room at halftime after hitting one of the biggest shots of the game, turned to her teammates and said, "thanks for passing me the ball guys." When asked to explain what makes her so good, Langhorne has a hard time finding the words. When asked about her teammates' talents, the words flow with ease. The program's first All-American in 17 years, Langhorne has earned numerous honors in her first two years at Maryland, but takes more pride in the championship she won with her teammates than any individual honor she has received.

What did you learn from winning the national championship?
People love you or hate you.

On February 9, 2006 in Chapel Hill, N.C., Newman found herself standing several feet beyond the three-point arc with a loose ball rolling towards her. With time expiring on the clock and her team down three, she took the improbable, long-range shot and watched it go through the net to send the game into overtime. Maryland eventually went on to win the contest, handing the Tar Heels their first loss of the season, while the Terps vaulted into the national spotlight. Back at home in Shelbyville, Tenn., her hometown proudly celebrated the national champion, declaring August 20, 2006, "Ashleigh Newman Day."

FRESE ON NEWMAN:

"Ashleigh is our best perimeter defensive stopper. Her assignment every game is simple — to shut down our opponents' best offensive weapon. We look for Ashleigh to be even more consistent this year on the offensive end."

2005-06:

Hit one of the more memorable shots of the 2005-06 NCAA women's basketball season, knocking down the game-tying three pointer from nearly half-court, aiding in the eventual upset of then-No. 1 North Carolina in overtime at Carmichael Auditorium, despite a 1-for-11 showing from three-point range over the previous five games … improved on all but one (blocks) of her career-high marks last season, taking on a larger role as a starter in 25 games (including the first 22 games to start the season) and the team's top defender … had a six-game double-figure scoring streak from Dec. 11-Jan. 2 … posted 15 double-figure games … netted a career-high tying 21 points at George Mason … 5-for-8 from the floor and perfect on five tries from the free throw line for 16 points against Appalachian State … a solid outing at Virginia, contributing 15 points on 5-for-9 shooting, including 3-for-7 from beyond the arc, in the overtime victory … grabbed a career-high seven rebounds in the wins at Wake Forest and Clemson … also picked up a career-high six assists vs. Georgia Tech at Comcast Center … broke out of a shooting slump where she scored no more than eight points over an 11-game stretch, scoring 14 points and 12 points at the ACC Tournament … gave the Terps a second-half boost, scoring all 14 points in 20 minutes in the ACC Tournament final against North Carolina … 12 points in the first-round win over Sacred Heart, knocking down 2-of-3 three-point attempts … 3-for-3 with six rebounds in the Sweet 16 against Baylor … dished out at least five assists against Mount St. Mary's, Central Connecticut State, Georgia Tech, at North Carolina and against Northern Colorado … recorded one of the top 15 three-point shooting percentages in school history, while also ranking in the top 15 in treys made and attempted.

Team's top three-point threat while also serving as backup point guard ... 10th in the ACC in three-point field goal percentage (.351) ... was within one trey of tying the school record, knocking down 7-of-11 threes, scoring a career-high 21 points in 22 minutes at Clemson ... seven 3-pointers vs. the Tigers were all in the first half ... nine points on 4-for-7 shooting in first-collegiate appearance at Appalachian State, to go along with three assists, two rebounds and a steal ... 2-for-3 from behind the arc and four rebounds against Loyola ... back-to-back 11-point outings, then a career high, vs. St. Bonaventure and Monmouth ... also 3-for-5 from three-point land vs. the Bonnies and a perfect 5-for-5 from the floor vs. the Hawks ... nine points and a career-high six boards vs. UMass ... perfect from the field (2-2), three-point range (1-1) and from the charity stripe (2-2) in the overtime win at Arizona, netting seven points and grabbing four rebounds in 12 minutes ... followed up the 21-point performance at Clemson with a 12-point outing vs. Wake Forest ... career-high tying four assists vs. Northern Colorado, while hitting on three long-range shots for 10 points ... 12 points on 5-for-10 shooting, including 2-for-5 from three, vs. No. 8/7 Ohio State in the second round of the NCAA Tournament ... 33 three-point field goals made among top 15 single-season totals at Maryland, and 94 attempts are among top 10.

BEFORE MARYLAND:

Led Shelbyville HS to three state titles, winning the last two and earning state tournament Most Valuable Player honors both years ... 2004 Miss Basketball Finalist and twice selected Street & Smith's Honorable Mention All-American ... also named Honorable Mention All-American by the WBCA as a senior ... among All Star Girls Report top 100 guards in the nation in 2004 and ranked 32nd by the Blue Star Report ... selected for Nike Camp in 2003 ... first team all-state by the Tennessee Sports Writers ... two-time District 8 Player of the Year ... two-time Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association State MVP ... team captain, Most Valuable Offensive Player and MVP in final season ... 2003 MVP of Hoops Fest Tournament for Marshall County, Ky. ... also a letterwinner at third base in softball, winning the Fastpitch Softball MVP award for District 8 in 2004.

Tasting the different foods.

If you could spend a day with the national championship trophy, where would you bring it?
To a family gathering.

The UNC game (in Chapel Hill, N.C.)

What was your first thought when Kristi Toliver's shot went in?
We're going to win.

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
A lot...

Who do you think will be in the Final Four in Cleveland?
Maryland, Tennessee, North Carolina, Stanford

What part of your game did you improve in the offseason?
My mid-range game.

ME!

First person you talk to after games?
Family and friends.

If I won the lottery, the first thing I would buy is...
My dream car.

Polos.

What did you learn from winning the national championship?
People know you everywhere you go!

While attending Muhlenberg North High School, Jade Perry played to capacity crowds nearly every night. Her team's runs to the state tournament put Central City, Ky., on the map and she was one of the primary reasons the small six-traffic light town became known. Coming to Maryland was a culture shock, but Perry was impressed with its coaches and team, the diversity on campus and its location to two major cities. After winning the national championship, the hometown hero returned home to a surprise. The town, which had supported her during her high school days, had erected five highway signs proclaiming Central City the home of the national champion.

PERRY'S HONOR ROLL
• Second team All-ACC Tournament (2006)

FRESE ON PERRY:
"Jade is a tremendous force down low with her rebounding and defensive abilities in one of the toughest conferences in the country. She is our strongest player and never backs down to anyone. She is another player who has been a pleasure to watch develop as she continues to raise her game each season."

2005-06:
Earned second team All-ACC Tournament nods, due in large part, to a stellar 18-point effort in the tournament final against North Carolina ... 14 of those points came in the first half ... it is the first ACC accolade of her career ... in the starting lineup against Gonzaga at the Paradise Jam, remaining in the starting five in 20 games overall ... grabbed a then-career high 11 boards to go with nine points against the Zags ... helped to limit Tennessee's Candace Parker to just eight points over the final 27 minutes (after she scored 11 over the first 12 minutes), in an 80-75 loss to the Lady Vols in the championship game of the Paradise Jam ... bounced back from a 0-point, 1-rebound outing against UT to register her first-career double-double vs. Appalachian State, netting a then-career best 16 points and hauled down a career-high 16 rebounds ... followed up with a 23-point, 13 rebound effort vs. Mount St. Mary's ... also had three blocks in both games ... 11 rebounds in the next game at Monmouth ... 5-for-9 from the field, connecting on a career-high seven free throws for 17 points, 10 rebounds against Manhattan ... helped to limit Duke's Alison Bales and Mistie Williams to a combined 13 points and five rebounds at Comcast Center ... 5-for-10 with 11 points and six rebounds in the victory over Florida State ... closed out the ACC slate scoring 14 points against Clemson, knocking down 6-of-9 shots ... had a dominant performance in the paint, tallying 20 points and grabbing 10 rebounds for her fourth double-double of the season vs. Sacred Heart in the NCAA Tournament ... hampered by a stomach virus in the Elite 8 and was limited to just four minutes of playing time ... shot nearly 46 percent from the floor and 75 percent from the charity stripe, a major improvement from her freshman campaign.

Stepped into the starting lineup at the Terrapin Classic after teammate Laura Harper was sidelined with an injury for the duration of the season ... posted then-career highs of 10 rebounds and three blocks in the win over Pennsylvania at the Coors Classic ... recorded eight points and eight rebounds in first-career start vs. Marshall ... scored three points and grabbed seven rebounds with two blocks, limiting second team All-ACC performer and the ACC's field goal percentage leader, Erlana Larkins, to below her scoring average and just 3-for-10 shooting in the upset-win over No. 5/4 North Carolina ... responded with one of her best efforts of the season, scoring 10 points and grabbing six rebounds in a career high 35 minutes at No. 1/4 Duke ... knocked down the game-tying bucket with 0.8 seconds remaining in regulation in the nationally televised, overtime win at Arizona ... the buzzer beater was No. 2 on that evening's ESPN Sportcenter's Top 10 Plays of the Day ... set a then-career high with 12 points on 6-for-11 shooting against Wake Forest, also grabbing seven rebounds ... six points and five rebounds against then-No. 3/4 Duke in front of a record crowd at Comcast Center ... knocked

A 2004 Parade National High School Player of the Year, Sa'de Wiley-Gatewood had committed to play for the University of Tennessee as a high school sophomore. However, after a year-and-a-half in Knoxville, Tenn., she had decided she needed a change. During a visit to the Maryland campus, Wiley-Gatewood was impressed with the team's chemistry when she attended the Terps' holiday party. Offering an entertaining style of play and an enormous talent, she made the surprising announcement she wanted to be a Terp. Wiley-Gatewood will get her chance to display her talents for Terrapin fans at the end of the first semester.

A Minute With ...

SA'DE WILEY-GATEWOOD

If I could spend a day with the national championship trophy, where would you take it?
I would take it to study hall because that's where I'm always at. Hahahaha.

Aside from winning the title, what was your favorite moment from last year?
My favorite moment was when I became a Terp.

What was your first thought after Kristi Toliver's shot went in?
Ooooookay :) Overtime is our time...

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
A good amount but love doing it.

Who do you think will make it to the Final Four in Cleveland this year?
Maryland, North Carolina, Duke, Oklahoma.

What part of your game did you improve this offseason?
I improved my pull-up 15 foot jumper and I'm excited to use it this season.

Who has the best shot on the team?
I will say that everyone has a pretty decent shot. Everyone can hit a shot when they want to.

Who has the strongest hands on the team?
Jade has the strongest everything.

Crystal Langhorne.

What's your favorite thing about this team?
The chemistry and how well we get along as a team.

First person you talk to after games?
My mom and dad.

On my day off I like to...
Hang out with my teammates and sleep.

What did you learn from winning the national championship?
I learned that any team can win the national championship. It doesn't matter how young the team is, it is about the team chemistry and talent you have.

Most freshmen enter college with the goal of one day cracking the starting lineup. As a high school senior sitting in the stands in Indianapolis at the 2005 Final Four, Marissa Coleman told future teammate Kristi Toliver, "this is going to be us next year." One of the nation's most versatile players and a matchup nightmare for opponents because of her size, ability to score, rebound, shoot, defend and pass, the ambitious freshman's resolve was strengthened on a January visit to TD Banknorth Arena. On April 4, 2006, in Boston, the 2006 ACC Rookie of the Year clutched the national championship trophy and barely let go after achieving her goal.

MARISSA COLEMAN

Being with my teammates and celebrating the Natty.

Beating UNC at Carmichael Auditorium.

What was your first thought when Kristi Toliver's shot went in?
We are about to win a national championship.

What part of your game did you improve in the offseason?
My strength and 3-point shot.

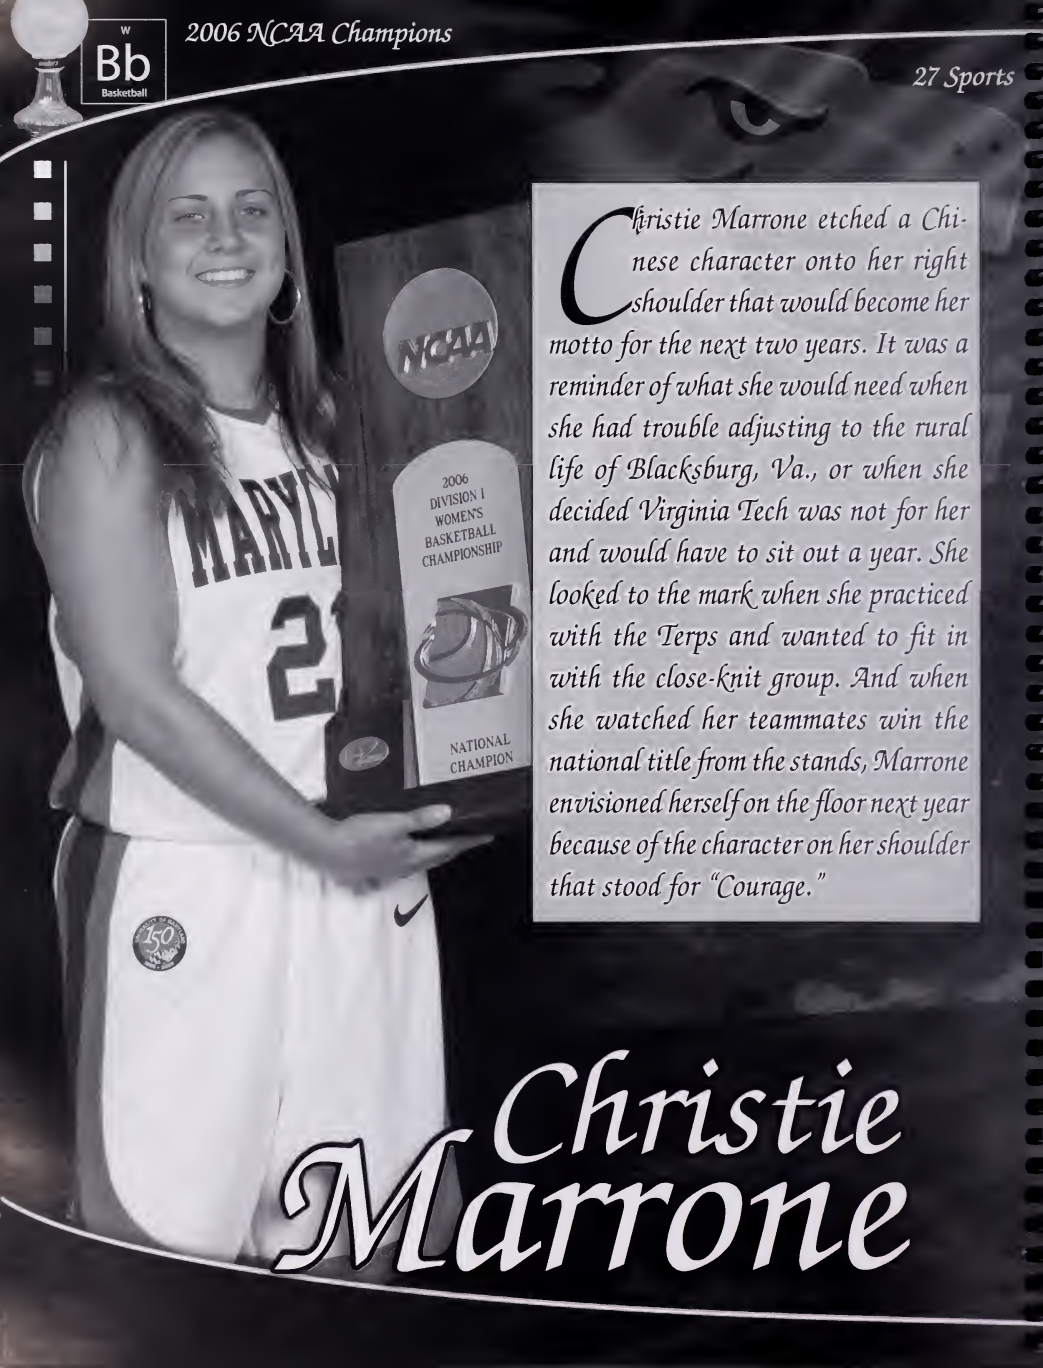
We are more a family than a team. We do everything together.

Last song you listen to before games?
"Break Stuff" by Limp Bizkit

First person you talk to after games?
My mom, dad and lil bro.

Best movie you saw this year?
"Madea's Family Reunion"

Aside from playing basketball, my best talent is...
Singing and dancing.



Christie Marrone etched a Chinese character onto her right shoulder that would become her motto for the next two years. It was a reminder of what she would need when she had trouble adjusting to the rural life of Blacksburg, Va., or when she decided Virginia Tech was not for her and would have to sit out a year. She looked to the mark when she practiced with the Terps and wanted to fit in with the close-knit group. And when she watched her teammates win the national title from the stands, Marrone envisioned herself on the floor next year because of the character on her shoulder that stood for "Courage."

FRESE ON MARRONE:

"Christie will give us added depth and fire power on the perimeter. Her outside shooting presence will keep defenses honest. Christie fits in well with our team as she brings a strong work ethic and has ACC game experience."

2005-06:

2004-05 AT VIRGINIA TECH:

Averaged 4.3 points and 1.5 assists per game in 29 games, helping the Hokies to a 17-12 record and trip to the NCAA Tournament ... named team Rookie of the Year ... scored a career-high 12 points vs. NC State on Jan. 17 ... had a career-high seven assists against #2 Duke on Jan. 9 ... knocked down a career-high three treys at Miami on Feb. 6, going 3-for-7 from behind the arc, also grabbing a personal best six rebounds ... 3-for-4, making only three-point attempt, for seven points at #8/6 North Carolina on Feb. 11 ... scored eight points vs. DePaul in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at Comcast Center ... shot at a .359 clip from three-point land, going 21-for-59 on the season.

BEFORE MARYLAND:

Street & Smith Honorable Mention All-American ... Class B Player of the Year by the New York Sports Writers Association in 2002-03 after leading her team to a Class B State title and the Federation crown ... was the only junior among five finalists for the New York Daily News Player of the Year award, earning all-city honors by the publication ... also helped St. John Villa to the Class C state and Federation championships as a freshman in 2000-01 ... Most Valuable Player of the state and Federation title games in 2001 and 2003 ... one of only two players to be named to the Staten Island Advance All-Star team ... tied the state record with six 3-pointers in a game ... fifth on Staten Island's all-time scoring list, tallying more than 1,800 points, including 202 treys, reaching double figures 93 times in 122 career games while also dishing out over 500 assists ... averaged 15.0 ppg and 50.5 three-pointers in a season over her four seasons ... member of the "Dream 100" ... member of the USA East team that won the USA Basketball Youth Development Festival.

CHRISTIE MARRONE

What was your favorite part of the Europe trip?
There was not one particular part that was my favorite because everything was so beautiful and so exciting to see.

If you could spend a day with the National Championship trophy where would you take it?
I guess I'd bring it back home to show my family, friends and bring it to my high school.

Aside from winning the title, what was your favorite moment from last year?
Favorite moment would probably be when we beat UNC and Ashleigh hit that shot.

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
A lot and I didn't even play.

Who do you think will make it to the Final Four in Cleveland this year?
Us, Duke, North Carolina, Oklahoma

Passing

Who has the best shot on the team?
Either Marissa or KT (Kristi Toliver).

Crystal Langhorne

Eager to take her place on the big stage, Kristi Toliver quietly became the floor general the Terps could count on, despite enduring early-season injuries which had forced her to the sidelines. The daughter of a veteran NBA referee, Toliver stepped up when the team needed it the most, turning in two "MJ-like" performances in the NCAA Tournament. Battling a stomach virus in the Elite Eight, she scored 28 points to lead her team into the Final Four. In one of the biggest moments in the history tournament, she hit a step-back, game-tying three-pointer over the outstretched hand of a 6-7 Duke defender to send the game into overtime, which will forever be known as "The Shot."

TOLIVER'S HONOR ROLL
- NCAA Final Four All-Tournament Team
- NCAA Albuquerque All-Tournament Team
- ACC All-Freshman Team
- ACC Rookie of the Week (1/26, 2/6 [co])

FRESE ON TOLIVER:
"Last year, Kristi showed she believes and knows that she can compete against anyone in the country. She has never backed down from a challenge. Kristi has a tremendous game IQ and can do damage in multiple ways. We look forward to watching Kristi continue to lead this team in so many ways."

"THE SHOT"

2005-06:
Became a household name during the NCAA Tournament, hitting one of the most memorable shots in Maryland women's basketball and in tournament history, a three pointer with just six seconds remaining in regulation over Duke's 6-foot-7 center Alison Bales in the title matchup to force overtime ... named to the Final Four and Albuquerque Regional All-Tournament teams ... in a "Michael Jordan-like performance," her career-high 28 point outing against Utah in the Elite Eight while battling the stomach flu was one of the top performances of the 2006 NCAA Tournament ... went 6-for-9 from the three-point line against the Utes, as well, with six assists ... named to the ACC All-Freshman team, leading all conference rookies with a 4.39 assists per game average and ranked third in scoring (11.6 ppg) ... 16 points and six assists in first-career game in a Terrapin uniform at Siena ... dished out a then-career high 11 assists to go with 17 points against Appalachian State for first double-double of the season ... also had a double-double at Virginia (12 points, 10 assists) ... started out the season with double-figure scoring games in five of six games ... saw minimal playing time from Dec. 4-30, sitting out five games and playing only three minutes vs. Arizona, because of injury ... had a solid week leading to ACC Rookie of the Week honors on January 20 ... started with a 16-point, six-rebound performance on 6-for-8 shooting in the win over Florida State and followed up with her second double-double of the season against the Cavaliers, while playing in her home state for the first time ... closed out that week with a 17-point game against Virginia Tech, tallying the team's final 10 points in the last four minutes of the game to come away with a 68-62 victory ... nearly had another double-double, sinking 16 points while collecting nine assists in the home victory over UVA, helping the Terrapins sweep the Cavs for the first time since 1987, also earning ACC co-Rookie of the Week nods... 14 points, eight assists in the upset, overtime win at then-No. 1 North Carolina ... scored a then-career high 19 points in the very next game at Duke, also ranked No. 1 at the time ... a 16-point outing against the Blue Devils helped knock off the then-No. 2 Blue Devils in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament ... 12 assists in the first round of the NCAA Tournament against Sacred Heart are a personal best ... netted 12 points and went 3-for-4 from the three-point arc in the win over defending NCAA Champion Baylor in the Sweet Sixteen ... while battling a stomach flu, posted a career-high 28 points, including a career-high six three pointers, and dished out six assists with just one turnover in the Elite 8 victory over Utah ... 23rd in the ACC in scoring, sixth in assists (4.39 apg), sixth in three-point shooting percentage, ninth in three-point field goals made (1.79) and seventh in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.49) ... shot 89.1 percent from the free throw line, breaking the single-season school record ... already ranks among the top three-point shooters in school history .

The sights.

Is there anything from the trip you would bring back to the U.S.?
The languages and style of clothes.

To a family reunion.

How many autographs have you signed since April 4, 2006?
Millions.

Jade Perry and Crystal Langhorne.

Crystal Langhorne

Who is the team's best cook?
No one.

What's your favorite thing about this team?
Everyone loves one another.

Last song you listen to before games?
"I Gotta Be"

One my day off, I like to...
Sleep, watch movies, play Nintendo.

Emery Wallace was the District's Player of the Year as a senior in high school, despite missing the first 10 games of the season. A significant honor in itself, her determination to return to the floor was as inspiring and worthy of the accolade. Wallace suffered an ACL injury in the state semifinal game of her junior year. After a grueling rehab, however, she was back on the floor for her final campaign. As determined as ever to make the Titans a state contender, the team rolled to an 18-game winning streak with Wallace in the lineup, capturing the district and region titles along the way, advancing all the way to the state finals.

2007 OPPONENTS & THE ACC

ABOUT THE ACC

THE TRADITION

John Swofford,
ACC Commissioner

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 54th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 100 national champion-ships, including 52 in women's competition and 48 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 130 times in men's competition and 71 times in women's action.

The conference had an immediate impact on the national college football scene in the fall of 1953 when the University of Maryland captured the first of what would eventually be five national football titles for the ACC. Clemson laid claim to the league's second national title in 1981 while Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990. Florida State pocketed national titles No. 4 and 5 in 1993 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, Miami has laid claim to five national gridiron titles over the past 22 seasons. Four of the Hurricanes' five national titles (1983, 1987, 1989, 2001) were unanimous with both the sportswriters and coaches polls in agreement, while in 1991 Miami (AP) shared the national title with Washington (coaches).

This past season an all-time high 14 ACC players earned first team All-America recognition while two others garnered second team honors. The 12 institutions that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 513 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 71 first-team academic All-Americans.

Led by NC State junior Mario Williams, the first overall selection, the ACC set an NCAA record with 12 players selected in the first round of the 2006 NFL draft. Williams was the first ACC player to be the NFL's first overall selection. Seven of the top 15, and 15 of the first 37 players drafted were from the ACC and the conference led all conferences with a league-record 51 players selected over the seven rounds.

The 12 current ACC schools have had 2,093 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 204 first round selections.

If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. The ACC is the nation's winningest bowl conference as the 12 current league teams are a combined 139-119-5 (.538) in post-season play.

Following its 5-3 bowl mark in 2005, the ACC is the only conference to post a .500-or-better record in post-season play in each of the past five seasons. Since 2001, the ACC is 21-12 in post-season play and has the best bowl winning percentage (.636) among all BCS conferences.

In 2002, the ACC set an NCAA record when seven of its nine teams (78%) received bowl bids.

Georgia Tech and Boston College are tied for the second-best bowl game winning percentages in Division I-A history. The Yellow Jackets are 22-12 (.636) while the Eagles are 11-6. Florida State 20-13-2 (.600) is eighth.

For the first time in ACC history, league schools surpassed the 3.8 million mark in total attendance in 2005. Over 73 home games, ACC teams drew 3,835,260 fans, breaking the existing record of 3,693,032 set in 2004.

2005-06 IN REVIEW

The 2005-06 academic year concluded with the league pocketing an all-time high six national team titles and 15 individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 57 national team titles over the last 16 years. The ACC has won two or more NCAA titles in 24 of the past 26 years.

THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2006-07 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members, Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, NC State, South Carolina and Wake Forest, drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member on July 1, 2005.

REVIEW NOTEBOOK

TERPS WIN FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Making their first trip to the Final Four since 1989 and the first-ever under for head coach Brenda Frese, the Maryland women's basketball team won its first-ever national championship with a 78-75 overtime win. The Terrapins won the title with one junior, two sophomores and two freshmen in the starting lineup.

The overtime game was just the second in NCAA history and first since 1991. Frese became the third-youngest coach in the history of the sport to win a national title and the ninth coach to win it all in her first trip to the Final Four, and the second coach in as many years to walk away with the title in her first Final Four appearance.

The Terps were the third-straight No. 2 seed to capture the title and the sixth overall.

Maryland is the fourth school in NCAA history to win the men's and women's national titles. The Terrapin men captured the crown in 2001. The other double winners are Connecticut, North Carolina and Stanford.

HISTORIC COMEBACK!

Despite trailing 13 points with just under 15 minutes remaining in the second half, the Terps rallied back to win the program's first-ever NCAA crown, tying the second-largest comeback in NCAA Tournament history.

Louisiana Tech set the record of overcoming a 14-point deficit during the 1988 championship, defeating Auburn, and Southern California came back from being down 13 points in 1983 to defeat La. Tech in 1983.

HARPER NAMED FINAL FOUR MOP

After playing just nine games of her freshman season and being forced to sit out the majority of the 2004-05 campaign because of an Achilles' tendon tear, sophomore Laura Harper was named the 2006 NCAA Final Four Most Outstanding Player. Harper averaged 20.0 points and 8.0 rebounds per game in Boston, leading the Terps to their biggest two victories in school history.

Freshman Kristi Toliver was also selected to the all-tournament team. Toliver averaged 15.0 points per game in the semifinal and championship games, hitting a three-pointer over Duke's 6-7 Alison Bales, one of the most memorable shots in the history of the tournament, sending the title game into overtime.

MUST SEE TV

Maryland's 78-75 overtime victory over Duke drew a 3.1 overnight television rating, up 19 percent from the previous year. Nearly 2.8 million households tuned in to watch the Terrapins capture their first-ever national title.

MARYLAND RANKED NO. 1

After winning the 2006 national championship, Maryland was ranked No. 1 atop the ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll, the first time in the school history the Terps ended the season ranked No. 1. It was also only the second time in the history of the program the Terps had finished the campaign in the top five in the poll.

Maryland's No. 3 final ranking by the Associated Press was the first time since 1992-93 it has appeared in the final AP ranking and is the highest final rating since 1981-82, when it was also rated No. 3. The Terps have appeared in the AP's final poll 13 times since 1977 and has been among the top five three times including 2006. The Terps were also among the top five to finish the 1988-89 season, ranking No. 5.

The final AP poll is released every year prior to the start of the NCAA Tournament, while the final coaches poll is released the day after the national championship game.

LANGHORNE FIRST ALL-AMERICAN IN 17 YEARS

The United States Basketball Writers Association (USBWA) and the Associated Press both selected sophomore Crystal Langhorne to its All-American squad, the program's first All-American since 1989. Langhorne led the nation in field goal percentage (67.0 percent) and the team with 17.2 points and 8.6 rebounds per game, while leading the Terps to their first trip to the Final Four in 17 years and the program's first national championship title. The AP named Langhorne to its second team.

Only four other players in the history of the program have earned All-American status. Former greats Vicky Bullett (1989), Jasmina Perazic (1983) and Deanna Tate (1989) were selected Kodak All-American, while Debbie Lytle was an AWSI All-American in 1982.

TERPS LEAD THE NATION

At the end of the season, Maryland led the nation in two statistical categories. Its 40.0 shooting percentage from three-point range, three percentage points under the school record, and its 11.9 rebounding margin were both the best in the country.

The Terps also ranked among the top five in the nation in four other categories. Its 83.3 points per game were second in the nation, while also posting the fifth-best scoring margin (+18.3 ppg) and field goal shooting percentage (47.8 percent). Maryland's 89.5 percent winning percentage was also the fourth-best in the nation.

25 YEARS: THEN AND NOW

The NCAA celebrated 25 years of women's championships during the 2005-06 campaign and Maryland was the only team to reach the 2006 Final Four to have also played in the inaugural Final Four in 1982.

Under the guidance of legendary coach Chris Weller, the Terrapins reached the first-ever NCAA Tournament Final Four, along with Tennessee, Louisiana Tech and Cheyney. Current Terrapins head coach Brenda Frese was about to celebrate her 12th birthday the year the first-ever NCAA women's championship took place.

LANGHORNE VOTED ALBUQUERQUE REGION MOP

After leading the Terps past defending NCAA Champion Baylor in the Sweet Sixteen and squeaking by Utah in the Elite Eight, Crystal Langhorne was selected the regional's Most Outstanding Player, after posting double-doubles in both games.

Freshman Kristi Toliver was selected to the all-region tournament team after delivering an inspirational performance in the Elite Eight, scoring a career-high 28 points on 6-of-9 three pointers, also career bests, despite a stomach virus. She also had six assists and just one turnover in the contest.

OVERTIME IS OUR TIME

The most intriguing statistic of the 2005-06 campaign were the six overtime games the Terrapins played in during the course of the 38-game season. Even more intriguing was that Maryland, who had previously only played two overtime games in a season and never won more than one, won all six of those contests, all of them coming on the road or at a neutral site. Among the most memorable overtime victories of the season were the 98-95 win at Carmichael Auditorium over then-No. 1 North Carolina; the 75-65 victory over Utah in the Elite Eight; and the 78-75 win over ACC-rival Duke in the final game of the season to claim the NCAA crown.

COLEMAN NABS ACC ROOKIE OF THE YEAR HONORS

Earning 61 of 70 votes, Marissa Coleman was named the ACC's Rookie of the Year, the second-straight year a Terrapin has earned the award. Coleman was a five-time Rookie of the Week, tying the school record set the season before by Crystal Langhorne. She was the second-highest scoring rookie in the league, while leading all freshmen in rebounding and blocks. She was also ranked in seven different statistical categories among all players in the ACC.

Coleman was the fifth player in school history to earn ACC Rookie of the Year nods. Following in the footsteps of 2005 Rookie of the Year Crystal Langhorne, it was the first time since 1987 and 1988 that a pair of Terps garnered the award in back-to-back years.

THREE TERPS NAMED TO ALL-ACC SQUAD

For the first time in 17 years, three Terrapins were selected to the All-ACC squad, led by sophomore Crystal Langhorne's first team selection. Junior Shay Doron and freshman Marissa Coleman were both named to the second team. Coleman was the only freshman to be named All-ACC.

Langhorne garnered all-conference nods for the second-straight year, while Doron became the second player in school history to earn All-ACC honors three times. Coleman is only the third freshman in the program to be awarded all-conference distinction, following Doron and Langhorne's appointment during their freshmen campaigns.

Coleman was also selected to the ACC All-Freshman team, along with teammate Kristi Toliver, making it the fourth-consecutive year at least one Terrapin has been named to the team.

TERPS SET RECORD FOR WINS; BREAK OTHER MARKS

With its second-round NCAA Tournament victory, the Terps won their school-record 30th win of the season, en route to setting the mark at 34 wins. The 34 victories are the most by a Maryland basketball team, men's or women's.

Maryland also set numerous marks during its record-breaking season. The 38 games played were the most ever, while its 15 home victories also topped the previous record of 13 set in 1987-88. The Terps broke the school's free throw mark (690), free throws attempted (924) and free throw percentage (.747), topping marks set more than a decade ago. Its 540 three-point attempts are the most ever in a season, so were its 216 three-pointers made. Its 195 rejections in 2005-06 crushed the old record of 155 set 26 years ago.

The oldest record the team broke was the school's scoring record. The Terrapins netted over 3,000 points for the first time in school history (3,166), breaking a 28-year old mark.

LANGHORNE A WOODEN AWARD FINALIST

Sophomore Crystal Langhorne was one of 18 student-athletes who were placed on the final voting ballot for the John R. Wooden Award, presented to the nation's top women's collegiate player, and the Wooden All-American team.

Langhorne was a preseason and midseason candidate before being placed on the final ballot. Junior Shay Doron was also a preseason candidate for the award. Both were also selected candidates for the Wade Trophy Award, the Women's Basketball Coaches Association national player of the year.

MILLENNIUM MOMENTS

Two Terrapins reached the 1,000-point plateau this season, each breaking records. Junior Shay Doron was the fastest Terp to score 1,000 points, reaching the mark in her 64th-career game (vs. Xavier) and breaking the previous mark of 68 games set by Deanna Tate in 1988. Doron was also the 21st player to reach the milestone, the first Terp since 2003 to join the exclusive club.

The 22nd member came just 26 games later when teammate sophomore Crystal Langhorne netted her 1,000th-career point. Langhorne also broke Doron's record of fastest Terp to reach the milestone, needing only 60 games herself.

Doron and Langhorne are two of only three players in school history to register two 500-point seasons in their careers. Only Vicky Bullett was the only other Terrapin to accomplish that feat.

#14/14 MARYLAND 107
SIENA 66

ALUMNI RECREATION CENTER

LOUNDONVILLE, N.Y. - Six players scored in double figures as the 14th-ranked Maryland women's basketball team opened the 2005-06 season with a 107-66 win at Siena Loudonville, N.Y. The Terps' national player of the year candidate Shay Doron led a high-powered offense, which shot 65 percent from the field, with 23 points.

Maryland (1-0) had two decisive runs in the first half to put the game away early. Ahead 30-16, the Terps scored the next 12 points, capped by a three-point play by sophomore Laura Harper, to jump ahead, 42-16, with 7:35 remaining in the half. A 9-2 run a minute later gave Maryland its biggest lead of the half, 54-22.

Siena (0-1), who was hosting its first ACC team in program history, tried to put together a run of its own before the end of the half, scoring nine of the next 11 points beginning with a couple of free throws from Naimah Abdullah with 2:49 remaining. However, freshman Kristi Toliver silenced the crowd, knocking down her second three-pointer with just six seconds left on the clock, to make the halftime score, 59-31.

In the second half, the Terps continued to dominate the game, on offense and on the boards. Maryland outrebounded the Saints, 42-20, on the evening. The Saints also cooled off in the second half. After shooting 45.8 percent from the floor in the first 20 minutes, they shot just 32 percent in the second.

The Terrapin lead never dipped below 24 points after the first half and remained above 31 after a freshman Marissa Coleman layup with 9:22 left in the game, 80-49. Maryland broke 100 points on the first of two free throws by senior Charmaine Carr with just over two minutes to go in the contest.

The Terps, who shot just 32 percent from behind the three-point arc last season, were 6-for-10 on three pointers in the first half, finishing the game shooting 58.3 percent on 7-for-12 shooting.

Doron was 9-for-14 from the field, including 2-for-4 on three pointers. She also had a team-leading seven assists and four steals. Doron needs just 10 points to reach 1,000 for her career.

Toliver had six assists to go with her 16 points. Coleman netted 13 of her 16 points in the second period and had a game-high three blocks in the game.

National player of the year candidate sophomore Crystal Langhorne had just four points up until the final five minutes of the game, and got hot down the stretch, tallying nine more to finish with 13 points to go with 10 rebounds.

Sophomore Ashleigh Newman, who was making her first-career start, and Harper each added 11 to round out the double-digit scorers. Newman connected on both her three-point attempts.

Every dressed Terrapin scored in the game. The 107 points scored is the most since a 107-51 win over Towson on Nov. 30, 1991.

#14/14 MARYLAND 93
XAVIER 68

NOVEMBER 20, 2005
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Shay Doron scored 23 points to lead No. 14 Maryland to a 93-68 victory over Xavier in its home opener at Comcast Center.

A national player of the year candidate, Doron scored her 1,000th point for the Terrapins (2-0), reaching the milestone faster than any player in school history. She needed only 64 games to reach the milestone, becoming the 21st player in school history to surpass the mark.

After missing five of their first seven shots, Xavier (1-1) took a 10-6 lead. A 19-0 run erased the Musketeers' lead as they went more than six minutes without a field goal, shooting just 39 percent from the floor in the first half.

With eight minutes remaining in the first half, Doron hit a three-pointer to record her 1,000th point, making the score 30-14. Freshman Marissa Coleman's jumper with 3:20 left in the period, pushed the lead to 20 points for the first time, 41-21. The teams traded baskets in the final minutes of the half and the Terps led, 48-29, at the break.

Maryland was even more dominant in the second half, improving its shooting to 57 percent. A 13-5 run to open the period gave the Terps their biggest lead of the game, 63-34. The Musketeers could not get within 20 points thereafter.

Doron finished 8-of-15 from the floor, including 3-of-5 from 3-point range. She also had a team-high of seven boards, tying with sophomore Laura Harper. Kristi Toliver added 16 points, freshman Marissa Coleman had 14, and sophomore Crystal Langhorne, also a national player of the year candidate, added 13.

Suntana Granderson had 20 points and Tara Boothe added 16 for Xavier (1-1).

Doron needed only 64 games for 1,000 points, becoming the 21st player to surpass the mark at Maryland. Dena Tate scored 1,000 points in her 68th game.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. - Marissa Coleman scored 21 points to lead 10th-ranked Maryland to an 88-50 victory over Gonzaga in the opening game of the Paradise Jam women's tournament Thursday night.

Crystal Langhorne added 13 points for the Terrapins (3-0), who had four players reach double figures in scoring for the third-consecutive game. Maryland outrebounded Gonzaga 54-31.

"It started with our rebounding," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "You're going to see a different scorer every night with all the weapons we have."

Katy Ridenour scored 13 points for the Bulldogs (1-2), who were held to just 34 percent shooting from the field.

Maryland ran out to a quick 9-0 lead before the Bulldogs got on the scoreboard. The Terps were too much for Gonzaga to handle. With 12:11 remaining in the period, the Terps were in front, 26-5. Their lead never dipped below 20 points after freshman Kristi Toliver completed a three-point play with 7:41 to go, making the score 31-11.

Maryland closed out the half on a 9-0 run to claim its biggest lead of the period, 48-19, while limiting the Bulldogs to 33.3 percent shooting in the half. Sophomore Crystal Langhorne and Coleman each had 12 points to lead all scorers at the break.

The teams traded baskets for the early part of the second half, until the Terps used an 8-3 run to grab a 71-35 lead with 10:45 to go. The Zags cut the deficit to 29 at 7:46, only to see Maryland score 17 of the game's final 25 points for the 88-50 victory.

Maryland outscored Gonzaga in the paint, 44-20, and scored 27 second-chance points, compared to only four for the Bulldogs.

Sophomore Laura Harper also had 12 points, while Toliver added 10. Sophomore Jade Perry was one point short of a double-double, grabbing a career-high tying 10 boards to go with nine points.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. - Junior Shay Doron scored 16 points and No. 10 Maryland women's basketball used a second-half surge to post a 75-61 upset victory over No. 9 Michigan State in the Paradise Jam.

Doron made three 3-pointers and sparked a balanced attack for Maryland that saw five Terrapins score in double figures. Sophomore Ashleigh Newman scored 14 points, freshman Marissa Coleman had 13, while sophomores Laura Harper and Crystal Langhorne added 10 each. Langhorne also grabbed a game-high 12 boards.

In the first meeting between the teams, 2005 NCAA Finalist Michigan State (2-2) took control early on. After the Terps scored the first point of the game, the Spartans scored the next eight-straight to take an 8-1 lead, forcing Terrapin head coach Brenda Frese to call a timeout at 18:36.

Coming out of the timeout, Doron knocked down a three-pointer to cut the lead in half. But MSU answered with a 10-3 run, going in front, 18-7, with 10:17 remaining in the half. Despite shooting 13 percent in the first 10 minutes, connecting on 2-of-15 shots from the floor, the Terps stuck with their shots and eventually they began to fall.

For the rest of the half, Maryland went 6-for-12 from the field, outscoring the Spartans 22-15, cutting the deficit to 33-29 at the break. In the final seconds, Doron drove down the lane and dished off to sophomore Jade Perry on the baseline and Perry hit a layup to cap the scoring heading into the locker room.

Maryland scored the first four points of the second half to take its first lead, 34-33, since leading, 1-0, to start the game. However, MSU had a 5-0 run to take a 40-34 lead. After a Newman fastbreak layup to cut the deficit to two, Coleman scored Maryland's next 11 points to tie the game at 49-49.

Michigan State came to within one point twice, at 54-53 and then again at 56-55, but a 9-0 run over two minutes gave Maryland its first double-digit cushion, 65-55, with 4:14 remaining in the game. Maryland's final bucket of the game was a sophomore Crystal Langhorne layup at 4:14. But the Terps went 10-for-10 from the charity stripe down the stretch to seal the victory.

The Terps shot 55.6 percent from the field in the second half and 42.6 percent for the game. Harper also had four blocks.

MSU's Bowen led all scorers with 21 points, while Liz Shimek was the only other Spartan in double figures, adding 10.

Maryland improved to 4-0, its best start since 2002-03 and only the third time since 1992-93 the Terps have started the season winning their first four games of the season.

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, V.I. (AP) - Tennessee underestimated Maryland at the Paradise Jam, and the Terps nearly made the Lady Vols pay.

Candace Parker and Alexis Hornbuckle each scored 19 points and No. 2 Tennessee rallied to an 80-75 victory over No. 10 Maryland in the championship game of the Paradise Jam.

"They're a really great team. I don't think we knew what we were getting into," Hornbuckle said. "I knew it was going to be a shootout."

Sidney Spencer added 13 points and Parker finished with eight rebounds for the Lady Vols (5-0).

Crystal Langhorne had 19 points and 11 rebounds for Maryland (4-1). Marissa Coleman scored 16 and sophomore Laura Harper finished with 13 points and 12 rebounds.

"I think we match up really well against them. We'd love to see them again," Langhorne said.

Coleman scored to give Maryland a 42-41 lead in the second half, and the Terps moved out to a 51-46 advantage when Harper made two free throws with 13:10 left. Ashleigh Newman added a foul shot to extend the lead.

The Lady Vols led by three points with two minutes remaining and tried to run down the clock. Coleman was called for an over-and-back violation after a steal, and Wiley-Gatewood was whistled for a foul after a Tennessee miss, putting Kristi Toliver at the line.

Toliver made both free throws, pulling the Terps within 76-75.

Spencer stole the inbounds pass and was fouled. She made both free throws and Maryland's ensuing inbounds pass flew into the stands with two seconds left.

Parker was fouled on the following inbounds pass and made two free throws to help close out the win.

"I'm really proud of our heart. We had a great defensive effort," she said. "We're going to build on this. We're still very young. Having 24 turnovers is just way too much."

GAME 6
#9/9 MARYLAND 118
APPALACHIAN STATE 59
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Eager to atone for a dismal performance in Maryland's only defeat of the season, Jade Perry found redemption against Appalachian State.

Perry had 16 points and a career-high 16 rebounds and the No. 9 Terrapins used a 66-point first half to cruise to a 118-59 victory.

Perry had no points, one rebound, four turnovers and three fouls over 17 minutes in Maryland's 80-75 loss to Tennessee (No. 1 ESPN/USA Today, No. 2 AP) on Nov. 26. The 6-foot-1 sophomore stewed about it for days and then literally rebounded with a vengeance against the smaller Mountaineers.

"I had to get the job done, because in my mind I felt that I let the team down versus Tennessee," Perry said. "Tonight, I just had to go out and step my game up."

With Perry leading the way, the Terrapins' transition game repeatedly burned Appalachian State (1-3) for easy baskets. Maryland shot 60 percent and outrebounded the Mountaineers 54-23.

"Jade came ready to play from the tip. She was extremely aggressive, and I thought her rebounding is what really sparked us," Terps coach Brenda Frese said. "Gosh, it's fun to watch Jade play when she plays that aggressively. That's how she needs to play every game."

Shay Doron scored 20 points and Crystal Langhorne, Marissa Coleman and Kristi Toliver had 17 apiece for the Terrapins (5-1), who had six players score in double figures.

"A lot of people are seeing our firepower, how many different weapons we have. It's exciting, because of how unselfishly we're playing," Frese said.

It was Maryland's most lopsided win since a 102-31 rout of Maryland-Eastern Shore in December 1993.

Greteya Kelley led Appalachian State with 17 points. It was the Mountaineers' worst loss since a 113-54 drubbing by Tennessee in the 1999 NCAA Tournament.

The only suspense in the second half was whether Maryland would break the school record of 121 points, set against Drexel in 1992. Although the Terrapins fell tantalizingly short, they broke the 100-point barrier for the second time this season after going 88 straight games without doing so.

The 66-point first half was six points short of the school record.

"Obviously the future is extremely bright," Frese said. "I just love where we're at with this team -- the chemistry, and how hard we're playing."

GAME 7
#9/9 MARYLAND 102
MOUNT ST. MARY'S 53
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland's Crystal Langhorne had several dominant games on her way to being named the 2005 Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year.

Langhorne hadn't completely dominated an opponent this season Maryland's game against Mount St. Mary's, when the 6-foot-2 sophomore hit her first 10 shots.

Langhorne scored a season-high 30 points on 14-of-15 shooting, Jade Perry had her second consecutive double-double and No. 9 Maryland coasted to a 102-53 win over the Mountaineers.

For awhile, it looked like Langhorne couldn't miss.

Perry added a career-high 23 points and 13 rebounds, Shay Doron scored 18 and Ashleigh Newman scored 10 in helping the Terrapins (6-1) score at least 100 points for the second straight game and third time this season. Maryland has had at least four players score in double figures in every game this year.

Doron said when Langhorne is on her game, the rest of the Terps' job is easy.

"Just throw it up. She goes to get it," Doron said. "That's basically what we do."

Brianna Gauthier paced the Mountaineers (2-3) with 14 points in her team's most lopsided defeat in school history.

Langhorne averaged 14.2 points over the Terrapins' first six games and her previous season-high was 17. But the sophomore surpassed that total in the first half alone.

Langhorne scored 21 of her 30 points during the opening half. She didn't miss a shot until one minute elapsed in the second half.

"She's one of the most dominant post players out there in the country," said Terps coach Brenda Frese. "I love the fact that she's playing with a lot of confidence right now, but doing it so unselfishly - not forcing shots, you see her shooting percentage, she's a catalyst for us defensively and she continues to keep making us a better team."

Maryland jumped out to an 11-0 lead 2:57 into the game on its way to building a 56-22 halftime advantage. The Terps converted 63.2 percent of their shots in the half and 56.2 percent overall.

The Terps' defense had another good showing, limiting Mount St. Mary's to 25.3 percent shooting while outrebounding the Mountaineers 58-39.

MONMOUTH 55
DECEMBER 7, 2005
BOYLAN GYMNASIUM

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. (AP) - Marissa Coleman had 22 points and nine rebounds to lead No. 9 Maryland to an 88-55 victory over Monmouth.

Crystal Langhorne added 20 points for the Terrapins (7-1), while Shay Doron had 17 points and 10 assists despite missing nearly nine minutes in the second half because of foul trouble.

The teams traded baskets early before Monmouth (1-5) jumped to a 9-4 lead and kept the defensive pressure on Maryland. However, the Hawks soon had trouble hitting their shots while Langhorne - who scored eight of the Terrapins first 10 points and finished 9-of-12 from the field - found her touch.

Dwyer returned about five minutes later, but Maryland continued its surge and held a 38-27 halftime lead. The Terrapins pulled away in the second half shooting 63 percent from the field and outscoring the Hawks 50-28.

Brianne Edwards led Monmouth with 12 points, while Dwyer and LaKia Barber each had nine.

GAME 9

#9/8 MARYLAND 92
ARIZONA 67

DECEMBER 11, 2005
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Arizona sagged inside and Maryland shot from long range with uncanny accuracy. When the Wildcats shifted to a zone defense, the Terrapins gladly took layups.

As a result, No. 9 Maryland shot 62 percent and cruised to its fourth straight victory, 92-67.

Marissa Coleman scored 20 points and Crystal Langhorne had 15 points and 11 rebounds for the Terrapins (8-1). Maryland went 8-for-9 from 3-point range in building a 46-27 halftime lead, then scored 30 of its 46 second-half points in the paint.

"That's just a very good basketball team," Arizona coach Joan Bonvicini said. "They've got a lot of different weapons inside and out, and they play good defense, too. They really don't have a lot of weaknesses."

Shay Doron had 12 points and 13 assists for the Terrapins, who had six players score in double figures. Coleman, a freshman forward, went 8-for-11 from floor and 4-for-5 from 3-point range.

Maryland closed the first half with a 17-0 run to take control, then increased the margin to 26 points with 12 minutes left.

The Wildcats played in the NCAA tournament in each of the last three seasons, but they're still trying to recover from the unexpected loss of senior center Shawntinice Polk, who died in September of a pulmonary blood clot.

Arizona has dedicated its season to the three-time All-Pac 10 star, who averaged 16 points and 10 rebounds as a three-year starter. She was remembered during a moment of silence at halftime.

The Terrapins led 29-27 before Langhorne sank four straight free throws, Kristi Toliver, who played just three minutes, hit a 3-pointer (her only basket of the game) and Laura Harper scored on a putback. Coleman and Ashleigh Newman followed with successive baskets from beyond the arc, and Harper concluded the spree with a layup.

Maryland limited the Wildcats to 31 percent shooting (11-for-35) in the first half and seemingly couldn't miss from outside the arc.

"Shooting 89 percent on 3-pointers, that's crazy," Frese said. "They were doubling down low, and that led to a lot of kickouts and open shots."

The Terrapins were 10-for-14 over the first 12 minutes, but Arizona stayed close by forcing eight turnovers and getting 14 points from Jones.

Maryland led 27-20 before Jones hit a 3-pointer and Che Oh added four points in a 7-2 spurt that cut the margin to two points. But the Wildcats went scoreless over the final six minutes of the half.

GAME 10

#8/8 MARYLAND 69
COPPIN STATE 39

COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Marissa Coleman scored 13 points and Laura Harper and Shay Doron each had 12 to lead Maryland past Coppin State 69-38.

The Terrapins (9-1) outscored their in-state foes 23-4 at the free throw line and finished with a 40-19 rebounding advantage, but coach Brenda Frese was more concerned about Maryland's 21 turnovers and a lackluster opening 20 minutes during which her team gave the ball away 12 times.

"I was disappointed in our first half," Frese said. "I thought we could have come out and played more inspired, a lot harder. I think their minds were on final exams versus getting prepared for this game. We have to do a much better job taking care of the basketball."

Unwilling to run with the more athletic Terps, Coppin State (1-4) reduced the pace to a crawl. The strategy worked for 17 minutes - it was 24-16 late in the first half - but Maryland ended with an 11-0 run to go up by 19 at the break.

At halftime, the Terrapins resolved to lift their play.

The Eagles closed to 38-22 early in the second half before Maryland scored 13 straight points to go up 51-22 with 11:32 left. Five players scored in the run, led by Harper with four points.

That assured Maryland of improving to 11-0 against Coppin State in the one-sided rivalry that began in 1991.

Rashida Suber scored 16 points and Sherrie Tucker had 10 for the Eagles, off to their worst start in seven seasons under coach Derek Brown. Coppin State lost seven seniors from a team that reached the NCAA tournament last season.

The Terrapins limited Coppin State to 29 percent shooting in the first half and compiled a 24-6 rebounding edge, but couldn't pull away.

Maryland scored the game's first five points, then followed two baskets by Suber with a 12-0 run for a 17-4 lead. Coleman scored five points in the spree and Jade Perry had two field goals.

The Terps made only two baskets over the next nine minutes, but the Eagles could only get within eight points. Maryland then got a 3-pointer from Coleman, four foul shots by Doron and baskets by Harper and Charmaine Carr to go up 35-16 at halftime.

GAME 11

#6/6 MARYLAND 70
GEORGE MASON 33

DECEMBER 22, 2005
PATRIOT CENTER

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) - Maryland's defense forced 18 straight misses. That was more than enough to decide a scrappy, physical game.

Beginning late in the first half, the Terrapins' tenacious man-to-man held George Mason without a field goal for more than 10 minutes. The Patriots shot just 20 percent for the game in sixth-ranked Maryland's 70-33 victory.

"It wasn't the prettiest game that I've ever seen," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "They were very scrappy, very aggressive. Our defense held us in there."

Ashleigh Newman matched a career-high with 21 points, and Marissa Coleman added 20 points and 10 rebounds for the Terrapins (10-1), who have won six straight and are outscoring opponents by an average of 32 points.

Moni Akintunde scored nine points to lead the Patriots (4-5).

"I thought we did a pretty good job defensively to hold them to 70, which is probably 25 under their average," George Mason coach Debbie Taneyhill said. "But unfortunately they held us to 30 under our average. We have to do better scoring."

Maryland had a 35-19 lead at halftime. They've won all three meetings with their D.C.-area neighbors from the Colonial Athletic Association.

George Mason (4-5) has a victory over another Atlantic Coast Conference school, Miami, this season, but the Patriots could only stay with the Terrapins for about 14 minutes.

Jessica Smith's layup cut Maryland's lead to 22-17 with 6:45 remaining, but Newman scored seven points in a 13-2 half-ending run in which the Terrapins' defense repeatedly kept George Mason from getting decent looks at the basket.

Newman had 16 points on 6-for-9 shooting at the half, doubling the output of any George Mason player. The Patriots shot 28 percent in the first half, with Jen Daniels, their only starting senior, missing all four of her attempts.

George Mason missed its first 10 shots of the second half, and Maryland quickly pushed the lead to 20.

Turnovers remain a concern for the Terrapins, who committed 19 as they played again without point guard Kristi Toliver. Toliver has missed three of the last four games with a leg injury.

#6/6 MARYLAND 94
CENTRAL CONN. 57
TERRAPIN CLASSIC
DECEMBER 29, 2005
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - With so many scoring options, it's difficult to stop No. 6 Maryland when five of those options score in double figures as they did on the first night of the Terrapin Classic.

Shay Doron scored 26 points and Crystal Langhorne added 22 points and 10 rebounds to lead the Terrapins past Central Connecticut State 94-57 in front of 3,085 at Comcast Center.

Langhorne shot 9 for 9 from the field, tying the school's single-game record for field goal percentage (minimum eight shots). Marissa Coleman added 15 points and six assists for Maryland (11-1) while Ashleigh Newman and Laura Harper scored 10 apiece.

"I was getting some open looks," said Doron. "With the way our team is this year, you really can't key on any one individual, so it was my night to step up."

The Terps, who won their seventh straight, will face Furman in the championship game of the Terrapin Classic. Furman advanced with an 86-81 overtime win over Maryland-Eastern Shore earlier in the evening.

Gabriella Guegbelet had 24 points and seven rebounds, and Kim Boone added 17 points for the Blue Devils (2-7), who lost their sixth straight.

"We really challenged them in terms of our communication and our focus," said Maryland coach Brenda Frese. "We reduced our turnovers in this game, but I think we still need to be a little bit more efficient in what we're doing."

The Terps put Central Connecticut State away almost as soon as the game started. After trailing 2-0, Maryland went on a 23-0 run over the next five minutes, 48 seconds to assume control.

The Terps played strong defensively, especially during the deciding opening minutes when CCSU went 9-13 between its first and second field goals. During that time, Maryland built a 28-4 advantage en route to a 51-16 lead at the half, which was more than enough for the win.

"I think we came out really well," Langhorne said. "We were intense, played great defense and I think we did a good job offensively, too." Langhorne had her second perfect shooting night of the season. She went 6 for 6 against Appalachian State on Dec. 1 and has converted 68.6 percent of her field goals this season.

The sophomore forward said she wasn't that impressed with her 9 for 9 performance because she was called for traveling several times.

"I consider those kind of like misses," said Langhorne. "I wasn't really paying attention."

The Maryland defense limited the Blue Devils to 39.3 percent from the field and scored 27 points off 17 turnovers.

FURMAN 58
TERRAPIN CLASSIC
DECEMBER 30, 2005
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Shay Doron did a decent job of distributing the basketball to her teammates against Furman, as evidenced by her six assists.

She was even better when keeping the ball to herself.

Doron scored 18 of her 26 points in the decisive first half, and Maryland cruised to its eighth straight victory, 92-58 in the championship game of the Terrapin Classic.

Doron moved from shooting guard to the point while the Terrapins wait for freshman guard Kristi Toliver to return from a leg injury. During this two-day tournament, however, Doron reminded everyone that she can still put the ball in the basket.

Doron was 7-for-9 against Furman in the first half, including 2-for-3 from 3-point range. The junior made all her shots in the second half, sinking two 3-pointers and going 2-for-2 at the foul line.

"Obviously as a point guard, I want to get my teammates the ball first. But I can still score, and I had a lot of opportunities to do that," said Doron, voted the tournament's most valuable player after her second straight 26-point performance.

Furman tried everything to negate Doron. Nothing worked.

"She's a great player. Really skilled," Furman coach Sam Dixon said. "We tried to stop her from driving, and she would pull up and knock them down."

Crystal Langhorne scored 17 and Marissa Coleman added 16 for the Terrapins (12-1), who limited the Lady Paladins to 8-for-28 shooting while building a 44-20 halftime lead.

Five players scored in double figures for the Terrapins, whose lone loss this season was against No. 1 Tennessee on Nov. 26. Since then, Maryland hasn't won by fewer than 25 points during its eight-game winning streak.

"I'm really proud of this team. It's tremendous to see the depth and unselfishness," coach Brenda Frese said.

Chrissy Phelps scored 10 points for Furman (5-6).

"They're a very, very good defensive team," Dixon said of Maryland. "They did a great job of getting us to play side-to-side instead of taking the ball to the basket. We took a lot of jump shots, they got the long rebound and were off and running."

The Lady Paladins closed to 51-31 early in the second half before Doron scored five points in an 11-0 spree that assured the Terrapins another title in their own holiday tournament. Maryland has won the Terrapin Classic seven times in eight tries.

Furman had three shot-clock violations, seven turnovers and was outrebounded 33-17 in the first half.

#6/6 MARYLAND 82
MANHATTAN 49

JANUARY 2, 2006
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Jade Perry helped No.6 Maryland overcome a lackluster first half in its final non-conference tuneup for the Atlantic Coast Conference season.

Perry had 17 points and 10 rebounds, and the Terrapins routed Manhattan 82-49 for their ninth straight victory.

Shay Doron scored 16 points for the Terrapins (12-1), Ashleigh Newman had 14, and Marissa Coleman and Laura Harper added 12 apiece.

Maryland won easily despite shooting a season-low 36.2 percent, including 25 percent in the first half.

Kymesha Alston scored 13 points for the Jaspers (4-7), who lost their third straight.

Manhattan's Gabrielle Cottrell hit a 3-pointer to open the second half, pulling the Jaspers within six, but the Terps outscored Manhattan 49-25 in the last 20 minutes for their 12th win by 20-plus points.

The Jaspers trailed 33-24 at halftime, largely because they effectively double-teamed Maryland's post players in the first half.

"That was going to be our best chance at not really letting Crystal Langhorne and Jade go off on the post," said Manhattan coach Myndi Hill. "I thought we did a tremendous job in the first half with it."

But the second half was the problem.

Perry, who played with a cold, netted 10 of her 17 points during the second half, helping the Terps pull away.

"I felt that my shot was coming back," Perry said. "I was very confident with my game because in the past couple games, I struggled a lot."

GAME 15

#6/6 MARYLAND 67
#19/21 BOSTON COLLEGE 64 (OT)

CONTE FORUM

BOSTON (AP) - Maryland coach Brenda Frese didn't hesitate to draw up a play for Shay Doron despite the guard's poor shooting night.

Doron nailed a 3-pointer and a pair of free throws in the final minute of overtime and Crystal Langhorne scored 24 points to lift No. 6 Maryland to a 67-64 win over Boston College, spoiling the Eagles' inaugural Atlantic Coast Conference game.

Doron was just 1-for-7 from the floor in the second half when she tried to work a pick-and-roll with Langhorne before stepping back and hitting a clutch three from the top of the key with 59 seconds to play.

"Shay wants to take the big shot and always has for us," Frese said. "We called the timeout. We just felt like we had to go to Shay or Crystal."

Laura Harper added 15 points, Doron finished with 13 points and eight assists and Langhorne had 13 rebounds for the Terrapins (14-1, 1-0), who have won 10 straight games.

Doron finished 4-for-13 from the floor, but was 2-for-4 on 3-pointers.

Kindyll Dorsey paced the Eagles (12-3, 0-1) with 18 points, Brooke Queenan had 17 and Aja Parham 11. It snapped BC's six-game winning streak and was its first loss since a 66-61 overtime defeat against then-No. 4 Ohio State on Dec. 3.

Dorsey's 3-pointer gave BC a 60-59 lead 30 seconds into overtime, but Langhorne hit a short jumper and nailed one of two free throws to put Maryland ahead for good, 62-60, with 2:57 left.

"Maryland is very, very good," BC coach Cathy Inglese said. "They have a lot of weapons. They're good from the inside, but they can make the outside shots."

Eagles guard Sarah Marshall, who covered Doron most of the night, was right on her when she hit the key shot.

The Eagles committed 15 turnovers in the first half, but didn't have any in the second half or OT.

Queenan fired a long 3-point attempt over the basket and the teams scrambled for the rebound as the horn sounded.

The game was tied five times early in the second half before Maryland grabbed a 51-48 edge on Doron's three with 7:10 to play. The Terrapins held off the Eagles until Queenan nailed a foul-line jumper to give BC a 56-55 lead with 2:18 remaining.

Harper's basket inside gave the Terrapins a 57-56 lead with 1:58 to go, but Queenan hit the first of two free throws to tie it with 1:07 left.

Maryland had three shots on one possession in the final 36 seconds, but failed to get a basket after grabbing two offense rebounds. Marissa Coleman missed a jumper and a drive and Doron missed a jumper from the foul line. Queenan's desperate attempt from about five feet behind the 3-point line missed badly as the horn sounded, sending it to overtime.

Maryland held BC to 29 percent shooting in the first half (8-for-28) and led 29-23 at the break

#2/2 DUKE 86
#6/6 MARYLAND 68

JANUARY 8, 2006
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK,Md. (AP) - In a matchup between the two highest-scoring teams in NCAA women's basketball, the difference was the defense of No. 2 Duke.

Lindsey Harding and Chante Black each scored 19 points, and the unbeaten Blue Devils forced 24 turnovers in rolling past No. 6 Maryland 86-68 Sunday.

Duke (14-0, 3-0 Atlantic Coast Conference) built a 17-point halftime lead and cruised to its 13th straight win over the Terrapins. Monique Currie scored 18 for the Blue Devils, off to the second-best start in school history.

Maryland (14-2, 1-1) never got closer than nine points in the second half. It was 68-58 before Duke used a 10-0 run to erase any doubt.

Kristi Toliver and Shay Doron had 12 points apiece for the Terrapins, who fell well below their season average of 87.5 points. Maryland had won 10 straight since its only other loss, 80-75 against top-ranked Tennessee in November.

The game drew 16,097 fans, the second-largest crowd to watch an ACC women's game behind the 17,243 at last year's Duke-Maryland matchup. The Terrapins have hosted the four biggest crowds in conference history, three of them against Duke.

The Blue Devils played the spoiler's role. The nation's top-scoring team shot 58 percent, going 19-for-31 in the decisive first half.

Alison Bales, Duke's leading rebounder, picked up her third foul with just more than eight minutes elapsed. The 6-foot-7 center did not return until the second half and finished with seven points and four rebounds.

Even though Bales played only three minutes in the first half, the Blue Devils forced 14 turnovers and got 15 points from Harding in taking a 48-31 lead. Maryland made its first five shots, then went 6-for-19 in falling behind by double-digits for only the second time this season.

Despite committing five turnovers in the opening five minutes, Maryland led 11-10 before Duke went on an 8-0 run to take the lead for good.

After Bales left, the Terrapins closed to 22-20. But Harding scored nine points on 4-for-4 shooting during a 14-3 spurt that made it 36-23.

GAME 17
#6/6 MARYLAND 75
FLORIDA STATE 57
JANUARY 16, 2006
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK,Md. (AP) - Crystal Langhorne waited eight days for the opportunity to redeem herself for an uncharacteristic performance underneath the basket.

Langhorne had 19 rebounds and 12 points, Kristi Toliver scored 16, and the sixth-ranked Terrapins breezed to a 75-57 victory over the Seminoles.

Held without a rebound in a loss to No. 2 Duke, Langhorne recorded her 26th career double-double, the most of any active player in the ACC.

"I was really trying to rebound a lot more," Langhorne. "I really thought about it because I never had zero rebounds in my life. That was kind of a low for me."

"Whew, Maryland rebounded today. I know Crystal didn't have a rebound against Duke, and I thought she came out and tried to prove she's a rebounder," Florida State coach Sue Semrau said. "I thought we did a great job defensively, holding her to four shots, but she just helped the team in other ways. I'm very impressed with that."

Jade Perry and Laura Harper each scored 11 for the Terrapins (15-2, 2-1), who have won 11 of 12. Led by Langhorne, Maryland finished with a 47-26 rebounding advantage.

"I was really happy about our play today," Terrapins coach Brenda Frese said. "I thought we really took some ownership on the boards."

Britany Miller led Florida State (10-6, 1-2) with 16 points. The Seminoles, who have lost three of four, shot 38 percent from the floor and were 1-for-11 from 3-point range.

FSU closed to 50-36 early in the second half before baskets by Ashleigh Newman, Harper and Shay Doron upped the margin to 20. After the Seminoles cut the gap to 14, Toliver made a 3-pointer and Langhorne sank three foul shots in a 7-0 spurt that made it 63-42 with just over eight minutes left.

Miller had 12 points before halftime on 6-for-8 shooting, but the Terrapins outrebounded the Seminoles 26-11 and shot 50 percent in taking a 44-28 lead.

#6/6 MARYLAND 84
VIRGINIA 74
UNIVERSITY HALL

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) - The escape was a relief. The response was definitive.

Sixth-ranked Maryland survived two shots at victory for Virginia at the end of regulation, then scored the first 10 points in overtime in an 84-74 victory.

"Just a heck of a game," Terrapins head coach Brenda Frese said. "I'm proud of the fact that we hung in there. We showed a lot of poise in the last five minutes (of regulation). It was a wild finish. We know how difficult it is to win here."

Maryland's Marissa Coleman scored five of her 22 points in overtime and Crystal Langhorne had four in the extra session.

Coleman was 6-for-9 from the field, including 3-for-3 on 3-pointers, had eight rebounds, three assists and two steals. Langhorne, who scored 17, shot 7-for-9.

The Terrapins (16-2, 3-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) also got 15 points from Ashleigh Newman, while Kristi Toliver, a two-time Group AAAP state player of the year from Harrisonburg, had 12 points and 10 assists.

Virginia (12-4, 1-3) didn't score for the first 3:12 of the 5-minute overtime. When Takisha Granberry broke the drought with the first of two free throws, it was too little too late.

Siedah Williams added 16 points and Lyndra Littles had 13 for Virginia, which shot 53 percent in the second half, but was just 1-for-8 in overtime.

Maryland shot 53.7 percent from the field, including 9-for-16 from three-point range. Virginia made four of 10 3-pointers and shot 44.6 percent overall.

Toliver scored 17 points, including 10 straight for Maryland down the stretch, and the sixth-ranked Terrapins beat No. 25 Virginia Tech, 68-62.

Toliver's 3-pointer broke a 54-all tie with 4:03 to play. She also hit four free throws in the final 90 seconds to help Maryland (17-2, 4-1 ACC) win its third straight.

"I just went out and tried to stay confident with my shot because I struggled in the first half," Toliver said. "Somebody needed to step up. Tonight it was just me."

Virginia Tech coach Beth Dunkenberger knew that Toliver would be a challenge to the Hokies (14-4, 1-4).

Crystal Langhorne had a game-high 21 points and 12 rebounds for the Terps. Langhorne's presence inside forced Virginia Tech to double-cover her, leaving Toliver open.

"Kristi always steps up and wants to take big shots," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "You can't just key on one person on this team. That makes us a lot tougher to defend."

Marissa Coleman added nine points and 11 rebounds for Maryland.

Dawn Chriss led the Hokies with 19 points. Kerri Gardin added 15 points and 10 rebounds, and Kirby Copeland added 13 points and Carrie Mason nine.

#6/6 MARYLAND 79
GEORGIA TECH 71

COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland stumbled through a lackluster first half against Georgia Tech, shooting 35 percent and getting beaten on the boards before heading to the locker room with a precarious lead.

Langhorne scored 19 of her 23 points in the second half, teaming with Doron to help the No. 6 Terrapins pull away to a 79-71 victory.

Doron scored 18 points, including 16 after halftime, and Marissa Coleman had 18 points and 10 rebounds for Maryland (18-2, 5-1 Atlantic Coast Conference).

Langhorne and Doron combined for eight points in a 10-0 run that put Maryland up by 14 with 7:45 remaining. The margin reached 16 points before the Yellow Jackets fought back, but they couldn't complete the comeback.

Stephanie Higgs led Georgia Tech with 19 points, Chioma Nnamaka had 15 and Kasha Terry 14. It was the sixth loss in seven games for the Yellow Jackets (12-7, 1-5), who took consolation in making this one close.

Nnamaka, the team's second-leading scorer, picked up three fouls in the opening 12 minutes and got her fourth with 13:44 left. The sophomore guard was held scoreless in the first half and played only 13 minutes.

A 3-pointer by Nnamaka got Georgia Tech to 69-67, but Langhorne answered with two free throws and a layup to put the Terps up by six with 2:22 left.

"Crystal did a great job of stepping up in the second half," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said.

The Terrapins forced the Yellow Jackets to miss their first four shots of the second half and used six straight free throws by Langhorne to go up 40-30. After April Phillips scored on a drive for Georgia Tech, Doron sank a 3-pointer to boost the margin to 12 points.

But the Yellow Jackets weren't done. A three-point play by Higgs started a 7-0 run that made it 43-39, and a putback by Terry minutes later got Georgia Tech to 49-45.

Doron then made a free throw and missed the second, but Langhorne got the rebound and scored for a seven-point lead. Doron followed with a 3-pointer and a short jumper off the glass, and Coleman finished the 10-point run with two foul shots.

WAKE FOREST 70 (OT)

JANUARY 29, 2006
JOEL COLISEUM

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) - Winning games in overtime has become common for No. 6 Maryland.

The Terrapins got a career-high 34 points from Crystal Langhorne, including 10 in the extra period, to beat pesky Wake Forest, 79-70.

Maryland (19-2, 6-1 Atlantic Coast Conference) improved to 3-0 in overtime games this season, with all three victories coming on the road during the month of January.

"It was a heck of a game on both ends," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "Not that they need to keep putting our coaches through this, but we really believe in ourselves. Obviously, both teams hate to lose, but we were able to stay focused and remain inspired."

A lot of that was thanks to Langhorne, who also pulled down 14 rebounds to help the Terrapins win their fifth straight league game, equaling a team record set during the 2000-2001 season.

The sophomore hit 14-of-22 from the field, including 4-of-7 in overtime. She also went 6-of-8 from the free-throw line.

"My teammates were just getting me the ball in the right places," Langhorne said. "Sometimes they were doubling up on me, but we worked on that in practice. We were really spread out, so that gave me a lot of room to work."

Maryland needed its inside game as it struggled to put away the Demon Deacons (10-9, 2-5), who suffered their third straight loss and second against a ranked team in the last three days. No. 3 North Carolina beat them 91-57 on Friday night.

The Terrapins, who lead the ACC in 3-point percentage at 45.5 percent, hit just 1-of-9 (11.1 percent) against Wake Forest. They made up for that with a 52-34 rebounding advantage, including a 20-11 margin in offensive rebounds and a 46-24 edge in scoring in the paint.

Wake Forest made up for its lack of inside play with its outside shooting. Cotelia Bond-Young scored 29 points, hitting six 3-pointers as the Demon Deacons went 9-of-23 from beyond the arc.

The Terrapins led 30-27 at the half and were up by nine points with less than 8 minutes to play, but Wake Forest rallied to lead twice in the closing minutes of regulation. The Demon Deacons' last lead came when Groves made a pair of free throws to make it 64-62 with 1:08 left.

In the extra period, the two sides swapped the lead three times and tied the game three more times before Langhorne converted a pair of 3-point plays over a 40-second span late in the period to put Maryland in the lead to stay.

#6/6 Maryland 88, Miami 77
February 1, 2006
Comcast Center

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Shay Doron regained her shooting touch at just the right time for No. 6 Maryland, scoring inside and from long range to help the Terrapins earn their sixth straight victory.

Doron tallied 26 points, making all four of her 3-point attempts, and capped a late run that carried Maryland past Miami, 88-77.

Laura Harper added 19 points and nine rebounds, and Crystal Langhorne had 10 points and 12 rebounds for the Terrapins, whose six-game winning streak in the Atlantic Coast Conference is their longest since a 10-game run in 1992.

Team

Maryland (20-2, 7-1) finished with a 54-34 rebounding advantage and forced the Hurricanes to miss 51 shots, but Doron was even more of a factor, according to Miami coach Katie Meier.

"Shay's the one who killed us," Meier said. "She did such a nice job moving around on the court. You look at her shot chart, and she was just scoring from all different spots on the floor. That was hard for us to handle."

Undaunted by a 2-for-12 shooting performance in the Terrapins' last game at Wake Forest, a 2-for-9 effort at Virginia Tech on Jan. 23 and a 1-for-7 outing at Virginia on Jan. 20, Doron went 8-for-14 against Miami in matching her season high in points.

"It feels good, but the win feels better," said Doron, a 5-foot-9 junior guard. "I haven't been playing well but we've been winning. It would have felt a lot worse if we had been losing. I'm going to keep shooting, regardless of how bad I shot in the past. I'm going to stay confident."

Marissa Coleman had 10 points and 12 rebounds for Maryland, which overcame 22 turnovers by limiting the Hurricanes to 39 percent shooting (31-for-82).

The Terrapins led 67-66 before Coleman made two free throws to spark an 8-0 run that made it 75-66 with 3:58 left. Doron ended the spree with a 3-pointer from the corner.

Renee Taylor scored 21 points on 8-for-27 shooting, and Tamara James had 16 for the Hurricanes (14-7, 4-4). But she missed 10 of 16 shots, was in foul trouble for much of the game and played only 21 minutes.

Held to four points before halftime, James scored five in the opening two minutes of the second half during a 16-3 run that lifted the Hurricanes into a tie at 44. Maryland regained the lead on a three-point play by Coleman, and minutes later two free throws by Harper and a basket by Jade Perry put the Terrapins up 58-52.

GAME 23
#6/6 MARYLAND 85
VIRGINIA 71
FEBRUARY 5, 2006
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Maryland played near-perfect basketball during a 21-1 run in which the Terrapins turned a close game against Virginia into a potential rout.

"Everyone was hitting 3s, playing defense, getting shots. It was so exciting," forward Laura Harper said. "That's the kind of basketball you want to play the entire game."

Unfortunately for the No. 6 Terrapins, they couldn't sustain the pace. After building a 21-point lead in the first half, Maryland weathered a spirited Virginia comeback before managing an 85-71 victory.

The Cavaliers (13-8, 2-7) used a 12-6 spurt to close to 72-66 before the Terrapins made nine free throws in the final four minutes to pull away. Maryland went 27-for-34 at the line compared to 11-for-15 for the Cavaliers.

Shay Doron scored 23 points, Harper had 17 points and 10 rebounds, and Kristi Toliver scored 16 for the Terrapins (21-2, 8-1 Atlantic Coast Conference). The victory assured Maryland a winning record in the ACC for the first time since 1996-97.

The 21-1 run made it 38-17, but it took a late surge to ensure the Terrapins their first regular-season sweep of the Cavaliers since 1989.

"Against ranked opponents you can't let a lead slip like that," Harper said. "I think it's something we need to focus on, but overall I'm not concerned."

Down 43-28 at halftime, the Cavaliers got three baskets from Sardin and a 3-pointer from Zoll in an 11-4 run that made it 47-39. Minutes later, Takisha Granberry scored four straight points to make it 54-47 with 12:20 left.

Then, after Maryland went up 63-51, the Cavaliers mounted one final comeback bid.

There were five ties in the opening seven minutes before Toliver hit a 3-pointer to put Maryland up for good at 15-12.

It was 17-16 before Doron hit a 3-pointer, received an assist on a Crystal Langhorne layup and sank a jumper from the foul line. After a Virginia timeout, Toliver scored from beyond the arc and Doron made two foul shots before a free throw by Granberry interrupted the 13-point run.

Marissa Coleman then hit a long-range jumper to spark a nine-point spurt that made it 38-17. Granberry answered with a runner in the lane to end a Virginia field-goal drought that lasted nearly seven minutes.

#6/6 MARYLAND 98
#1/1 NO. CAROLINA 95 (OT)
FEBRUARY 9, 2006
CARMICHAEL AUDITORIUM

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) - Maybe the Atlantic Coast Conference is more than just a two-team race after all.

Ashleigh Newman hit a long desperation 3-pointer at the buzzer to force overtime while Marissa Coleman scored five straight points afterward to help sixth-ranked Maryland beat No. 1 North Carolina 98-95, ending the Tar Heels' 30-game home winning streak.

Crystal Langhorne scored 25 points to lead the Terrapins (22-2, 9-1 Atlantic Coast Conference), who rallied from a 14-point deficit in the final 12 minutes of regulation to win here for the first time in a decade.

And for a team hovering in the shadows of the top-ranked Tar Heels (22-1, 9-1) and No. 2 Duke, it was clear just how big this win was for Brenda Frese's club.

"Our program took a step forward tonight," the coach said.

Newman's shot was just a small part of a back-and-forth contest that had a little bit of everything. The Tar Heels appeared they would remain the nation's last unbeaten team in Division I -- men's or women's -- despite a shaky shooting day from leading scorer Ivory Latta, thanks to the play of Camille Little and Erlana Larkins.

Little had 24 points, including 12 on 6-for-6 shooting after Latta picked up her third foul in the first half. Larkins had 17 points, nine rebounds, seven assists, five blocks and three steals in 32 minutes, but didn't play the overtime due to leg cramps.

Latta finished with 21 points on 7-for-20 shooting with five turnovers.

But the Terrapins -- whose only losses came against Tennessee and Duke -- improved to 4-0 in overtime with a balanced effort in the extra period. Langhorne also had five points in the extra period, while Kristi Toliver hit a pair of free throws with 17.2 seconds left to make it a three-point game.

"That's why you play a tough nonconference schedule," Frese said. "The challenge for us is to continue to get better. I love where this team is at and the confidence we're playing with."

For the Tar Heels, there was plenty to dwell on afterward. In a physical game in which the teams combined for 50 fouls and 55 free throws, the Tar Heels shot just 13-for-27 at the line and committed 25 turnovers. That list included a missed free throw by Latta -- an 88-percent free-throw shooter -- with 15.4 seconds left in regulation that allowed Newman, 1-for-9 from the field on the night, to tie it at the horn.

"You have to deal with what's dealt to you," North Carolina coach Sylvia Hatchell said. "If we had made some foul shots, we wouldn't even be talking about (a loss)."

With North Carolina leading 83-80 in the final seconds of regulation, Shay Doron missed a straightaway 3-pointer that Larkins appeared to rebound. But Larkins fell forward along the baseline and the ball went bouncing back inbounds.

Newman raced to the ball several feet beyond the arc on the right side and hurled a shot that swished through the net as the horn sounded, setting off a brief celebration by the Terps. North Carolina players watched in stunned silence.

Coleman put the Terps ahead to stay with a putback on the first play of overtime for an 85-83 lead. She then followed with a desperation 3-pointer that topped Newman's heave, spinning to her right while being closely defended by La'Tangela Atkinson and tossing the ball toward the backboard with the shot clock set to expire.

Still, the Tar Heels closed to within 96-95 on a banked-in 3-pointer from Latta with 27.1 seconds left. Then, after a pair of free throws by Toliver, the Tar Heels missed three 3s in the final seconds to tie it -- the last coming when Latta missed at the horn, setting off an oncourt celebration for the Terrapins and leaving Latta sitting on the court in shock.

"She pump-faked, my hands were up, all ball hit my hand," Doron said. "That was it."

GAME 25

#1/2 DUKE 90
#4/6 MARYLAND 80

CAMERON INDOOR STADIUM

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) - Monique Currie scored a career-high 31 points a game after finishing with only two, Mistie Williams added 14 points and 10 rebounds and the Blue Devils (No. 2 ESPN/USA Today; No. 1 AP) pulled away to beat Maryland (No. 6 ESPN/USA Today; No. 4 AP), 90-80.

The Blue Devils won their 14th in a row in the series and denied the Terrapins a rare Tobacco Road double. In their last game, the Terps handed the Tar Heels their first loss of the season in overtime.

This time, there were no such dramatics for Maryland (22-3, 9-2).

The last of nine ties came at 59 when Marissa Coleman swished a jumper with 6:45 remaining, and Foley pushed the Blue Devils ahead for good with a 3-pointer. The margin still was only two about three minutes later before Duke took over.

Foley drove for another basket to start an 11-0 run, with Currie adding five of the points. That made it 82-69 with about a minute left, and the Terrapins were finally done.

Coleman had 20 points and teammate Kristi Toliver added a season-high 19 for Maryland.

"This is just going to help us," Frese said. "Our kids are disappointed. They believed they could come in here and win this game."

Harding left with the Blue Devils ahead 48-46. Smith, a sophomore who spent her entire first year at point, moved back over to run the offense and defense, and she finished with three assists against only one turnover.

It hardly appeared this would be the outcome during the first half, when the Terrapins moved ahead by 10 points -- Duke's largest deficit of the season. They eventually settled for a 41-33 lead at the break, and the margin still was eight before the Blue Devils rallied.

"At that point, I felt that Maryland was shooting lights out," Goestenkors said. "They were playing great basketball. So I felt like -- I was hoping -- they wouldn't be able to shoot that way for the entire game. We just needed to crank our defense up a notch."

Currie worked inside to tie it 46-46, and Williams converted two free throws to put them ahead. Maryland stormed back to take its final lead on Doron's only three of the game, and Coleman had that basket to tie it for the last time.

GAME 26

#4/4 MARYLAND 86
#18/20 BOSTON COLLEGE 59

FEBRUARY 16, 2006
COMCAST CENTER

Shay Doron scored 22 points and Crystal Langhorne added 16 to lead fourth-ranked Maryland to an 86-59 win over Boston College (No. 20 ESPN/USA Today, No. 18 AP).

Laura Harper added 14 points and 10 rebounds, and Marissa Coleman had 15 rebounds for the Terps (23-3, 10-2) in their third straight game against a ranked opponent. Maryland improved to 5-3 against Top 25 teams this season, giving the Terps their most wins over ranked foes in a single year since 1992-93.

"We dominated," Frese said. "Watching film on Boston College, I was worried coming into this game. Boston College is a team that usually doesn't make a lot of mistakes."

Aja Parham scored 15 points for Boston College (19-7, 6-5), which allowed a season-high for points. The Eagles were leading the conference in scoring defense at 55.4 points per game entering the contest.

Kathrin Ress had 10 points and 10 rebounds for the Eagles, who had won seven straight.

Maryland scored the first 11 points of the game and slowly added to their lead on their way to a 42-23 halftime advantage.

The Terps then opened the second half with a 13-0 run to stretch the lead to 55-23. Harper keyed the surge with six points.

"I like where we're at. We're playing with a ton of confidence and just moving the ball, being so unselfish," Frese said. "And as long as we can continue to do that on the offensive end and defend them on the defensive end, great things are going to continue to happen for this team."

Doron responded well after shooting 2-for-12 against No. 1 Duke on Monday. She made nine of 16 shots as Maryland handed BC its worst defeat since March 5, 2002, a 96-54 loss to Connecticut.

#4/4 MARYLAND 65
NC STATE 57

FEBRUARY 19, 2006
REYNOLDS COLISEUM

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - Maryland showed North Carolina State it could play a little defense, too.

Four Maryland starters hit double digits while holding NC State to its worst shooting of the year, and the No. 4 Terrapins won, 65-57.

"There's not a player for Maryland who's not a threat," NC State coach Kay Yow said. "We had our hands full. They are one of the most talented teams in the country, and we'll see soon if they may be the very best."

The Wolfpack (16-10, 6-7 Atlantic Coast Conference) shot 32.8 percent. Meanwhile, Shay Doron was the only Maryland starter who failed to reach double digits. But she added nine assists, helping Maryland (24-3, 11-2) record 22 in all.

"Shay was the key out there," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "She proved she can do so much more than score."

Laura Harper led Maryland with a season-high 20 points. Working inside for all her baskets, she went 8-for-10 from the field.

"Shay was showing she had confidence in me," said Harper, who came in averaging less than 11 points a game. "She kept passing me the ball and I just wanted to go up strong and finish."

Crystal Langhorne added 14 and Kristi Toliver 13 for Maryland, which won its second straight since a 90-80 loss Feb. 13 at No. 1 Duke. Marissa Coleman had 10 points and 10 rebounds.

Maryland hit five of its first six shots and never trailed. The Terrapins held NC State to 6-for-27 shooting in the first half -- the Wolfpack's worst half (22.2 percent) against an ACC team -- and 21-of-64 for the game.

The Terrapins broke NC State's back with a 17-4 run midway through the second half and never let the Wolfpack closer than 12 points in the final 10 minutes.

"When we're focused, we can go on runs like that," Frese said. "In the second half, we started making more unselfish passes and made things happen."

The game was named Hoops For Hope at NC State, with part of the proceeds dedicated to breast cancer research in North Carolina.

But Yow, a cancer survivor, wished the Wolfpack could have done more to stop the Terrapins' inside game, especially Coleman.

"She's the one person I wish we had done a little more to stop," Yow said. "She's the one that hurt us the most and that's where we lost the battle."

CLEMSON 63
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - Crystal Langhorne had just reached the 1,000-point mark quicker than any player in Maryland history, and she was the last one to find out.

After Langhorne reached the milestone in the first half of fourth-ranked Maryland's 89-63 victory over Clemson, the public address announcer trumpeted the feat and teammate Jade Perry shouted, "Congratulations!"

"What are you talking about?" Langhorne replied.

Langhorne finished with 16 points and 10 rebounds, and Maryland (25-3, 12-2 Atlantic Coast Conference) never trailed in handing Clemson its ninth straight defeat.

Langhorne, a 6-foot-2 sophomore center, has scored 1,010 points in 60 career games. She became the 22nd woman to reach the 1,000-point plateau at Maryland, and she did it four games sooner than the previous record-holder, junior guard Shay Doron.

Coming into the game, Langhorne had no idea how close she was to 1,000. Coach Brenda Frese made certain to keep it that way.

"I never want to tell a player when they're getting close to any record because I think sometimes you press too much and start thinking about it," Frese said. "I wanted it to be a nice surprise. Surprises are good. And it worked out that way."

Langhorne was presented a souvenir basketball to mark the occasion, but she appeared more delighted with the victory.

"That really doesn't matter," she said of her accomplishment. "We're winning games right now, we're fourth in the nation, and we're doing really well. That's what I care about."

The victory was the school-record 14th at home this season for the Terrapins, who completed the league schedule assured of a second-place tie -- their best finish in the ACC since 1993.

Marissa Coleman scored 19 of her 20 points in the first half, when Maryland built a 20-point lead.

Amanda Frist scored 16 points and D'Lesha Lloyd added 12 for Clemson (8-19, 2-11).

Coleman made her first five 3-point tries, and Maryland forced 14 turnovers in taking a 44-29 halftime lead.

"We played like a very unaware basketball team," first-year coach Cristy McKinney said. "We knew Marissa was a threat with her shooting. Look at her stats. She shoots the 3 great. We just weren't aware, and to not be aware of a player that good is scary."

Coleman scored a layup off the opening tip, starting a run of 11 straight points by Maryland. Clemson committed five turnovers and missed three shots before Frist finally got the Tigers on the board.

It was 17-12 before Langhorne made a three-point play. She then topped the 1,000-point mark with a layup with 12:56 left in the half.

"To be able to score 1,000 points says a lot about her, her work ethic and the tremendous teammates she has around her," Frese said. "It couldn't happen to a better, more classy person."

Minutes later, Doron scored on a drive, Langhorne made a layup and Coleman sank a 3-pointer for a 13-point lead. After Clemson closed to 29-22, Coleman connected three times from beyond the arc during a 13-0 run that put the Terps up 42-22.

NORTHERN COLORADO 53
COMCAST CENTER

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) - The defense was tested, their confidence augmented and their starters rested.

If Maryland coach Brenda Frese wanted the ideal tuneup for the postseason, she couldn't have asked for a better opponent than Northern Colorado.

Kristi Toliver scored 17 points, Crystal Langhorne had 16 and No. 4 Maryland completed the winningest regular season in school history by breezing to an 89-53 victory Sunday.

Laura Harper scored 14 points, Shay Doron added 13 points and Marissa Coleman had 10 rebounds for the Terrapins (26-3), who have won four straight and 12 of 13.

Having already shattered the school record for wins in the regular season (23, in 1988-89), Maryland now has its sights on breaking the single-season mark for total victories (29).

"Like we told them in the locker room, I'm extremely proud of this team and what they've been able to accomplish," Frese said. "Everyone's playing their best, playing with confidence and hoping to build on the momentum that we've got here."

Before playing in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament as the No. 3 seed behind North Carolina and Duke, the Terrapins first had to get past Northern Colorado, which tested the Maryland defense by firing up 29 3-pointers (making eight).

"I think it's great preparation for the NCAA tournament," Frese said. "It was great for our post players, because they were often defending smaller players that can really shoot it. That's the kind of practice we needed."

"We played with a lot of energy and really worked to try to get better," she said. "It's nice to be able to play everyone, have everyone contribute and get some rest heading into the ACC tournament."

"They're just too big and strong for us, especially inside," Bears coach Ron Vlasin said. "We just tried to pack the inside, keeping Langhorne and company from banging us to death."

After going up 49-28 at the break, the Terrapins needed less than seven minutes of the second half to double the margin. Toliver, with 11 points, was the main force behind a 26-4 blitz that made it 75-32.

Maryland then coasted to the finish, putting the lid on a remarkable regular season.

ACC TOURNAMENT
MARCH 3, 2006
GREENSBORO COLISEUM

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Maryland's freshmen stepped up just in time to save the fourth-ranked Terrapins from a shocking exit from the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Marissa Coleman assisted on the go-ahead 3-pointer and scored her team's last six points to help the Terrapins hold off Georgia Tech 71-66 in the quarterfinals, a close call for a team hoping to earn a No. 1 seed in the NCAA tournament.

Coleman finished with 13 points for Maryland (27-3), which advanced to the semifinals to face No. 2 Duke. Crystal Langhorne led the Terrapins with 20 points while freshman Kristi Toliver scored eight and hit that go-ahead 3 with 1:26 left.

Stephanie Higgs scored 17 of her 22 points in the second half for the Yellow Jackets (14-15), the tournament's 11th seed that put quite a scare in the Terrapins.

"We've got a lot of heart," Coleman said. "We were never scared of losing the game, because I know how we are and how we're going to pull together as a team. We came together and won the game."

It hardly seemed like a matchup built for drama as the Terrapins entered the tournament with their highest seed (third) in 13 years. Maryland leads the ACC with eight tournament titles -- though none since 1989 -- while Georgia Tech had lost 26 of 32 tournament games coming.

But nine of the past 11 meetings had been decided by fewer than 10 points. That included the teams' only meeting this season, in which Georgia Tech cut a 16-point second-half deficit to two before falling 79-71 on the road.

With the score tied, Coleman -- who was named the ACC's rookie of the year -- found Toliver in the left corner for a 3-pointer and a 65-62 lead.

Then, after Higgs knocked down a pair of free throws, Coleman worked her way into the lane and hit a contested jumper to make it 67-64 with 34.8 seconds to play. The Yellow Jackets got no closer, with Coleman going 4-for-4 at the line to seal it in the final seconds.

It was just part of a clutch late-game performance by the Terrapins. Coleman also hit two free throws to tie the game with 3:32 left, Ashleigh Newman buried a 3 for a 60-59 lead while Langhorne hit a spinning shot in the lane for a 62-60 lead with 1:57 left.

Langhorne led the Terrapins by going 8-for-9 and pulling down seven rebounds. But she went just 4-for-9 at the foul line, part of Maryland's 17-for-26 day that nearly cost them against the Yellow Jackets.

ACC TOURNAMENT
GREENSBORO COLISEUM

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Crystal Langhorne couldn't contain her excitement. Finally, after losing 14 games in a row to Duke, the fourth-ranked Maryland Terrapins had won.

Laura Harper had 17 points, Marissa Coleman added 16 points and 13 rebounds and Maryland beat the second-ranked Blue Devils 78-70 in the semifinals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

Kristi Toliver also scored 16 points for the Terrapins (28-3), who advanced to the final against No. 1 North Carolina. Earlier this season, they gave the Tar Heels their only loss in a thrilling game that was decided in overtime.

"It definitely gives us confidence, but at the same time, they want revenge," Harper said. "So we're going to have to play an even better game than we did at their place."

Perhaps that matchup can satisfy fans who were hoping to see North Carolina and Duke decide the ACC championship for the fifth consecutive year in the heart of Tobacco Road. This will be Maryland's first chance at a tournament title since losing to Virginia 106-103 in triple overtime 13 years ago.

"I love it when the media continues to hype up the Carolina schools," Frese said. "This team is motivated by any challenge you give them, and they definitely responded."

Monique Currie finished with 18 points but couldn't stop the Blue Devils (26-3) from failing to advance to the final for the first time in seven years. Lindsey Harding had 16 points.

Maryland appeared in command after a 15-4 run early in the second half, and Coleman was the spark. She had a 3-pointer and another jumper before dribbling through a double team for a twirling layup. When Jade Perry wrided in another basket, the Terrapins led 53-38.

"I was just trying to help my team out," said Coleman, named the ACC's top freshman. "I just wanted to get that win. It was a very exciting environment."

Slowly, Duke came back, with a switch from its man-to-man defense to a zone trap. Toliver, Maryland's freshman point guard, had trouble finding open teammates to start the offense, and five straight possessions ended in turnovers.

The Blue Devils turned almost all of them into points on the other end. Currie made a 3, then converted a steal by Wanisha Smith into a three-point play.

And Duke wasn't finished. Smith got a nifty feed from Harding on an in-bounds play to make it 16 unanswered points, and suddenly, the Terrapins trailed 54-53.

Crystal Langhorne quickly put them back in front, Harper had five points in less than 60 seconds and Langhorne worked free again in the paint to help Maryland resume control. The Blue Devils only got as close as six points down the stretch.

The outcome might have been enough to give the Terrapins a No. 1 seed in the NCAA tournament, while Duke can only hope the committee rewards it for another stellar regular season.

"I think that speaks for itself," Frese said of winning. "It's up to the selection committee. But I said this going into the tournament: the biggest thing we can do is win, and put yourself in the championship game. It speaks volumes for this team."

ACC TOURNAMENT
MARCH 5, 2006
GREENSBORO COLISEUM

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) - Top-ranked North Carolina avenged its only loss and won another Atlantic Coast Conference tournament championship.

Erlana Larkins scored a career-high 26 points and had 12 rebounds to lead the Tar Heels past fourth-ranked Maryland 91-80, giving the program its seventh ACC tournament title and likely locking up a No. 1 seed for the NCAA tournament.

Ivory Latta also scored 26 to earn MVP honors for North Carolina (29-1), which has won seven straight games since a 98-95 overtime home loss to the Terrapins last month.

Jade Perry scored 18 points to lead five players in double figures for the Terrapins (28-4), who were seeking an unprecedented ninth title but first since 1989.

Maryland had won the past two meetings, including last month's thriller when the Terps rallied from a 14-point second-half deficit and forced the extra period on a buzzer-beating 3-pointer by Ashleigh Newman.

This time, North Carolina led nearly the entire way and didn't let up. The Tar Heels led by seven at halftime and increased that margin to as many as 13 points. Maryland got as close as three points late, but Larkins and Latta kept the Tar Heels from repeating that first collapse.

Larkins, a first-team all-ACC pick, went 9-for-14 from the field and 8-for-10 from the line. Latta, who was named the ACC's player of the year, also had four assists to go with five steals.

They got plenty of help from Camille Little, who scored 11 of her 13 points in the second half after getting into early foul trouble, and La'Tangela Atkinson, who finished with 10 points and six rebounds.

North Carolina also helped itself by controlling the glass, taking a 48-37 rebounding advantage and hitting 21 of 27 free throws - both areas that hurt the Tar Heels in the loss. North Carolina shot 13-for-27 at the line and was outrebounded 49-48 in the first meeting.

It was a disappointing end to the tournament for the Terrapins, who beat second-ranked Duke in the semifinals to end a 14-game losing streak in the series. Avenging a pair of losses to the Blue Devils to go with an earlier win against the Tar Heels might have put the Terrapins in position to earn a top seed in the NCAAs.

North Carolina led 42-35 at halftime and kept the pressure on by forcing the ball inside throughout the second half. The Tar Heels scored all 32 of their second-half points in the paint.

SACRED HEART 54

NCAA TOURNAMENT
MARCH 19, 2006
BRYCE JORDAN CENTER

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) - Maryland led Sacred Heart from the opening tip, dominated the paint and had too much talent for the Pioneers.

Just what you'd expect from a No. 2 seed in the first round of the NCAA tournament.

The Terrapins, bypassed for a top seed when the tournament matchups were announced last week despite a No. 3 national ranking, pulled away in the second half of a 95-54 rout of 15th-seeded Sacred Heart.

"Yeah, they're a national contender. I mean, there's not many weaknesses there," Sacred Heart coach Ed Swanson said. "They play like a hungry team."

Jade Perry led Maryland with 20 points and 10 rebounds and Laura Harper added 16 points and 13 boards. The Terps outrebounded the Pioneers 57-26, and outscored Sacred Heart in the paint 56-14.

"We wanted to come out and bring some energy on the defensive end by coming out in the press," Maryland coach Brenda Frese said. "We were able to get some turnovers early. We also had the size advantage inside."

Maryland has had an impressive run already this year, defeating top-ranked North Carolina and No. 4 Duke. But the Terps had to settle for a No. 2 seed for the tourney, something that Frese expressed some displeasure about after the brackets were announced last week.

The Terps have stuck with a "happy-to-be-here" attitude while in State College. Against the Pioneers, they let their play do the talking.

The loss ended Sacred Heart's 10-game winning streak. After winning the Northeast Conference to secure the school's first NCAA tournament bid, Swanson knew his team would be decided underdogs against Maryland.

Amanda Pape, the Northeast Conference's player of the year, led Sacred Heart with 16 points but shot just 5-of-16 from the field. Pape hit a one-handed 3-pointer just before the halftime buzzer expired that got the Pioneers to within 47-33, pumping her fist and slapping a low-five with teammate as they headed to the locker room with big grins.

The pesky Pioneers had whittled down a 20-point lead to the 14-point halftime deficit, raising hopes among their vocal contingent of fans who shouted "S-H-U!" during the game.

Toliver ended any thoughts of a second-half comeback after hitting a 3-pointer to start the half. Shay Doron hit an acrobatic layup, falling down as the ball swished through the net with 14:22 left to give the Terps a 66-35 lead.

GAME 34

#3/3 MARYLAND 81
ST. JOHN'S 74

NCAA TOURNAMENT
MARCH 21, 2006
BRYCE JORDAN CENTER

STATE COLLGE, Pa. (AP) - With the game on the line, Maryland coach Brenda Frese decided to get the ball inside to star post player Crystal Langhorne. She came through in the clutch.

Langhorne capped a 30-point effort with two late inside baskets and St. John's went cold from the field as the second-seeded Terps held off No. 7 seed St. John's 81-74 in the second round of the NCAA tournament.

"My teammates were getting me the ball in the right places and our coaches just trusted me to get the ball inside because of we had size advantage," Langhorne said.

Langhorne, who also had nine rebounds, helped third-ranked Terps (30-4) advance to a matchup with defending champion Baylor in the Albuquerque Regional semifinals after losing in the second round the previous two seasons.

However, the win didn't come easy.

Dominated in the post, St. John's (22-8) stayed step-for-step with Maryland behind quick guard Kia Wright's great play and outside shooting by Tara Walker and Greeba Barlow. Maryland outrebounded St. John's 46-31.

"I felt we gave all that we had," said Wright, a 5-foot-8 guard who finished with 23 points and nine assists. "They're big, they're strong, but that doesn't speak for what we can do against them."

St. John's also took advantage of sloppy play by the Terps, scoring 24 points off 20 turnovers.

This exchange was typical: Up 65-64 with 6:52 left, Maryland's Marissa Coleman threw away a pass in the paint intended for Langhorne. Wright came down and connected with Tiina Sten for a turnaround jumper to put St. John's ahead.

Wright finished with 23 points and nine assists, while Walker had 17 and Barlow 16.

The teams then traded leads or stayed within a point or two of each other. Kristi Toliver, who struggled from outside for most the game, hit a 16-footer, before Walker followed with a 3-pointer over a defender to give the Red Storm back the lead.

Maryland took over from there. Toliver connected with Langhorne for a layup inside. Langhorne then converted an offensive rebound to give the Terps a 76-72 lead, and Shay Doron hit two free throws.

St. John's couldn't hit another field goal, getting their final points on two foul shots by Wright, and Maryland put the game away with three more free throws over the last 8 seconds.

"We just found a way to win. We continued to rebound with them and stayed together as a team," a relieved Maryland coach Brenda Frese said after the game.

Maryland used their size advantage throughout the game with 6-foot-4 Laura Harper and Langhorne connecting on easy baskets inside to give the Terps and early 13-6 lead. St. John's tallest starters were 6-1 Angela Clark and 6-foot Danielle Chambers, and they were often overwhelmed under the basket.

But the Terps were error-prone in the first half, when they had 14 of their turnovers. The team looked disjointed at times with teammates exchanging looks of frustration after failing to connect on plays.

Down 35-34 at halftime, St. John's coach Kim Barnes Arico tried to maintain her team's confidence.

"I told them to just keep doing what you're doing," she said. "We weren't playing perfect, but were still in the game at that point."

Despite the loss, it's been a great year at resurgent St. John's, which was 3-24 three seasons ago. The Red Storm have improved steadily since then, and their first-round win on Sunday over California was the school's first NCAA victory since 1988.

"We had it in our mind that we could come out here and play with them, no matter who their tallest player is or how quick their quickest guard is," Wright said.

The Terps have had just as a dramatic improvement under Frese, who was 10-18 in her first season as coach in 2002-03. Now the Terps have surpassed their best win total since 1988-89, when they went to the Final Four.

NCAA TOURNAMENT SWEET SIXTEEN
MARCH 25, 2006
THE PIT

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) - Of the 14 baskets Crystal Langhorne made in another All-America performance, none was bigger than the one that ended the first half.

Langhorne matched a career-high with 34 points and added 15 rebounds, leading No. 2 seeded Maryland to a 82-63 win over the third-seeded Lady Bears to eliminate Sophia Young and the defending national champions from the NCAA tournament.

"They executed the game plan to perfection," Terrapins coach Brenda Frese said. "They were hungry. They wanted to win. They defended and rebounded better. It's just amazing to see that we beat the defending national champions."

Langhorne made the play of the night at the halftime horn, getting a layup that put the Terps ahead 35-28. The Terps inbounded from halfcourt with 0.6 seconds on the clock, throwing all the way to Langhorne underneath.

"I wasn't even going to go to the basket," Langhorne said. "One of the coaches told me to get to the block and I'm saying, 'This isn't going to work.'"

It worked, all right.

Langhorne's layup was reviewed by game officials on video monitors, but it stood. And that sucked much of the momentum from Baylor after the Bears had pulled within 29-28 on a free throw by Rachel Allison with 2:28 remaining in the first half.

"Sure, it took some momentum away," Baylor coach Kim Mulkey-Robertson said. "That kind of deflates your bubble a little bit."

The Terps (31-4) advanced to meet Utah with a berth in the Final Four at stake.

In a matchup of two of the country's best post players, Langhorne, a 6-foot-2 sophomore, outplayed Young from the opening tip. With their star at less than her best, the Bears (26-7) couldn't survive one of their worst shooting nights of the season. Baylor made just 33 percent (25-of-74).

"The effort was there. I believe our kids fought hard," Mulkey-Robertson said. "But I believe in complimenting the opponent when they're better, and I thought Maryland was bigger and better than us."

Young scored 26 points on 11-of-25 shooting but the Big 12's career scoring and rebounding leader - and the Most Valuable Player from last year's Final Four - got off to a horrible 1-for-7 start in her final college game.

Langhorne was everywhere, scoring the game's first eight points as Maryland took control from the tipoff. They jumped to leads of 14-2 and 23-13. She had eight rebounds by the break, scoring three times on putbacks.

"We kept pounding it in to her and they couldn't stop her," said Maryland's Marissa Coleman, who scored 15 points. "Our energy was up from the tip and we intimidated our opponent. We kept it going all game."

Kristi Toliver scored 12 points for the Terps, who start a junior, two sophomores and two freshmen.

Anything seems possible now for Maryland under Frese, who in her fourth year is one game from the program's first Final Four appearance since 1989. The Terps were in the round of 16 for the first time since 1992, and they want more.

"We thought we could win the national championship before every one of our games," Langhorne said. "I think this just gives us more confidence."

Langhorne's talent wasn't exactly classified information, but compared to Young, she's been an under-the-radar star. Langhorne was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection who scored 30 points and made two key late baskets when Maryland beat St. John's in the second round.

"Langhorne was dominant," Mulkey-Robertson said. "We had nobody to guard her."

NCAA TOURNAMENT ELITE EIGHT
MARCH 27, 2006
THE PIT

Not that it cared: The Terrapins knew they were headed to the Final Four once it hit the extra session.

"Overtime is our time. I didn't worry about it," said Kristi Toliver, who made just about everything she put up in second-seeded Maryland's 75-65 overtime victory over No. 5 Utah.

Toliver set career highs with 28 points and six 3-pointers and Crystal Langhorne added 16 points and 10 rebounds, for the Terps, who are returning to the Final Four for the first time since 1989.

"Our confidence in overtime is out of this world," said Laura Harper, who scored six points in OT. "I think everybody on this team knew we'd be flying through the overtime."

The Terrapins (32-4) had a stomach virus circulate around the team during their long weekend in Albuquerque, making things even tougher than they had expected.

"I still feel a little under the weather, since mine just hit me last night," Toliver said. "I think we'll just be extremely happy going to Boston."

Maryland improved to 5-0 in overtime games this season but it was hardly easy, not with the Utes (27-7) putting up a heck of a fight.

Kim Smith had 17 points and 18 rebounds to lead the Mountain West champions, and Shona Thorburn finished with 10 points after missing the last five minutes of the first half to handle an ankle injury.

But Thorburn, a 71 percent free-throw shooter, also missed a golden opportunity. With 7.8 seconds to go in regulation, she made 1-of-2 from the line when she could have sent Utah to its first Final Four ever by making both.

"I had the two biggest free throws of my life," Thorburn said, breaking into tears. "It crossed my mind, that these two free throws could put us in the Final Four."

Instead, it was tied at 63 after 40 minutes and then it was all Maryland in overtime. Harper scored the first two buckets, Shay Doron and Langhorne each added a layup and the Terps raced away.

"It always seems like it's Harper who sparks us in overtime," said Terps coach Brenda Frese, who reached the Final Four in her fourth season at Maryland. "I just felt when we scored the first buckets, we'd be able to open a lead."

The Utes, who rallied from 15-point deficits to win in the first and second rounds and erased a late seven-point margin against Maryland, opened the extra period by missing their first three attempts, and they didn't have enough left to come back again.

"In the end, we did not keep the mass off the glass," Utah coach Elaine Elliott said. "But until the end, we did a very good job."

Langhorne posted her second double-double of the regional, where she was named most outstanding player. She had a career-high 34 points and 15 rebounds in the win over defending NCAA champion Baylor.

Smith couldn't find her range in the first half and missed all six of her attempts. But she finally got going after the break, scoring Utah's first 16 points of the second half.

Toliver, though, was just heating up, too.

She scored 13 of Maryland's first 21 points in the second half, confidently raising her arms after hitting three 3-pointers as the Terps built a 51-44 lead with 11:30 remaining.

"Kristi was hitting. It was back and forth with her and Kim. I thought they both stepped up with a lot of confidence," Frese said.

That's also when Langhorne, held to four first-half points, got involved, and it was Toliver who usually found her underneath for layups. Maryland led 53-44 with 10:25 to go after Langhorne took a feed from Toliver, capping a 9-2 burst.

"K.T. (Toliver) was hitting a lot of shots and that just opened it up for me," Langhorne said.

The Utes pulled to 63-62 after two layups by Morgan Warburton, then had possession with 24.7 seconds to play in regulation. Thorburn drove when the clock reached 10 seconds, drew a foul and, after a Maryland timeout, missed the first but made the second.

GAME 37
#3/3 MARYLAND 81
#1/1 NORTH CAROLINA 70
NCAA FINAL FOUR
APRIL 2, 2006
TD BANKNORTH ARENA

The Terrapins - the only team to beat No. 1 North Carolina this season - one-upped their own, beating the Tar Heels 81-70 in the NCAA women's national semifinal. Now Maryland will play for the first women's basketball title in school history.

And the Terps did it their way: bumping feisty North Carolina point guard Ivory Latta, outmuscling the energetic, uptempo Tar Heels and forcing a halfcourt game that wiped the smiles right off their faces.

In just four years under coach Brenda Frese, Maryland (33-4) has risen to stand among the nation's elite. The 33 wins are the most for any Maryland basketball team - men or women.

"They have the heart of a lion," Frese said. "They believe in each other ... I'm really proud of them. All season long this team has played with a chip on their shoulder. They've got a lot of believers tonight after the performance they put on."

The Terps dominated inside as they have all season. Maryland, which led the nation with an average rebounding margin of more than 12, beat North Carolina on the glass 41-31. The young post players who made that happen - sophomores Crystal Langhorne and Laura Harper - also asserted their strong scoring presence.

Harper had a career-high 24 points and Langhorne scored 23 for the Terps, who had beaten ACC rival North Carolina 98-95 in overtime in the regular season. Carolina avenged that with a 91-80 in the ACC tournament, but the stakes were much higher in this rubber match.

Maryland ran its halfcourt game to near perfection, getting the ball into Langhorne or Harper for basket after basket.

"That's what was working," Frese said. "It was, 'Who could stop who?' We wanted to turn them into a jump-shooting team."

Erlana Larkins led the Tar Heels with 28 points and 10 rebounds. Latta was banged up, knocked down and carried off the court at one point after tweaking her knee while coming down with a pass on the baseline.

She lay in obvious pain for several minutes and was carried of the floor to a standing ovation, then trotted back on the floor 2 minutes later. But she never quite got on track, finishing with 14 points, four assists and made just one of 10 3-pointers.

Maryland was making its first Final Four appearance since 1989 but had the swagger of a team that's been here before. The Terps led by just two at the half, then began to methodically add to the lead.

Kristi Toliver's 3-pointer with eight minutes left gave the Terrapins their largest lead at 63-52. As the ball dropped through, Toliver nodded toward the Maryland fan section and coolly gestured "bring it on."

For a while, it did seem Maryland was ready to run away with it. But Latta and the Heels had one more run left: North Carolina chipped away with an 11-4 run and Latta's two free throws with 1:06 left got the Heels within three at 73-70.

But there was no panic in these Terps. Shay Doron played cat-and-mouse with Latta as she brought the ball upcourt, then dished to a wide-open Coleman for a layup. The Heels would get no closer.

Doron said the game plan was to keep Latta "in front us all the time, make sure we contested every one of her shots and try to keep the ball out of her hand."

Latta, the junior guard who finished second in The Associated Press player of the year balloting, fouled out with .7 seconds remaining when she wrestled Coleman to the ground. She walked off to an ovation and a hug from coach Sylvia Hatchell and watched quietly as the Terps celebrated on the sidelines.

"From the beginning I just wanted to play confident and have fun out there. That's what I wanted to do, just have fun," Harper said.

The Terps went inside early and often to Langhorne and the big sophomore did not disappoint. She was 7-of-8 from the floor, mostly from inside the paint, and had 16 points in the first half to give the Terps a 36-34 lead at the break.

#2/2 DUKE 75 OT
NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP
APRIL 4, 2006
TD BANKNORTH ARENA

BOSTON (AP) - Maryland's players celebrated on the court, laughing and hugging and bouncing up and down.

Never mind that they still had overtime to play.

"Overtime is our time," Terrapins forward Marissa Coleman said. "What a better way to win a national championship than in overtime, which was our time all season long?"

Too young to fear the pressure and too experienced to succumb to it, the Terrapins won their first NCAA women's title, coming back from a 13-point deficit to force overtime and beat Duke 78-75.

Freshman Kristi Toliver hit a 3-pointer at the end of regulation, then made two free throws with 35 seconds left in overtime to give Maryland the decisive lead.

Maryland (34-4) is 6-0 in overtime games this season - the first five on the road and the last in the championship to cap the second-largest comeback in a women's final. It was the first time the title was determined in overtime since Tennessee beat Virginia in 1991.

Toliver's 3-pointer at the end of regulation sent the Terrapins into a frenzy and deflated the Duke bench. But the real party came after Blue Devils guard Jessica Foley's desperation, well-covered 3-point attempt nicked the front of the rim at the overtime buzzer.

Piling up on the court, hugging and bumping chests, the Terrapins reveled in the youth that had been the biggest doubt surrounding them coming into the tournament. Even coach Brenda Frese, who was the coach of the year at 32 and a national champion at 35, is on the precocious side.

"Age is just a number," she said. "When you got kids that believe and they believe in each other and they've got that kind of confidence, you can accomplish anything as a team."

Foley made two free throws with 18 seconds left in regulation to give Duke a 70-67 lead, then Frese called timeout to set up a play.

Toliver brought the ball down and veered to the right. With Duke's Alison Bales in her face and 6.1 seconds left, she lofted the three that would spark the first of the Terps' two celebrations.

"And I even felt her fingertips as I was holding my follow through," Toliver said. "So, she did a great job contesting. I just had a lot of confidence. And I knew I wanted to take the big shot so I just took it."

Duke (31-4) opted not to call a timeout; Lindsey Harding brought the ball down the court and put up a desperation leaner from the right baseline that went off the rim.

"I didn't have to say a word," said the coach, who took over a 10-18 team four years ago after winning the 2002 coach of the year award with Minnesota.

Maryland was a charter member of the Final Four 25 years ago but struggled before Frese took over the program in 2002.

"Who would have ever thought in my wildest dreams I would have gotten two rings this year?" Frese said. "One getting married and the other a national championship."

Duke took a 75-74 lead before Toliver sank two free throws to put Maryland ahead for good. Coleman, who finished with 10 points and 14 rebounds, hit the last two free throws for Maryland with 13.4 seconds left before Foley's three barely hit iron.

Toliver had 16 points, four assists and just three turnovers in the title game. Final Four Most Outstanding Player Laura Harper and Shay Doron also scored 16 for the Terrapins.

After scoring just two points in the first half, the 6-foot-1 Coleman battled against the 6-foot-7 Bales too keep Duke from using its inside edge to counter Maryland's speed. And that's when Toliver took over.

Duke coach Gail Goestenkors wasn't surprised to see a pair of freshmen maintain their poise.

"No, I've seen it too many times," she said. "Every time they go to overtime, they've won."

Monique Currie, who came back for a fifth year to try to win a title, scored 22 points for Duke, and Bales had 19 points and 12 rebounds. But Bales made just one of two free throws with 47 seconds left and the game tied 74-all.

ALL-TIME COACHING HISTORY

DOTTIE MCKNIGHT

44-17 (.721)

4 YEARS (1971-75)

The first coach in the varsity era of women's basketball at the University of Maryland, McKnight directed a fledgling program into immediate success. In her four seasons at the Maryland helm, she never had a losing season. Her program was certainly not as established as it would become after her departure, but McKnight, in fact, boasts a better winning percentage than her successor, Chris Weller. McKnight laid claim to Maryland's first state championship in 1973, and won a second in 1975 with Weller as her assistant.

CHRIS WELLER

27 YEARS (1975-2002)

Chris Weller dominates Maryland women's basketball history. She guided her alma mater to a national championship game and to three Final Fours in total. Her Maryland teams enjoyed national rankings in 18 seasons and she engineered an unprecedented eight Atlantic Coast Conference championships. In 1995, she became just the fifth coach in women's college history to earn at least 400 victories at the same school. Three years earlier, her Terps were No. 1-ranked for nearly a month and drew to College Park a sellout crowd that still is the largest in history to watch an ACC women's basketball game. She was been a pioneer, architect and engineer to one of the most successful programs in the nation.

BRENDA FRESE

4 YEARS (2002-PRESENT)

Brenda Frese was hired in 2002 to rebuild a Maryland program and to return it back to prominence. In 2005-06, the 2002 AP Coach of the Year, led the Terps to the program's first-ever NCAA title. Working hard on the recruiting trails and luring some of the top talent to ever play in a Terrapin uniform, the Terps burst onto national the scene. After logging just 10 victories in her first season, Maryland was awarded a No. 2 seed in 2006, advancing to the Final Four for the first time since 1989, defeating two No. 1 seeds to win the crown. The Terps garnered a top-5 national ranking in the AP and Coaches poll for the first time since that same year, finishing No. 1 in the coaches for the first time in school history. The Terrapins have also broken ACC attendance marks under Frese, drawing a conference-record 17,243 fans to their game vs. Duke on Feb. 13, 2005.

GAME-BY-GAME RESULTS

Game-by-game results for every Maryland women's basketball season since 1971-72. Atlantic Coast Conference play began in 1977-78. Overall records are followed by home, road and neutral court records in parentheses. Home games were played at Preinkert Field House in the 1971-72 and 1972-73 seasons. Home games were played at Cole Field House from the 1973-74 season through 2001-02, except where indicated. In 2002-03, Maryland began play in Comcast Center. RC indicates games at Ritchie Coliseum; •-Indicates ACC games.

GREAT TEAMS & MOMENTS

Great Teams and Great Moments define Maryland women's basketball since it earned varsity distinction in the 1970s, rising quickly among the nation's elite and maintaining excellence nearly 30 years later. The biggest moment in the program's history is winning the National Championship in 2006.

Two eras mark the history of Maryland women's basketball. For 30 years, Chris Weller had been synonymous with the Terrapins, beginning with her legacy first as a player in the mid-1960s, only to return later as an assistant coach, and eventually, a head coach until her retirement in 2002. The Weller Era was marked by NCAA Tournaments, collegiate milestones and perennial national rankings.

The Frese Era began in April 2002 and quickly reshaped the Terrapins back into a national powerhouse, claiming the program's first national title in 2006. Frese has put Maryland back on the map with some of the best talent in the nation donning the Terrapin uniform.

Here is a chronological look at highlights – great moments – in Terrapin history.

TERRAPIN TRADITION

- 1 NATIONAL TITLE
- 4 FINAL FOUR APPEARANCES
- 20 NATIONAL TOURNAMENT APPEARANCES
- 8 ACC CHAMPIONSHIP CROWNS
- 1 30-WIN SEASON; 13 20-WIN SEASONS
- 5 OLYMPIANS
- 4 ALL-AMERICANS
- 26 ALL-ACC HONOREES
- 1 RHODES SCHOLAR

1972-73
STATE CHAMPIONS

AIAW REGIONAL

The Terps wind their way to the second of three state titles, finishing 11-6 in the final season under Dottie McKnight. Perhaps most notable was the first-ever women's basketball game ever to be televised on Jan. 26 from Cole Field House. Maryland lost to defending national champion Immaculata.

EAIAW REGIONAL

The 1975-76 season is best known as the beginning of the "Chris Weller Era." Maryland successfully defends its state championship and finishes fourth in the EAIAW Regionals in Pittsburgh, Pa. The Terps go 20-4 in Weller's first season with an 18-2 regular season marred only by a pair of one-point losses.

EAIAW REGIONAL

Maryland receives its first national ranking on Nov. 25 with a No. 15 billing by the Associated Press. The Terps would finish in the No. 16 spot at season's end, but not after a 17-6 final record and fourth-place finish in the EAIAW Regionals. Maryland downs Virginia 79-67 on Feb. 11 to mark the beginning of the Terrapins' second-longest series in history. Jane Zivalich becomes the first Terp chosen for the U.S. Select Team.

AIAW FINALS

The Terps register their best season to date, with numerous "firsts." Maryland captures the first of its now unprecedented eight ACC championships, earns a second-place finish in the EAIAW Tournament and finishes sixth in the final AP poll. The Terps beat UCLA and Olympian Ann Myers, 92-88 on Jan. 4 in a preview to the eventual national title bout. In the midst of an 11-game win streak to open the season and a 117-47 win over Duke, Maryland grabs a still-standing record 29 steals on Jan. 14. Maryland bests No. 2 NC State 89-82 on Feb. 11 to win the ACC title, and Tara Heiss establishes what is still the school mark for single game assists with 17 against Rutgers on Feb. 28. Weller's upset magic continues with a win over No. 1 ranked Tennessee on March 17 and a win over Southern Connecticut sends the Terps to the first-ever AIAW Final Four. Maryland downs Wayland Baptist on March 23 to win its first game in Final Four history. On March 25 a record crowd of 9,351 and national television audience on NBC Sports World watch host UCLA defeat the Terps 90-74 at Pauley Pavilion for the national championship.

AIAW QUARTERFINALS

The Terps capture their second straight ACC title and reach the AIAW National Tournament for the second straight season. Maryland achieves its highest national ranking on Nov. 25 with a spot in the No. 2 position. The Terps down NC State in Raleigh on Feb. 10 to claim their second ACC banner. Maryland finishes 22-7 and ends the campaign with a No. 8 national ranking.

1979-80
AIAW QUARTERFINALS

Kris Kirchner logs her name in the Terp record book with a modest 15-point effort against Seton Hall on Feb. 29. Its significance is her contribution to 1,351 points to establish a Maryland career record. Maryland captures its first EAIAW Regional Tournament title with a 79-70 win over Rutgers on March 8. Jane Zivalich is named a Rhodes Scholar finalist and the Terps advance to the AIAW quarterfinals. Maryland finishes with a No. 6 national ranking and a 21-9 record for its third straight 20-win season. Tara Heiss is named to the 1980 U.S. Olympic squad.

AIAW QUARTERFINALS

Maryland continues its prominence in the EAIAW Regional, advancing to the title game for the fourth straight season. A 64-63 win over emerging rival NC State on Feb. 14 helps the Terps capture the ACC crown for the third time in its first four years of existence, and finish with a No. 8 ranking in the Associated Press poll. A trip to the national tournament in Knoxville, Tenn., results in a win over Kentucky and a loss to the homestanding Volunteers.

NCAA FINAL FOUR

"Four" becomes a magical number to Chris Weller and her crew as the Terps win 25 times to advance to their second Final Four – this time it is the first NCAA Final Four just four years after appearing in the national title game in the first-ever AIAW Final Four. The Terps capture their fourth ACC title with a 93-81 win over Clemson on Feb. 28. The Terps earn the No. 2 seed in the NCAA West Regional and defeat Stanford 82-48 in Cole Field House to mark the campus' first NCAA Tournament game on March 14. The Terps trek west for a win over Missouri on March 19, and Drake two days later to earn a trip to their second Final Four. Cheyney State upends Maryland 76-66 to end the season on March 26, but not without a No. 3 billing in the final AP poll marking the highest finish in Maryland history.

NCAA SWEET SIXTEEN

Maryland tops Rutgers 83-66 on Jan. 26 to run its school record win streak to 16 games to open the season. NC State knocks the Terps from the ranks of unbeaten on Jan. 29, though only five weeks later the Terrapins earn revenge by downing the Wolfpack 84-81 for their fifth ACC crown on March 6. Maryland earns the No. 3 seed in the East Region and defeats Central Michigan on March 19 in an opening-round game. Maryland eventually falls to Old Dominion in the regional semifinal and ends the year with a No. 7 national anking. The Terps conclude the season as the NCAA lead-rs in field goal percentage statistics, behind the strength f Kodak All-American Jasmina Perazic – Maryland's first o be so honored.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

The Terps fail to win 20 games for the first time in three easons, but record at least 19 for the seventh straight year. Maryland is ranked 17th in the final AP poll and earns a No. seed in the NCAA East Region.

1984-85

Maryland enters the 1984-85 season having been ranked n the AP Top 20 for 128 consecutive weeks — the most by ny team in the nation. Weller spends her summer months as n assistant coach for the U.S. National Jones Cup team.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

Success and championships return after just a one-year iatus. The Terps enter the ACC Tournament as an underdog, et win their sixth title, defeating NC State, Virginia and North Carolina. Deanna Tate is named MVP of the tournament after owning the Tar Heels 90-74 on March 3. Maryland accepts No. 6 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region, and suffers an pening round loss to Ohio State.

1986-87

The Terps exit the ACC Tournament in a semifinal loss o Virginia. It is only the second season in the last 10 that Maryland has failed to reach a national tournament.

1987-88
NCAA ELITE EIGHT

And back come the Terps again. Not to be denied an ACC itle for more than a season at a time, Maryland goes 26-6 verall and never loses in 13 home contests. The Terps take four-game win streak into the ACC Tournament where they own Georgia Tech, Wake Forest and Virginia, and claim a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. Deanna Tate wins her second straight tourney MVP award as the Terrapins hold off the Cavaliers, 76-70 on March 7 for their seventh conference crown. They run their streak to nine games with n 81-66 victory over Ohio State in the regional semifinal on March 24. The Terps fall to Auburn in a bid for a third Final Four, but finish 26-6 and return to national prominence.

Maryland finishes eighth in the final poll released by USA Today, and ninth by AP. Junior Vicky Bullett breaks Maryland's all-time scoring and rebounding marks with still a year to play, and stars for the U.S. Olympic team during August 1988. She wins a gold medal in the Summer Games while averaging 4.4 points and 3.0 rebounds in five games.

NCAA FINAL FOUR

Maryland's most successful season? Perhaps. Vicky Bullett and Deanna Tate both earn Kodak All-America honors as the Terps embark on an all-time best 29-3 record. Included in the mark was another perfect home record, 12-0, which ran Maryland's Cole Field House win streak to 27. On March 5, Maryland defeats Virginia 89-66 to win its 17th consecutive game, a new school record. The Terps won four more games to establish the existing school mark of 21 straight victories. The 18th win of the streak, March 6 against NC State, secures an eighth ACC title. Bullett is named the league's player of the year as Maryland enters the NCAA West Region as the No. 1 seed. Maryland notches win 19 of the streak on March 18 against Bowling Green with a 73-68 opening round win at Cole Field House. The streak grows to 21 with a 79-71 win over Texas on its home floor on March 25, earning the Terps a trip to their third Final Four. On ESPN in a national semifinal on March 31, Maryland watches its season and its streak wind to a close with a 77-65 loss to Tennessee.

NCAA SWEET SIXTEEN

Maryland reaches its third straight NCAA Tournament with a 19-11 record. Maryland wins its first home game against George Mason on Nov. 29 to run its record home court win streak to 28 games before falling on Dec. 6 to defending national champ Tennessee. Dafne Lee helps the Terps to an 85-84 overtime win over Wake Forest to begin a four-game win streak heading into the ACC Tournament. In the process, she scores 39 points against the Deamon Deacons to tie the school record. On Feb. 16, Maryland earns a No. 6 seed in the NCAA East Region and downs Appalachian State 100-71 for its final win on March 14 at Cole Field House.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

Maryland wins five straight games at mid-season to help in building a 17-13 mark and earn a No. 6 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. Maryland advances to the ACC semifinals with a 91-73 win over Georgia Tech.

1991-92
NCAA ELITE EIGHT

One of the Terps' most exciting seasons saw Maryland finish 25-6 in 1991-92, including the first No. 1 ranking in school history and a Cole Field House sellout crowd of 14,500 to watch No. 1 Maryland and No. 2 Virginia. Prior to that historic, No. 3 Maryland downs top-ranked Virginia 67-65 in Charlottesville on Jan. 15 to mark the second time in history that the Terps had beaten a No. 1 team. The win catapults the Terps to their first-ever No. 1 ranking on Jan. 21, a post they would hold for four weeks. Maryland wins its first five games to defend the ranking and runs its win streak to 11 games overall to set up a Virginia rematch on Feb. 11 at Cole Field House. The Cole sellout still is the largest ACC crowd in history and one of the largest in collegiate women's history. Maryland exits the ACC Tournament after an opening round upset by Georgia Tech, and bows to Western Kentucky in the Mideast Regional finals. The Terps end the season ranked eighth in both national polls, and Chris Weller is a consensus pick as national coach of the year.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

Jessie Hicks scores 20 points to lead the Terrapins past No. 1 Tennessee, Dec. 30 at Cole Field House. It is Maryland's third win ever against a top-ranked foe, and coupled with a Jan. 2 victory over No. 10 Purdue, propels the Terps to a No. 3 ranking of its own. Maryland falls to Virginia, 106-103, in a memorable triple-overtime championship game of the ACC Tournament on March 8, but earns a No. 2 seed in the NCAA Mideast Region. The Terps are upset in an opening round game at Cole Field House, 86-82, by Southwest Missouri State. Maryland ends the campaign 22-8, and ranked 11th by the Associated Press and 18th by USA Today.

The Terps finish 15-13 while ranking as high as No. 16 during the year. Maryland falls to Virginia in the ACC Tournament semifinals and gets its bubble burst when it fails to earn an NCAA bid for the first time in seven seasons.

1994-95

A promising rookie class of recruits is rated as high as fourth-best in the country, though Maryland finishes 11-18 on the season. Maryland defeats NC State 83-80 at Cole Field House for Chris Weller's 400th career victory on Jan. 28.

1995-96

Maryland upends No. 14 Duke at Cole Field House on Feb. 5, and No. 18 Clemson at Cole a week later on Feb. 10. The Terps finish 13-14, but again advance to the ACC semifinals.

1996-97

In her 22nd season as coach, Chris Weller readies the troops for another run at the NCAA Tournament. Maryland wins a pair of early-season tournaments and leads the nation in scoring defense through much of January. The Terps defeat No. 14 Duke 68-64 on Jan. 12, and drop No. 15 NC State by a 54-51 count on Jan. 18. The Terps defeat No. 21 Clemson on the road on Feb. 22 to earn a No. 3 seed in the ACC Tournament, but fall in a first-round game to Duke, 60-52 in overtime. The Terrapins gain an at-large NCAA bid in the Midwest Region.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

Facing a schedule ranked the third-strongest in the nation, Maryland leads the ACC in scoring defense and ranked 29th nationally. Maryland wins seven straight early games. Highlights include a pair of wins over Top 20 foes: No. 7 North Carolina on Jan. 18 and later No. 9 NC State in the ACC Tournament quarterfinals. Tiffany Brown nets a then-school record seven 3-pointers in the win over North Carolina before a national TV audience on ESPN2.

1998-99

1999-2000

Maryland returns to the national scene as the Terps claim a berth in the 2000 Women's National Invitational Tournament. The Terps advanced all the way to the tournament's quarterfinals before falling to finalist Florida. During the regular season, the Terps recorded a pair of upset victories over ranked teams, defeating No. 12 Duke on Feb. 3 and No. 16 Virginia on Feb. 24. The win over Duke ended the Blue Devils' 20-game home ACC win streak. Tiffany Brown became Maryland's most prolific 3-point shooter, setting the career records for treys made and attempted. She also set the single-game mark with eight at Clemson on Jan. 6. Marché Strickland made five consecutive 3-pointers in a 65-second span against Georgia Tech on Jan. 23. Because of her accomplishment, Strickland garned national media recognition.

NCAA FIRST ROUND

The 2000-01 season marks the program's 17th national tournament appearance. The Terps tops then-No. 18 Clemson 85-73 in overtime in Cole Field House and sweeps the season series at Clemson when they are ranked 17th with a 68-62 victory. No. 22 NC State falls to the Terps 57-56 on its home court, and then suffers the 75-54 loss at Cole Field House when they are No. 17. On the doorstep of a Top 25 ranking all season, Maryland loses to Colorado State in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament after receiving its first NCAA bid since 1997. Terp juniors Deedee Warley and Marché Strickland score their 1,000th point, Warley in the upset at Clemson and Strickland at Duke on Feb. 15.

A distinctive era comes to a close in the 2001-02 season, as 27-year head coach Chris Weller (499-286, .636) says goodbye to Maryland and Cole Field House closes its doors as the home of Terrapin women's basketball. On Feb. 21, with a 66-54 loss to NC State, the Terrapins celebrate their 28 years of memorable moments and championship history in Cole Field House. Weller officially announces her retirement from Maryland on March 5 after celebrating the ACC Tournament's 25th anniversary and the Terps' league-leading eight titles.

A new era begins as Maryland women's basketball moves to its new home at Comcast Center with a new mentor at the helm in Brenda Frese. The Terps will forever hold the distinction of playing the first-ever basketball game, men's or women's, at the new facility hosting Loyola on Nov. 22, a game which Maryland won, 80-72. Renneika Razor scores the first basket en route to the Terps victory. Maryland breaks 100 points for the first time since 1993, when they downed UMES, 102-31, on Dec. 1. In Maryland's 69-58 loss at Virginia on Jan. 19, Razor becomes the 20th Terp in school history to break the 1,000-point barrier, ending her career ranked 16th all-time amassing 1,163 points. A crowd of 5,078 are in attendance for Maryland's thrilling 74-72 win over NC State on Feb. 1. It was the largest crowd since 1996 when No. 9 Virginia came to town. Razor ends her career with second team All-ACC honors, the highest honor given to a Terp since 1998.

2003-04

NCAA SECOND ROUND

In what was supposed to be another rebuilding year, the Terps win the most games since the 1996-97 campaign and finish in a tie for third place in the ACC, the best showing since that same year. Maryland equals its conference win total from the previous two years, combined, earning an NCAA Tournament berth for the first time in three years. Led by a couple of high school All-Americans, Shay Doron opens the season making an NCAA record-tying 23 free throws vs. Coppin State on Nov. 21.She goes on to break the school's single-season mark. A Comcast Center record 13,446 come out for the home regular-season finale vs. No. 4 Duke on Feb. 22 which is televised on ESPN2. The record is also the second-largest crowd for a women's basketball game in ACC history. After a 62-47 win over Florida State on March 6, the Terps advance to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament to face the Blue Devils and fall short of the upset, 70-63, on March 7. The Terps are selected the 12th seed in the West Region and go on to win their first NCAA tourney game in 12 years when they upset Miami (Fla.), 86-85, on March 21. Three Terps earn ACC postseason honors. Doron leads the way with third team nods becoming the first rookie in school history to earn All-ACC honors. Kalika France also becomes the first freshman Terp to be named Honorable Mention All-ACC while Delvona Oliver earns the recognition for the first time in her career. Doron (first team) and Oliver (second team) are also selected to the ACC All-Tournament team. By year's end, Doron and France lead the team in scoring, the first time a pair of Terp rookies has done so.

NCAA SECOND ROUND

The Terps earn a No. 23 preseason ranking in both the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls. Boasting the fourth-best recruiting class in the nation, the Terps win the most games since 1992-93, while making its second-straight trip to the ACC semifinals and the second round of the NCAA Tournament. After opening the season at 5-1, the Terps crack the AP's top 20 on Dec. 6, their first top-20 ranking in 11 years. On Jan. 9, Maryland tops No. 5/4 North Carolina, 92-77, its first victory over a top-five team since 1992. The Terps jump to No. 15 in the AP poll after the victory. Shay Doron scores a school-record tying 39 points on Jan. 16 at Florida State, but the Terps fall in overtime, 95-91. Jan. 25 marks the 30th anniversary of the first-ever nationally televised women's basketball game which featured the Terps and Immaculata. On Feb. 3 head coach Brenda Frese records her 100th-career victory with an 84-67 win over Georgia Tech. Maryland sets a Comcast Center attendance record for the second-consecutive year on Feb. 12, as 17,243 fans turn out for the Terps' clash vs. Duke, also setting the all-time ACC women's basketball single-game attendance mark. Crystal Langhorne scores 29 points and grabs 22 rebounds at Miami on Feb. 17, the first 20-rebound game in school history since 1980. Langhorne then sets a new freshman-class school record, netting 33 points in the regular-season finale on Feb. 28. The Terps upset No. 19 NC State on March 5 to advance to the semifinals of the ACC Tournament for the second year in a row. Comcast Center plays host to the NCAA Tournament for the first time, as seven teams travel to College Park for the first and second rounds. Frese earns her 50th win at Maryland as the Terps advance to the second round for the second-straight year with a win over UW-Green Bay on March 20. Crystal Langhorne was named ACC Rookie of the Year and second team All-ACC, the highest-honored freshman in school history. Shay Doron was selected first team All-ACC, Kodak/WBCA Regional All-American and Kodak/WBCA Honorable Mention All-American. At year's end, Langhorne set the freshman-class scoring and rebounding records, while Doron set the sophomore class mark for points. The Terps ended the year ranked 24th in the nation, the first time Maryland has been ranked in the final poll in 12 years.

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

The Terrapins boasted a roster stacked with six former high-school All-Americans and eight Gatorade Players of the Year, however, they were considered a long shot. Ranked 14th in both the preseason Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls, Maryland rose to become the No. 1 team in the nation under the guidance of fourth-year head coach Brenda Frese, capturing the program's first NCAA title and posting the most wins – men's or women's – in school history (34). The Terps led the nation in 3-point shooting (.400) and rebounding margin (+11.9 rpg). Its final No. 1 ranking by the coaches was the first in school history. The milestones and records came early. In the home opener vs. Xavier on Nov. 20, Shay Doron became the 21st player in school history to score 1,000 points, the fastest Terrapin to reach the milestone to that point. Rated in the top 10 for the first time in over a decade, the Terps registered a convincing defeat of 2005 NCAA finalist and 10th-ranked Michigan State on Nov. 25. Coupled with the win and near upset of perennial powerhouse and No. 1-ranked Tennessee on Nov. 26, Maryland moved up to No. 6 cruised through December with a spotless record. Wining the Terrapin Classic for the seventh time, Doron garnered Most Valuable Player honors. The Terrapins opened the ACC slate with its first overtime game of the season at Boston College on Jan. 5. It would be the first of six overtime games. The second-largest crowd in ACC history came out to Comcast Center to support the Terps vs. rival and second-ranked Duke on Jan. 8, but the Blue Devils snapped the Terrapins' 10-game win streak with a decisive 86-68 win. Maryland regrouped, putting together another string of eight wins, including three more overtime victories, capped by the stunning triumph and upset of top-ranked North Carolina on Feb. 9 at Carmichael Auditorium, snapping the Tar Heel's 30-game win streak on their home court and handing them their first loss of the season. Ashleigh Newman hit one of the more memorable shots of the season, picking up a loose ball and sending the shot from just beyond half court to send the game into overtime. The Terps earned a No. 4 ranking and, in the 89-63 thumping of Clemson on Feb. 23, Crystal Langhorne became the 22nd 1,000-point scorer in school history, becoming the fastest Terp to do so (60 games), breaking Doron's record. A win over second-ranked Duke in the semifinals of the ACC Tournament on March 4, snapped a 14-game losing streak to the Blue Devils. It also put the Terps in the finals for the first time in 13 years. UNC, on the other hand, was also exacted revenge, defeating the Terps, 90-81, on March 5 to claim the conference crown. In the final AP poll, Maryland was ranked No. 3 in the nation, its best final ranking in the poll since 1993. The NCAA Tournament bracket was announced on March 13 and the Terps received their highest seeding since 1993. Tabbed the second seed in the Albuquerque Region, Maryland cruised to a victory over Sacred Heart on March 19, but struggled to put away an up-and-coming St. John's squad, pulling out an 84-71 win on March 21, advancing passed the second round for the first time since 1992. The Terrapins faced Baylor in the Sweet Sixteen and quickly disposed of the defending champions, 82-63, on March 25, and earned a spot in the Elite Eight. Langhorne had her second-straight 30-point outing. Looking to punch their ticket to their first Final Four since 1989, the Terrapins were struck with a stomach virus which filtered through most of the players, staff, band members and fans. Gutting it out, a determined Terrapin squad forced their fifth overtime game of the year after Utah missed a key free throw in the final seconds. Maryland dominated in the extra five minutes winning 75-65 on March 27. Kristi Toliver, who had been struck with the illness the night before, netted a career-high 28 points and was voted to the all-tournament team. Langhorne was the region's Most Outstanding Player. In Boston, Maryland faced a familiar foe – the top overall No. 1 seed North Carolina and the favorite to win the championship. The Terrapins had other plans, pulling off the upset, once again, winning 81-70, on April 4. In their first-ever trip to the NCAA Finals, Maryland faced its recent nemesis. Trailing 13 points with less than 15 minutes remaining, the Terrapins mounted their comeback, tying the second-largest in NCAA history. Toliver hit one of the biggest shots in tournament history with seconds remaining in regulation, a three-pointer over Duke's center, to force the overtime. The Terps, believing that "Overtime is Our Time," did not have a doubt in the eventual outcome, as they hoisted the trophy on April 4. Laura Harper was the Final Four's Most Outstanding Player, while Toliver again earned all-tournament nods. The postseason honors were plentiful. Langhorne was the program's first All-American (AP and USBWA) since 1989, also earning first team All-ACC nods. Doron and Marissa Coleman were second team all-conference honorees, with Coleman becoming the second-straight Terrapin to win the ACC's Rookie of the Year award after a school-record tying five conference rookie of the week selections.

COLE FIELD HOUSE

When college basketball was achieving its most explosive growth - from the late 1950's to the late 1970's – there was one college gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new big time, main event status of college hoops, the sport of network TV and emerging legends. Despite facing cosmetic renewal, Cole's charisma was never tampered with. There was not a bad seat on December 2, 1955, when it was dedicated in the men's game against Virginia, and was equalling as thunderous when it closed its doors as the men's team defeated Virginia on March 3, 2002. Cole was also the place where a capacity crowd witness the No. 1 Maryland women's basketball team host No. 2 Virginia on Feb. 12, 1992, then an ACC record. That attendance stood for 12 years until the Terps broke that record in 2005 at Comcast Center. Cole Field House will always be home to countless memories, buzzer beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Many great women's basketball teams and great players have played at Cole Field House. It ranks among the top 50 all-time Best Women's Basketball Home Courts, as the Terps compiled a 288-95 mark (75.2 percent) from 1973-2002, which ranks among the top 50 overall.

Cole was dedicated as the Student Activities Center, a $3.3 million project that was erected under the tutelage of Board of Regents Chair, Judge William P. Cole, Jr., and President Wilson Elkins. A year after the dedication, the building was named in honor of Cole, who served the Board of Regents for 25 years.

Although Cole has remained the same basketball hall it was built to be, there were refinements. Additions were made such as an increase in seating capacity to 14,500, scoreboards that not only told the fan what the score was, but also how loud they were cheering, and a new floor design.

As championships were awarded over the years, Cole got some of the very best. The 1966 and 1970 men's basketball Final Four were held there. In 1990, the first and second rounds of the eastern regionals were in Cole Field House. The NCAA wrestling championships were held at Cole in 1960, 1972, 1978, 1987, and 1990, and the NCAA women's volleyball championship took place there in 1990. Cole Field House also served as the home to most of the athletic department offices.

COMCAST CENTER

Maryland's home for Terrapins Athletics was completed in the fall of 2002 and has provided four seasons of toppled attendance records and memories on the hardwood. Comcast Center provides a seating capacity of 17,950 fans for basketball games and serves as the campus site for university special events and select community events.

Comcast Center houses the university's athletics administration offices and includes a 7,000-square-foot Academic Support Center, providing an enhanced study atmosphere for the school's approximate 700 student-athletes on 27 teams. An additional 1,500-seat gymnasium serves as home to the Terps' volleyball, gymnastics and wrestling teams, and Nextel Heritage Hall multi-purpose room is equipped to host banquets, press conferences, meetings and serve as a pre-game restaurant suite overlooking the competition arena.

Comcast Center is an excellent place for alumni and fans to enjoy their favorite sports and share in their common Terrapin spirit. Visitors can learn about the men and women who have forged the Maryland Athletics program among the nation's elite as they stroll through the Terrapin Walk of Fame and History. The Terrapin Team Store, located just off the soaring three-level atrium lobby, allows visitors to outfit their pride. Maryland has once again reclaimed the status of having the best student activities center and basketball arena in the country.

WELLER ON LYTLE

"Debbie was one of the greatest athletes I've ever seen or coached. She could have been a point guard on a men's college team."

A versatile guard, Lytle remains at or near the top of several Maryland offensive records … one of only 22 Terps to achieve the 1,000 point plateau, finishing with 1,189 points … holds the Maryland record for most steals in her career (315) and in a single game (9, twice) … also tops the Maryland all-time list for most assists in her career (583) … averaged six assists per game during the NCAA Tournament, a team record … member of the 1981 Kodak All-Region team and E.A.I.A.W. All-Region team … member of the 1980 All-ACC Tournament Team … a leader of the 1982 Final Four team, she was named to the NCAA West Regional All-Tournament team that season … tallied 53 points, 32 rebounds and 32 assists during the Terps' first Final Four run … also saw significant time at the small forward position.

WELLER ON PERAZIC

"Jas is a savvy person on and off the court. She had the ability to score in any situation and she has demonstrated that superiority at all levels of play - collegiate and international."

One of the leaders of the 1982 Final Four team, Perazic led the team in scoring that year with 441 points and a .565 shooting percentage … co-MVP of the 1983 ACC Tournament, in which the Terps defeated NC State, 84-81, to take the title … also named to the All-ACC Tournament team in 1982 … ranks tenth on the Terrapins' all-time scoring list, pouring in 1,393 points during her career … her .860 free throw percentage for the 1981-82 season stood at the Maryland standard for 14 years … named to the All-West Regional Team during the 1982 NCAA Tournament … participated in the 1980 Olympic Games in Moscow with Yugoslavia … played in the inaugural campaign of the WNBA as a member of the 1997 New York Liberty.

WELLER ON BULLETT

"Those that saw Vicky play recognize her outstanding skill and athleticism. Those that work and play with Vicky know these are only a small part of what makes her special."

Named the 1989 ACC Player of the Year, Bullett led the Terps to their second NCAA Final Four while also playing her way to the top of many of Maryland's record lists … is the all-time leading scorer in Maryland history with 1,928 points, nearly 250 points ahead of the next-closest Terp … that total was helped by a record 686 points in her senior campaign of 1988-89, one of only four players in school history to score 600 points in a season … was the first player in school history to register two 500-point seasons … scored 30 or more points on seven occasions, with her highest total coming at Penn State on January 14, 1987, when she tallied 36 … also tops the Maryland all-time list with 968 career rebounds … first team All-ACC in 1988, in addition to her 1989 MVP campaign … took home the MVP of the 1989 ACC Tournament, which the Terps captured with a 73-57 victory over NC State … also named to the All-ACC Tournament team in her freshman year of 1986 … named to the All-Mideast Region team of the 1988 NCAA Tournament and the All-West Region team in 1989 … Kodak Regional All-American in 1988 … gold medalist with the 1988 U.S. Olympic team in Seoul, Korea … played six seasons in the WNBA with the Charlotte Sting (1997-99) and Washington Mystics (2000-02), scoring 2018 total points with an average of 10.8 ppg.

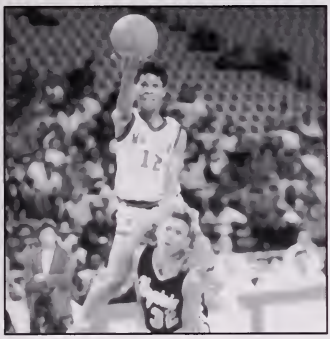
LETTERED: 1986-88-89



WELLER ON TATE

"Deanna is the quickest playing and thinking player I've ever coached. Her high energy personality ignites enthusiasm in those around her, on and off the court."

A two-time MVP of the ACC Tournament (1986, 1988), Tate dominated the 1989 NCAA Tournament while helping the Terps reach their second NCAA Final Four … the only Terp named to the 1989 All-Final Four team … also named the MVP of the 1989 NCAA Tournament West Region … left as the fifth-leading scorer in Terrapin history despite only playing three seasons (1,541 points) … second on the all-time list for scoring average with 16.5 ppg … ranks third all-time with her 500 career assists … her 1988-89 season was the most prolific for any Maryland thief in the history of the program, when she recorded 126 steals (31 more than the next closest season total) … first team All-ACC selection in 1989 … named to the All-ACC Tournament team in 1989 … a member of the U.S. Select team in 1988 … played one season in the ABL, 1997-98, with the New England Blizzard and Chicago Condors.

"STRIVE FOR CLARITY, BUT ACCEPT AND UNDERSTAND AMBIGUITY.
That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.
Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."
As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."
AND WE ALSO HOPE YOU ENJOY THE JOURNEY.

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

THE CAMPUS

By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 33 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 79 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2005 enrollment was 25,442 undergraduate and 9,927 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.

Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

DID YOU KNOW?

In 1991, Maryland had one program listed among Top 25 entrants in the U.S. News & World Report Rankings. Maryland now has 79 programs ranked among the nation's elite. and the university is ranked 18th nationally among public universities.

A report card published in Technology Review rated the top U.S. universities in their quest for intellectual property, commercial partners and profits. Johns Hopkins University and the University of Maryland (28th) were the Mid-Atlantic (Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia) schools to make the "campus patenting" top 50 list.

Black Issues In Higher Education ranked the university fourth nationally in bachelor's degrees earned by African-American students at traditionally white schools. Maryland ranks first in African-American undergraduate degrees in social sciences and history.

The Wall Street Journal ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 15 a mong the world's business schools. Maryland is the top-ranked school in the Mid-Atlantic region (Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia). The Financial Times of London ranked the Robert H. Smith School of Business No. 3 in value for money, No. 6 overall among U.S. public business schools and No. 12 in placement rate.

In the undergraduate program rankings released by U.S. News & World Report both the A. James Clark School of Engineering (No. 22) and the Robert H. Smith School of Business (No. 22) were ranked among the top 25.

LIBRARIES

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

RESEARCH

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location — just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis — enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

SERVICE

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center in 2001, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

PRESIDENT C.D. MOTE JR.

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received the B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

Director of Athletics Deborah A. Yow

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
ELON '74
13TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 13th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought steady and continued improvement and accomplishment in Terrapin athletics. In Yow's 12 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 13 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada.

She was honored recently by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She recently served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame, joining fellow Terp Buck Williams as honorees.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 12 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $52 million annually and the multi-million dollar accumulated operating debt which her administration inherited has been eradicated.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.

- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the dramatic upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable four national championships during the 2005-06 academic season.
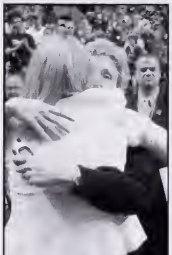
- In 2005-2006, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the most well-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Laboratory for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Graduation rates in football are near 80 percent and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only two universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford is the only other NCAA Division I institution to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,243 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four three times in the past four seasons.
- Field Hockey earned a National Championship in 2005-06 and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways with seven national championships from 1995-2001, with additional Final Four appearances.
- Men's Soccer has appeared in four consecutive Final Fours and won the NCAA National Championship in the 2005-06 season.



- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- The Terrapins have moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.
- In 2005-06, 13 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 12 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former basketball coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University from 1990 through 1994.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ATHLETIC DEVELOPMENT

TERRAPIN CLUB

Athletic excellence is a tradition at the University of Maryland—a tradition alumni and friends alike want to see continue and flourish. That's why we are inviting you to be a member of the Maryland Athletics Family by joining the Terrapin Club. Whether you are an alumnus of the University of Maryland or a friend interested in supporting the state's flagship campus, belonging to the Terrapin Club enables you to:

- Provide annual scholarship support for our student-athletes who will contribute to the community
- Share our vision to fully scholarship all sports to best represent the University
- Take pride in the achievement of athletic excellence
- Participate in the camaraderie and fellowship unique to Terrapin Club members
- Receive a tax deduction for your financial contribution for scholarships
- Enjoy access to great benefits including priority seating in Byrd Stadium for football and Comcast Center for basketball, priority parking and tickets to other events

At Maryland, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics operates without significant University funding and receives no state appropriations or tax dollars for operational expenses. Sanctioned by the University of Maryland College Park Foundation, 100% of the funds raised through the Terrapin Club are managed by the Foundation for the exclusive use of Maryland Athletics. Your contribution directly supports an annual student-athlete scholarship cost of over $8 million and Terrapin Club and department expenses. The Terrapin Club provides scholarship support to many of the 700 student-athletes who compete on 27 varsity team representing the University of Maryland.

GETTING INVOLVED

Direct Gifts are the most common way of contributing. They are made in the form of cash, stock, checks or credit card (Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover). For your convenience, a personal checking account can be debited a set amount every month.

In many cases, corporate matching gifts may be used to make your Terrapin Club contribution. Please contact your employer to see if you are eligible for a matching gift program.

THE M CLUB
AN 83-YEAR TRADITION OF "ATHLETES HELPING ATHLETES"SM

The M Club was founded in 1923 by a group of former University of Maryland athletes led by Dr. H.C. "Curley" Byrd to encourage excellence in athletics. It is one of the oldest and most respected letterwinner clubs in the country with an organization of more than 4,500 former Maryland varsity athletes and a leader in the National Letter Winners Association.

The M Club goals are to help achieve the very best overall academic and athletic program for all the varsity teams, to aid the athletes in making positive contributions to the community, to obtain and maintain funds for awards and scholarships and to cultivate networking, social contact and good sportsmanship among the wearers of the "M."

Membership participation, through the payment of annual dues, helps build the scholarship endowment fund, support student-athletes' awards and recognition efforts and provide for career development initiatives. Members receive information about the current teams and news about former teammates through a monthly electronic newsletter and a quarterly printed newsletter.

In addition, active members receive information about, and discounts for, various M Club activities. Many benefits are intangible, though, including the satisfaction of having lettered at a great university and being a part of a unique and exclusive organization that is nationally recognized.

University of Maryland letterwinners interested in the M Club should call David Diehl at (301) 314-5372 or Dotti Warren at (301) 314-7020, or visit our website at www.themclub.org.

MAJOR GIFTS FUNDRAISING

The University of Maryland recently launched its largest-ever fund raising effort in the quest to be one of the nation's great public research universities. Great Expectations: The Campaign for Maryland is the linchpin to the University's transformation from excellence to greatness.

To solidify our position as one of the premier athletics programs in the Atlantic Coast Conference and the nation, the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics will have a challenging, major goal for private donations for the campaign. During the Great Expectations campaign, Maryland Athletics will seek to raise a total of $133 million to (1) enhance and improve competition, practice and training facilities for a number of our teams; (2) fund annual scholarships for student athletes; and (3) endow student athlete scholarships, coaching positions and programs.

Planned facility construction projects for Maryland Athletics are:

Enhancements to Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium, which include the construction of premium seating, containing over 50 suites of varying sizes, along the south sideline; upscale common areas containing lounge, restrooms and elevators; a Presidential Suite with seating for 200; additional mezzanine seating for approximately 500, including food service, heat and covered seating; new work area for television, radio and print media; new work area for coaches and game day operating staff; and enhanced seating for disabled customers. We also will install railings in the South and North lower bowl seats to enhance fan comfort and safety; and will lower the field at Byrd Stadium to improve sight lines for seats on the first 10 rows, converting those seats from obstructed view seats to some of the best views in the stadium. These projects will create a significantly improved Chevy Chase Bank Field at Byrd Stadium.

Renovation of the Varsity Team House, which houses team locker rooms, sports medicine and strength and conditioning areas for the baseball, men's lacrosse, men's and women's soccer, and men's and women's track & field teams.

Construction of a golf short game practice facility for the men's and women's golf teams.

Creating a winter indoor practice facility at the lowered field at Byrd Stadium that will service all of our field teams during the inclement weather months.

Private gifts to Maryland Athletics will help us reach our facility, scholarship and endowment goals for the Great Expectations campaign. Major gifts for facility renovation and scholarship endowment are an opportunity to have your name permanently and prominently linked with the tradition of Maryland Athletics. Many exciting naming opportunities for athletic facilities (such as the Soccer/Track Stadium, Field Hockey/Women's Lacrosse Stadium, and the Auxiliary Gym in Comcast Center) are available in recognition of major gifts.

To obtain information on facility naming opportunities or endowments for student athlete scholarships, please contact the Athletics Major Gifts Office at (301) 314-7020, or toll-free at (800) 653-7667, or by email at terrapinclub@umd.edu.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT & CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley (right) works with the women's basketball team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, a program assistant and the learning specialist; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills PROGRAM

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

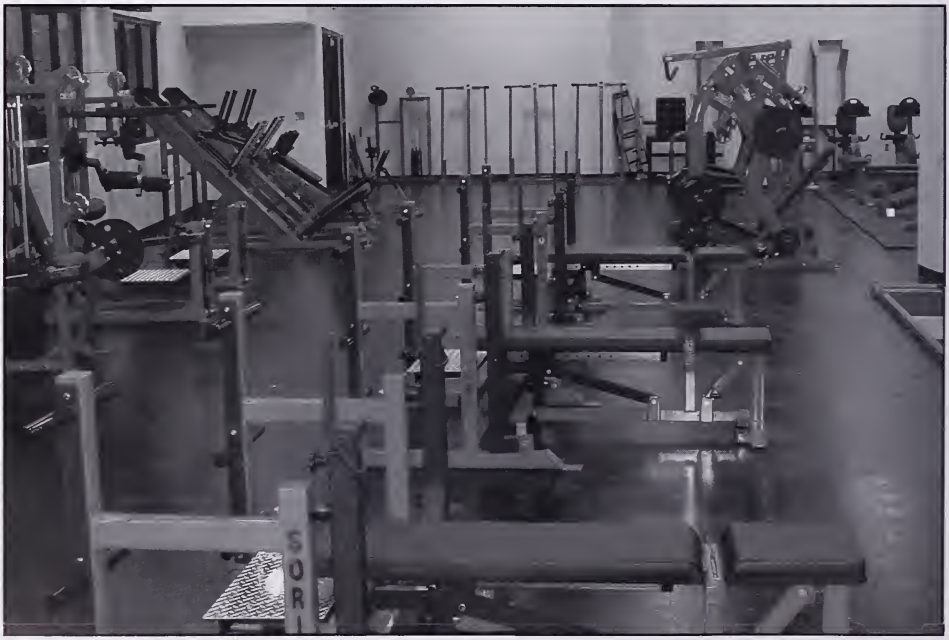
In the highly competitive world of collegiate basketball, the off-court preparation of the basketball athlete is a critical component in the on-court success of any Division I program. Corliss Fingers, Maryland's strength and conditioning coach for women's basketball, believes strongly that a solid off-court training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development and, in turn, has resulted in great success on the basketball court.

Corliss Fingers

The Terps' new state-of-the-art weight room at Comcast Center.

Fingers' philosophy consists of allowing the players to gain strength, speed and change of direction capabilities through drills that are basketball oriented. She believes that the team must be prepared to run and play the up-tempo style of basketball that is Brenda Frese's trademark. Fingers trains the team so that it will be able to play up to Frese's style.

The members of the women's basketball team have the use of a fully-equipped weight training facility located down the hall from the women's basketball office and the team's locker room in Comcast Center. The conveniently located 4,000 sq. foot facility features a combination of Sorinex weight training equipment and York free weight equipment. The strength staff utilizes this facility specifically during the season as basketball team members are personally trained before, during and after the season.



SPORTS MEDICINE

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics and the University of Maryland Medical Center's Sports Medicine program have joined forces to provide the best possible medical attention and care to all Terrapin student-athletes.

Says Deborah A. Yow, Maryland's director of athletics: "When we recruit student-athletes to play for Maryland, we owe them the best education, the best coaching and the best comprehensive health care. It is especially gratifying for us to partner with our medical center in the same fashion as other ACC institutions do with their medical schools."

DARRYL CONWAY

ASSISTANT AD/ SPORTS MEDICINE DELAWARE '93 THIRD YEAR AT MARYLAND

Darryl Conway was hired in June 2004 as Maryland's assistant athletics director for sports medicine after spending three years as the head athletic trainer at the University of Central Florida. Conway will oversee all medical and athletic training operations for the Terrapins' 27 varsity athletic programs.

Conway, who has been an athletic trainer at both the collegiate and professional levels, comes to the Terrapins after serving as head athletic trainer at the University of Central Florida for three years. There he was the head trainer for the Golden Knight football squad, while supervising the assistant trainers, graduate assistants and student assistants who provide training coverage of Central Florida's 17 varsity sports. At UCF, Conway was responsible for overseeing the compilation and input of daily medical records, the computerized injury surveillance program and the NCAA injury surveillance system. He served as a clinical instructor/field experience supervisor for athletic training students, assisted in the development of marketing and fundraising projects for the sports medicine department and served as the site coordinator for the NCAA drug testing program at UCF.

Prior to his position at Central Florida, Conway served as the Director of Sports Medicine at the University of Northern Iowa, working as the head trainer for the Panthers' football and men's basketball teams from 1999 to 2001. He was the head athletic trainer at Morgan State University in Baltimore for one season and was an assistant trainer and professor at Delaware, his alma mater, for two years. From 1993 to 1996, Conway was an assistant trainer with the NFL's New York Jets.

Conway earned a bachelor's degree in physical education studies, magna cum laude, from the University of Delaware in 1993, before receiving a master's degree in physical education and a certificate in sports management from Adelphi University two years later.

Conway has taught numerous collegiate courses related to athletic training, has made numerous presentations and has co-authored several scholarly publications and book chapters. He has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers' Association (NATA) since 1989, and is also a member of the United States Weightlifting Federation.

Conway and his wife, Tracy, have a son, Michael.

CRAIG BENNETT, M.D.

HEAD TEAM PHYSICIAN/ ORTHOPAEDIC SURGEON THIRD YEAR

Craig H. Bennett, M.D., is in his third season as the head team physician and orthopaedic surgeon for Maryland. Dr. Bennett is the Chief of Orthopaedic Sports Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine and has also served as the head orthopaedic surgeon for the NFL's Baltimore Ravens. Prior to his arrival at Maryland, Dr. Bennett was at the University of Pittsburgh where he served as an assistant professor of orthopaedics, as a team physician for Pittsburgh's athletic department and as the associate team physician for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., Dr. Bennett graduated with honors from Brown University in 1985. He earned his medical degree from the University of California at San Francisco and completed his residency in orthopaedic surgery at Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. He then completed a sports medicine-knee and shoulder fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh and subsequently stayed on staff at Pittsburgh for five years. While at Pittsburgh, he also served as the team physician for the men's basketball team.

Dr. Bennett was selected to the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons Leadership Fellows Program in 2003-04 and Towson University honored him as their African-American Scholar of the Year in 2004. He is a board certified member of the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery and a member of the NFL Team Physicians Association

JAMES DREESE, M.D.

ASST. TEAM PHYSICIAN/ ORTHOPAEDIC SURGEON FIRST YEAR

Dr. James Dreese serves as assistant team physician for University of Maryland athletic teams. He is an Assistant Professor of Orthopaedics at the University of Maryland Medical Center. He received his undergraduate degree from Penn State University, where he competed on the football team and earned a varsity letter.

After completing his Orthopaedic Surgery residency at the renowned Hospital for Special Surgery in New York, NY he received subspecialty training in Sports Medicine and Shoulder Surgery at the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh, Pa. He served as a team physician at Davidson University in Charlotte, N.C., prior to joining the Orthopaedic Surgery staff at the University of Maryland.

Dr. Dreese is s subspecialist in the management of shoulder, knee, and elbow injuries.

YVETTE ROOKS, M.D.

PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIAN NINTH YEAR

Dr. Yvette Rooks is in her ninth year as a primary care physician for Maryland's athletics programs. Dr. Rooks graduated from Update Medical School/Health Science Center in Syracuse, N.Y., in 1993. She completed her residency in family medicine and a sports medicine fellowship at the University of Maryland, Baltimore, and is currently an assistant professor in the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.

In addition, Rooks the Residency Program Director in the Department of Family Medicine at University of Maryland Medical School. She also serves as the Director of the Primary Care Sports Medicine Fellowship.

Rooks graduated with honors from the State University of New York at Albany where she was a four-year starter on the volleyball team. She currently lives in Ellicott City, Md., and has an eight-year old daughter, Madison.

BRIAN CORWELL, M.D.

PRIMARY CARE PHYSICIAN FIRST YEAR

Dr. Brian Corwell is in his first year as a primary care team physician at the University of Maryland. He graduated from Tufts University in 1996 with a degree in biology and psychology. He then completed a pre-doctoral clinical fellowship at the National Institute of Health.

Dr. Corwell earned his medical degree from the University of Maryland in 2002, where he was a frequent volunteer in the College Park athletic clinic. Dr. Corwell completed his residency in Emergency Medicine at the Harvard Affiliated Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. He then returned to the University of Maryland to complete a fellowship in Sports Medicine. He has lectured and authored numerous publications on the subjects of Emergency and Sports Medicine.

Dr. Corwell lives in Baltimore with his wife, Viveka and newborn son, Gabriel.

STUDENT HEALTH CENTER

Dr. Sacared Bodison and Dr. Stephen Fahey are full-time University Health Center physicians who specialize in sports medicine. Dr. Bodison is the assistant director for medical services at the Health Center and has been involved with the care of student-athletes since 1982. Dr. Fahey is an emergency physician who is in his 16th year working with the Terrapins. Both doctors are available to treat student-athletes daily on an as-needed basis in the Health Center.

ACC SELECT

Maryland fans can watch high quality, full screen video of the Terps' non-televised home games from anywhere on their computers with ACC Select. Terp fans can purchase a buy a one-time subscription or a monthly subscription to www.accselect.com to watch the live webcast of all Terps' home contests not televised, as well as games from around the league and all sports. All games are also archived on the website. For more information, visit www.accselect.com.

TERPS ON TV

Maryland appears on TV at least 11 times this season, including six nationally televised contests on ESPN2, Fox Sports Net and CSTV. Overall, ACC teams will make 47 television appearances as part of the conference's television package. National broadcasts include the Terps' home matchup vs. Michigan State on Jan. 6 on CBS, both its games vs. Duke on Fox Sports Net and appearances on ESPN2 against North Carolina and at Florida State.

National analysts Debbie Antonelli and Beth Mowins return as part of the ACC's broadcast team, as well as Charlene Curtis and Mike Hogewood.

The regular season telecasts climax with the coverage of the 30th annual acc Women's Basketball Tournament at the Greensboro Coliseum, in which nine games will be telecast – six on the league's regional sports network (Comcast SportsNet, Fox Sports Net South, Sun Sports) and three distributed nationally on Fox Sports Net.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS POLICY

The University of Maryland issues press credentials under the priorities and according to the guidelines set out below. These priorities and guidelines are designed to achieve efficient use of limited space available for working members of the media and of other types of access not enjoyed by members of the public at University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic events.

The University of Maryland Department of Intercollegiate Athletics Office of Media Relations ("Media Relations") is responsible for administering this policy. Credential requests must be made by sports editors or sports directors online at UMTerps.com no later than five days prior to an event. For more information, contact the Media Relations Office at 301-314-7064.

PRIORITIES:

1. Originating radio and television personnel involved in a live television or radio broadcast of a University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competition.
2. Daily newspapers, wire services, and regional and national publications that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competitions.
3. Non-originating radio and television personnel producing reports on a University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competition. Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a regular and substantial sports show reporting on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competitions receive consideration for credentials.
4. Officially recognized University of Maryland daily student publications and daily student electronic media outlets that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competitions; and official websites of Atlantic Coast Conference schools, non-conference opponents, and the Atlantic Coast Conference office.
5. Non-daily newspapers or publications that regularly and substantially report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competitions.
6. Online entities that meet the requirements set out in guideline number 7, below.

GUIDELINES:

1. Season media credentials are issued to those organizations that report on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletic competitions on a regular and substantial basis, as outlined above. Issuance of season media credentials does not guarantee working space in media work areas.
2. With the exception of Terrapin beat reporters reporting on the team on a daily basis and producing daily reports, all passes are approved and issued on a game-by-game basis.
3. Except as otherwise provided for in this Policy, all passes and credentials are non-transferable and are subject to immediate revocation if transferred to any other person, including non-working members of a media organization.
4. Due to limited space and to ensure compliance with NCAA guidelines, credentials will not be issued to "free-lance" writers or photographers without a specific assignment received in writing by the assigning organization.
5. The University of Maryland and the NCAA prohibit the issuance of credentials to representatives of an organization that regularly publishes gambling information, such as "tout sheets" or "tip sheets."
6. Credentials may be issued to the official websites of Atlantic Coast Conference schools, non-conference opponents, and the Atlantic Coast Conference office.
7. Credentials may be issued to other online entities that: a) are affiliated with a national or regional media organization; b) host a website that regularly and substantially reports on University of Maryland intercollegiate athletics, and; c) employ for that University of Maryland dedicated website at least one full-time, permanent employee who writes a substantial majority of all material posted on the site. An online entity that is a outlet primarily devoted to the recruitment of students athletes will not qualify for credentials.
8. All persons picking up credentials will be required to furnish positive identification. No credentials will be issued to individuals under the age of 18.
9. Media Relations may deny or revoke credentials for noncompliance with the Priorities or Guidelines set out in this Policy; for violations of University, Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, NCAA, or ACC policies; and for conduct for which there are reasonable grounds to believe violate state or federal law, or constitute a breach of professional ethics. Any organization that wishes to contest a denial or revocation shall: a) request Media Relations provide a written rationale for the denial or revocation; b) submit a written response to that rationale to the Associate Athletic Director for Media Relations. After reviewing the response, the Associate Athletic Director for a Media Relations, in consultation with appropriate University officials, shall issue a decision to uphold or reverse the denial or revocation. The Associate Athletic Director's decision shall be final.

CREDENTIAL REQUESTS

Credential requests must be made by sports editors or sports directors on official letterhead no later than five days prior to an event. They should be sent to the Athletic Media Relations Office, University of Maryland, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. They may also be faxed to 301-314-9094. No credential requests will be accepted via e-mail or by phone.

GAME DAY PRESS PARKING

Game Day parking is recommended on the north side of Comcast Center, best accessed from the University Drive (Rt. 193) entrance to campus at Paint Branch Drive. Parking is free and open to the public.

PHOTOGRAPHY REGULATIONS

All photographers and camera operators must remain seated in baseline photo areas, as per NCAA regulations. Locations will be assigned for more crowded games. Photographer and videographer positions are at the complete and absolute discretion of the basketball game officials and

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in photography areas. Priority shall be given, in all instances, to photographers and videographers on assignment. Only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) shall have access to courtside photo areas.

Strobe lights may be installed in Comcast Center, but arrangements must be made through the media relations office two weeks in advance. Space for strobe lights is available on a first-come, first-served basis.

PRESS SEATING

Press seating is located on the basketball floor in the northeast corner of the arena. The area is manned by members of the Media Relations Office throughout the game. The Media Relations staff desires to help the media be as comfortable as possible during each game.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

The NCAA has established a policy to control congestion in the photography areas on the basketball court. Only photographers on assignment, along with members of working television media, are given photo passes. Admission to the court and the photo boxes is by photo pass only. Photographers, both still and electronic, must shoot from the baselines at the northwest (Maryland bench end/directly in front of press seating) and southeast (visiting bench) corners of the court. Photographer's floor access is governed by Atlantic Coast Conference policy. Please note that only game photographers (no runners, assistants or producers) will have access to the photography areas. Photographers are also welcome to shoot from the photo deck on the west side of Comcast Center. Access to the photo deck is from the concourse level opposite the team benches. Photographer positions are at the complete discretion of the basketball game officials and the Media Relations Office AT ALL TIMES. Failure to comply with their directions will result in expulsion from the arena.

IN-SEASON INTERVIEW POLICIES

All Maryland players and head coach Brenda Frese will be available for interviews with accredited members of the media throughout the season. ALL INTERVIEW REQUESTS must be made through the Media Relations Office, contacting Natalia Ciccone. Please give a minimum of 24 hours notice. Player's individual phone numbers will not be given to the media and game day interviews will not be granted until the end of a game.

The Media Relations Office is located on the second level of Comcast Center in room 2725. The phone number is (301) 314-7064 and the FAX number is (301) 314-9094.

POSTGAME PRESS CONFERENCE

Postgame interviews with Maryland head coach Brenda Frese are held in media room following the game. Coaches from opposing teams will be brought to the media room after each game.

The Maryland locker room is closed to credentialed media. Players will be brought to the media room for postgame interviews at the media's request This is in accordance with ACC rules. The visiting team's locker room access policy is determined by officials of that school.

POSTGAME STATISTICS

Statistics packets, including running play-by-play, first half and final boxscores and post-game notes and quotes, are compiled following every game and made available to the media at press row and in the press room.

E-MAIL SERVICES

Basketball releases can be obtained electronically by contacting Natalia Ciccone at nciccone@umd.edu. List TERP NEWS in the subject heading, and include the name of your media outlet and phone number in your message. (This is a media service only).

TELEPHONES

A limited number of telephones are available in the Comcast Center press room (calling card or reversed charges required). Any additional telephone requests should be directed to Aaron Haviland, Asst. Director of Operations and Facilities, at 301-314-7127. List Natalie Ciccone as the contact for all installations.

WEEKLY TELECONFERENCE

The 12 ACC women's basketball coaches will be featured on a total of four teleconferences throughout the season. Replays of each teleconference will also be available at www.theacc.com.

The media telephone number to participate on the call is (913) 981-5572.

A preseason teleconference is scheduled for October 24, followed by a December 12 call, to preview the start of the ACC slate. A midseason teleconference is scheduled for January 16, with a wrap-up and postseason preview taking place on February 26 and 27.

The teleconferences begin at 10 a.m. on the five scheduled dates. Every coach is allotted 10 minutes on the preseason call and eight minutes on each call, thereafter. Maryland head coach Brenda Frese is slated for 10:50 a.m. on Oct. 24, and 10:40 a.m. on Dec. 12, Jan. 16 and Feb. 26.
